Chair Review Form

Milind Vishnu Pansare

Clinical Chair Evaluation:	Excellent
Chair/Reviewer Comments:	Dr. Pansare is an excellent clinician and is very knowledgeable. He sees patients with wide ranges of allergic and immunologic disorders. He leads the new program of peanut oral immunotherapy for our division and is active in updating our asthma pathway, FENO guidelines and our protocol for allergen immunotherapy. He also involves in multiple clinical committees at the hospital and national level as highlighted in his self-evaluation.
Administrative Chair Evaluation:	Excellent
Chair/Reviewer Comments:	Dr. Pansare has done a great job participating in many administrative committees at the division level and national level, this include the Board member-Advisory council for University Pediatrician. I agree with his self-evaluation.
Research Chair Evaluation:	Very Good
Chair/Reviewer Comments:	Dr. Pansare is a PI in one research project that he supervises our fellow and resident. He is also a co-PI in one research project within our division. He published one case report and 2 abstracts in the past academic year. He also participates in trainee's abstract/poster presentation as a judge in many scientific meetings at the university and state level. He is also a reviewer of two peer review journals in allergy/immunology. I agree with his self-evaluation.
Education Chair Evaluation:	Excellent
Chair/Reviewer Comments:	Dr. Pansare is an excellent teacher. He gives multiple formal lectures for Allergy/Immunology fellows and residents. He is a core faculty for our Allergy/Immunology fellowship training program and a member of Clinical Competency Committee and Scholarly Oversight Committee for our Allergy/Immunology fellowship training program. He is also in charge of one of the weekly small group discussion in Allergy/Immunology with fellows and residents. He also contributes locally as an invited lecturer for various institutions and gave two pediatric grand rounds at our institution over the past academic year. At the national level, Dr. Pansare is a team leader for the In-Training Examination Committee for Allergy/Immunology fellowship. I believe that his education evaluation is excellent.
Professionalism Chair Evaluation:	Excellent
Chair/Reviewer Comments:	Dr. Pansare is very pleasant to work with and is very well respected. He is very compassionate and works very well with other faculty, trainees, nurses and other hospital staff.
1 Year Goal Chair/Reviewer Comments:	Dr. Pansare has a good progression towards accomplishing 1-year goals.
5 Year Goal Chair/Reviewer Comments:	I believe Dr. Pansare will accomplish his 5-year goals at his current rate of service and contribution. His Involvement with the division research projects and publications of the original research works are highly encouraged.
Review and Suggestions for new one-year goals:	Continue as highlighted in the self-report.
Did the faculty member indicate that they will be applying for promotion or tenure within the next 12 to 24 months?	No
