Faith Motivation The Presence Of God

BY BROTHER DAVID (JAKE) JACOBS

Jesus Is Alive

With the technology of instant information through social media, questions of doubt have watered down the gospel message to mere folklore. Just because the natural mind cannot explain something does not make it so! There are limitations to man’s understanding. In the conquest of life there is the natural realm and the spiritual realm. The natural realm is our universe or reality of our surroundings we contact through our five senses: sight, hearing, touch, taste and smell. The spiritual realm deals with our emotions of love, joy, peace, faith, gentleness, goodness, meekness, longsuffering and temperance. This spiritual realm is just as real as the natural or physical realm and before the fall was God’s intended enjoyment for His creation.

The fall changed it all! Love was replaced by hate; joy was replaced by sorrow; faith was replaced by doubt; gentleness was replaced by harshness; goodness was replaced by bitterness; meekness was replaced by pride; long-suffering was replaced by impatience; peace was replaced by war and temperance was replaced by temper!

In explaining the resurrection the Apostle Paul said in 1 Corinthians 15:44, “It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.” When Adam fell through disobedience he died spiritually. He could not fellowship with God because God is a Spirit. The sin Adam and Eve committed was so horrendous it separated them from God’s presence.

This was immediate spiritual separation because Adam lived to be 930 years old. Our Father God created us in His own image, a spirit being, with a soul and body. Our soul and body fit us for this life. The real us is spirit. We were to walk in fellowship with God in His realm, which is the realm of the spirit. The fall in the garden stopped the fellowship because Adam and Eve’s sin separated them from the Creator God. Instead of walking in the spirit, they began walking in the natural. Now they were moved by their five senses. Genesis 3:23-24, “Therefore the Lord God sent him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the ground from whence he was taken. So He drove out the man (and wife); and He placed at the east of the garden of Eden Cherubims, and a flaming sword which turned from every way, to keep the way of the tree of life.” Forever banned from the presence of the Creator God!

But God had a Plan! 1 Peter 1:19-20, “But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot: who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you,” In the fullness of time, God sent His Only Begotten Son as agreed! Galatians 4:4, “But when the fullness of time was come, God sent His Son, made of a woman, made under the law,” Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, came and paid the price of full payment for all human beings who were slaves to sin and Satan and held under the death penalty of the law they had broken! John 3:16, “For God so loved the world, that He sent His Only Begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.”

Friends, Jesus is alive and well. He wants to come into your hearts today and give each one of you a new lease on life! He will come into your life and change your heart and the Holy Spirit will guard, guide, teach and direct you to God’s fullness for you of love, joy, peace, faith, gentleness, goodness, meekness, longsuffering and temperance! Pray with me now, “God in the Name of Jesus, I repent of my sins and believe You raised Jesus from the dead.” Now begin your new life by Bible study, prayer and fellowship through a Bible believing church!

I am Bro Jake and together we can make a difference with God’s help!

Christ Recognized By People Of God

While the shepherds were the first to hear the good news of the arrival of the Messiah, there were others who recognized Who Jesus was at his birth.

Simeon, Anna and the wise men all proclaimed Jesus as the Messiah, the king of the Jews.

Jesus’ presentation in the temple is recorded in Luke 2:21-40, as follows:

“And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

“And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord;

“(As it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord;)

“And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.

“And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him.

“And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord’s Christ.

“And he came by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

“Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said, “Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word:

“For mine eyes have seen thy salvation,

“Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

“A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

“And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

“And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel; and for a sign which shall be spoken against;

“(Yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also,) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

“And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser: she was of a great age, and had lived with an husband seven years from her virginity;

“And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day.

“And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.

“And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.

“And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.”

The visit of the wise men is recorded in Matthew 2:1-12, as follows:

“Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, “Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

“When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

“And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

“And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judaea: for thus it is written by the prophet,

“And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel.

“Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.

“And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

“When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

“When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

“And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

“And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way”

Zedhariah, the priest, the father of John the Baptist, knew that his son John was to be the forerunner of The Messiah, as he spoke prophetically, as recorded in Luke 1:67-79

“And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying, “Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for he hath visited and redeemed his people,

“And hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David;

“As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began:

“That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us;

“To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant;

“The oath which he sware to our father Abraham,

“That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve him without fear,

“In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.

“And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways;

“To give knowledge of salvation unto his people by the remission of their sins,

“Through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the dayspring from on high hath visited us,

“To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.”

Pastor’s Viewpoint

By CHARLES (BUDDY) WHATLEY

Let’s say you’re a young unmarried woman living in a time when that was a great sin and looked upon with great disfavor. And let’s say an angel appeared to you and told you you were going to be pregnant even though you’d never been with a man. How would you respond? Who would you turn to for help? Who’d listen to you without judging you? Who would believe your story about an angel and a virgin birth? Not your parents, certainly not your friends and neighbors, they might stone you to death. How about Elizabeth who is six months pregnant even through she was barren and too old to be pregnant? Elizabeth and Mary share a similar and yet very different problem; one is old and barren and pregnant; the other is young and unmarried and pregnant.

Luke 1:39-42, “Now at this time Mary set out and went in a hurry to the hill country, to a city of Judah, [40] and she entered the house of Zechariah and greeted Elizabeth. [41] When Elizabeth heard Mary’s greeting, the baby leaped in her womb, and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit. [42] And she cried out with a loud voice and said, “Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb!”

There is a problem! We’ve heard this story so often we’ve turned it into a “happily ever after” fairy tale. Elizabeth is delighted with her pregnancy and Mary is honored to carry her baby... but in real life Elizabeth might wonder how in the world she’ll live long enough for John to grow up and worries that if she dies, he’ll be left alone in the world. And Mary worries about what people, especially her parents will think of her, and what hardships her child will endure as he grows up without a father. Actually, she’s engaged to Joseph who is apparently an older man, but what man will marry a woman who’s been unfaithful to him?

Pastor’s viewpoint from Luke 1:39–56 is written by Charles ‘Buddy’ Whatley, a retired Methodist pastor serving Dawson Street Methodist Church in Thomasville, Georgia.

We Have Too Many Wrecks In SEGA

Not every Patrol and local county publishes the names of those arrested, but Pierce and Brantley County do. When most of us read the “booking reports,” we cannot help but to notice how many are arrested for DUI, either on alcohol or drugs. These people most often are arrested while driving under the influence of one or the other. They are a danger on the roadway, and there are many accidents that involve the use of alcohol or drugs. Pressing Issues: Signs of the Times The Celebration Of Hanukkah

By MITTIE VAUGHAN
Editor And Publisher

I have spent much of my free time during the Christmas and New Year’s holidays reading the Apocrypha. My friend, Kadee Dasher, gave me a Catholic Bible, which includes the Apocrypha not included in our Protestant versions of The Holy Bible. . I had heard of the Apocrypha. It is a collection of books that include I and II Maccabee. That was what I read first. I had always wondered about the celebration of Hanukkah, which is a Jewish holiday celebrated during December. What I learned is that the word Hanukkah means “rededication.” After the Jewish people were taken to Babylon after King Nebuchadnezzar conquered Judah, his dynasty was conquered by the Medo-Persian Empire, and Cyrus the Great allowed the Jewish people to return to Jerusalem and rebuild the temple. After the Medo-Persian empire was conquered by Greece, the Greek kings were determined to Hellenize the entire world. They forced all of the lands that they had conquered to worship their gods—Zeus and that whole Pantheon of Greek gods—and to adopt Greek customs and rules. They forbade the Jewish people from circumcizing their children. They tried to make them eat the foods eaten by the Greeks, including pork that was forbidden in the law of Moses. They killed the priests who would not offer pork on the altar. They killed the people who followed the law of Moses. Finally, one of their Greek rulers, Antiochus Epiphanes (he claimed to be God), erected a statue of himself in the Temple at Jerusalem and forced the priests to sacrifice a pig on the altar. Judas Macabeas, one of the priests, fled into the wilderness with his five sons to avoid the Hellenization of the Jews. But the commander of the army of Greece came to him and tried to convince him to sacrifice a pig on the altar, which he refused to do. Another man stepped forward to offer the pig on the altar, and he was killed by those of Judas Macabeas’ company. This rebellion of the Jewish people against the Greeks, who had been persecuting those who followed the one true God and the writings of Moses, lasted for years.. The fighting continued even after the death of Judas Macabeas, whose five sons carried on as commanders of the Jewish army over the next several decades.

The Jewish people finally were able to defeat the Greek forces sent to subdue them. They then tore out the desecrated altar, cleansed the temple, built another altar in the temple and held a rededication ceremony. This rededication feast is celebrated every year by the Jewish people. That is Hanukkah. Most of us in Protestant Churches have wondered about this celebration by the Jewish people. The Apocrypha is writings that were rejected as sacred canon by the Protestant Churches. Some of it is history. Some of it is wisdom literature. The book of Esther in the Apocrypha is taken from the Greek version, and it is more detailed than the book of Esther in our version of the Holy Bible. It includes prayers by Mordecai and Queen Esther, who risked her life to intervene for the Jewish people who were about to be annihilated by Haman. I’m so glad I had the opportunity to read I and II Maccabee to get a better understanding of the celebration. And I want to read the rest of the Apocrypha as well. It is fascinating reading!

Out With The Old, In With The “What?”

By VAN YANDELL
John 1:17 “For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.” In the fall of 1991, I was teaching industrial arts. One cold early winter morning the school principal walked into my shop and told me the state had approved the plan for the construction of our new school. The challenge was that traditional industrial shops were no longer approved. Technology labs would take their place. At the time I wasn’t too disturbed over that circumstance. Having already explored computer aided drafting, computer graphics and other applications, I saw the change as an opportunity for my personal learning as well as my students. The next four years (beginning in August 1992) I taught technology education. Many of the students were excited, I was excited, and our lab was one of the first three in the state and set an example for others developing such facilities. There was a constant flow of visitors from other schools, the State Department of Education and even schools in surrounding states. Being afforded the ego-pleasure of expounding my knowledge of the transition was a thrill and of course I am always eager to teach. Adults also benefit from teachable moments.

However, as the years passed we became aware of what the youth were missing by not having the traditional subjects normally taught in industrial education. Classes in woodworking, metals, architectural and engineering drafting and design, electricity/electronics provided a value to students that apparently few had realized in past years. Was it assumed fathers would teach their children how to repair furniture, change electrical switches and receptacles, or install a float valve? And more pressing, where would the next generation of tradesmen come from? We were raising a generation of mechanical and practical illiterates but were preparing a generation of video game professionals! Where were the future carpenters, cabinet builders, electricians, welders and block/brick layers to develop? They certainly are not going to come from history or music class. The studies of history and music are needed (I wish I knew more) but these areas do not build buildings, bridges or needed consumer products. Change is not always good. Other subjects suffered as well. Home economics is another example. Are life skills and home skills in budgeting, planning and child rearing no longer important? We are constantly seeing failures in parenting. A child bringing a weapon to school and injuring or taking the life of another child or teacher is a parenting failure. Many of the behavioral problems teachers face every day are parenting failures. The constant need for more prisons and juvenile detention centers are partly the results of poor parenting. But many thought vocational home economics was not needed? The technology lab served a purpose but its worth compared to the industrial arts shop is certainly debatable. Here we are one-third of a century later and the topic of technology is an ongoing debate. Technology definitely has its good points but it also creates problems. We are being watched constantly. Conversations in our homes are being heard to bombard us with commercials for products we may mention. Greed has smothered free enterprise and consumer needs. We have no privacy, no secrets; our computer searches are recorded to monitor our shopping and buying habits. AI does our thinking rather than the human brain creating a farther dumbing down of the population.

I mentioned to wife Margie the possibility of replacing a bathtub with a shower. By the end of the day we were receiving ads for shower installers. What was listening; the TV, phone, computer, possibly all three? The church has a similar problem. I usually ask, when called to substitute preach, “Do I need to bring a children’s sermon?” Two of the last three times I’ve asked, I was told “We don’t have any children.” Where are the young people with children? Do they have no need for God? This is serious and urgent! Also recently we’ve become aware of a severe shortage of pastors, missionaries and evangelists in America. In one area we frequent, one-third of the churches in a denominational group are without pastors. We have a problem and when the time comes and someone wakes up and realizes this, it will be like dropping a bomb. If there are so many churches without young adults with children, where will be found the next generation of pastors? The simple answer to this is, there won’t be any and there appears to already be a shortage! And consequently the church will continue to decline. It is time to start taking the Great Commission seriously!

Acts 1: 8 “But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.” The uttermost part of the earth is no longer the other side of the planet. It is here! It is inside the walls of the church and in the communities! The church has a problem and as a matter of survival, it must be addressed and action taken. We must always teach that eternal salvation is attained by a faith based belief (Ephesians 2: 8) in Christ Jesus crucified (Matthew 27: 35) for the remission of sin (1 John 1: 9), resurrected (Matthew 28: 6) and ascended alive in to Heaven (Acts 1: 9). Acts 4: 12 “Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.” Christians must take this seriously! If we do not tell the world about Jesus, who will? “Out with the old, in with the new” sounds good, but is it? Report From Our Nation’s Capitol

By BUDDY CARTER
U.S. Representative

Cheers To 2025

As we close out another year, Georgia’s First Congressional District enters 2026 with momentum and a clear focus on what comes next. This past year brought challenges and progress. Through it all, our communities showed up. Small businesses kept growing. Families kept pushing forward. Local leaders stayed engaged.

In Washington, I stayed focused on the priorities you sent me there to work on- lowering costs, strengthening the economy, supporting public safety, standing with our service members, and advocating for Georgians.

This week’s newsletter looks back on the past year through moments that capture the people and places that made 2025 a year to remember. From community events to hard work in Washington, D.C., these photos tell the story better than words alone.

Serving you in Congress remains an honor. I am grateful for your trust and your support. I look forward to continuing this work together in 2026. And as always, I am hoping for another strong year for the Georgia Bulldogs.

Highlights of the Year January

I was sworn in for another term alongside Speaker Mike Johnson, with my wife Amy by my side, marking the start of a new Congress. The ceremony was a reminder of the responsibility of this office and the trust placed in me by the people of Georgia’s First District.

February

During a Friends of the First stop in Liberty County, I met with local first responders and community members to thank them for their service, including sharing Valentine’s cards as a small gesture of appreciation. This is one of my favorite yearly traditions! This event consistently reinforces the importance of respect and appreciation for our first responders among young people in the First District.

March

I attended the grand opening of Hyundai Motor Group Metaplant America, the largest single economic development project in Georgia’s history. This investment is bringing thousands of jobs and long-term manufacturing opportunities to coastal Georgia.

April

Welcoming University of Georgia (UGA) President Jere Morehead to Washington, D.C. was a great opportunity as UGA leaders and student athletes met with lawmakers to discuss NIL policy and college athletics. I enjoyed highlighting how Georgia’s universities continue to shape national dialogue.

May

The American Hospital Association’s annual meeting offered me a chance to speak about the importance of strong local health systems that serve our communities every day. An introduction by Effingham Health System CEO Dr. Francine Baker-Witt underscored the level of care found throughout the First District.

June

While in St. Marys, I delivered remarks at the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) Patrol Boat Dedication and Vietnam Veterans Welcome Home celebration. The event honored our veterans and served as a powerful reminder of their service and sacrifice.

July

Meeting Coast Guard Petty Officer Scott Ruskan was a powerful moment for me, following his rescue efforts at Camp Mystic on July 4th, where he helped save more than 160 lives, including my twin granddaughters. It was a privilege to thank him for his service!

August

August included an API roundtable discussing Georgia’s projected energy demand growth and the challenges facing our power grid. We examined how federal policy can help meet future demand while maintaining reliable energy service.

September

Standing with and passing out Georgia’s own Chick-fil-A to National Guard members on the National Mall was a powerful reminder of the responsibility they carry in keeping Washington, D.C. safe. I fully support the president’s decision to send them to our cities and restore law-and-order, a noble and patriotic task. Their readiness to serve, often without recognition, reflects a deep commitment to public safety.

October

Georgia Pre-K Week offered a chance in October to read with students and celebrate the joy that comes with learning at an early age. Experiences like this stay with you and reinforce the importance of investing in our children.

November

I joined colleagues for a bipartisan reception supporting the recently released Israeli hostages. The gathering provided an opportunity to discuss how Congress can continue working together to advocate for Americans wrongfully detained abroad, combat antisemitism, and support those still waiting to come home.

December

I concluded the year with a press conference at the Capitol Plaza on the Pharmacists Fight Back Act, legislation I am proud to co-sponsor that will address the high cost of prescription drugs by go-

D-Rek’s Angels & Warriors Delivers 500 Toys To SGHS Pediatric Patients Dec. 6

BRUNSWICK, — D-Rek’s Angels & Warriors proudly hosted its 9th Annual Toy Drive, delivering over 500 toys to pediatric patients at Southeast Georgia Health System on Saturday, Dec. 6. Joined by Santa and the Grinch, volunteers brought cheer to children spending the holiday season in the hospital—turning hallways into moments of magic and hospital rooms into places of joy.

This year’s toy drive continued the organization’s mission to ensure that every child—in every room, facing every diagnosis—feels seen, loved and uplifted. All toys and proceeds benefit children hospitalized for any reason, from chronic illness and surgical recovery to diagnostic testing.

“This drive doesn’t discriminate, because joy shouldn’t either,” says organizers from D-Rek’s Angels & Warriors. “Every child deserves to feel hope, especially during the holidays.”

The organization credits the success of this year’s drive to the generosity of donors, volunteers and local supporters who helped collect, sort and hand-deliver toys. With the help of Santa and the Grinch, children and families were able to experience a bright spot during a challenging season.

D-Rek’s Angels & Warriors is a community-driven organization dedicated to bringing joy, dignity and hope to children facing medical challenges. Through annual toy drives and outreach efforts, the group honors the memory of children lost to medically-caused HIV while serving families in Southeast Georgia with compassion and purpose.

Capitol Beat News Service

ATLANTA — The year started with news about presidents past and present, as Donald Trump was sworn in for a second term and Georgia mourned the loss of Jimmy Carter.

The Trump administration implemented major changes to immigration and trade policy that reverberated across the country and in Georgia. Developments driven by technology companies also rocked the state, as the words “data center” came into common use.

The Peach State also made its own news, from a shooting at a military base to a split between a high-profile Republican and Trump and a surprising statewide election outcome that threatened the status quo.

Here is a look at the top Georgia stories of 2025.

Jan. 7: The celebration of the life of a native son and former president, Jimmy Carter, moved from Atlanta to the nation’s capital for a memorial service in the Capitol Rotunda.

Feb. 12: The state economist warned that Trump’s tariffs would probably drive up prices for Georgia consumers while suppressing exports.

March 21: The Georgia General Assembly passed Gov. Brian Kemp’s top priority — an overhaul of tort law to create a friendlier environment for insurance companies.

March 25: Lawmakers pushed back against big tech, passing a law that will prohibit student cellphone use in public elementary and middle schools starting next fall.

March 31: Reacting to the mass shooting at Apalachee High School last year, the legislature passed a sweeping school safety bill that sought to identify malevolent students before they could do harm and to bolster mental health services.

July 25: About 8,500 students secured approval to begin the school year in private schools, their tuition covered by a new state-funded voucher program that was expected to cost taxpayers $55 million.

July 28: State authorities announced an investigation of a company accused of operating a Ponzi scheme that bilked investors while funding Republican political campaigns. The announcement by Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger followed the filing of a lawsuit by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission against First Liberty Building and Loan and its operator Edwin Brant Frost IV.

Aug. 6: Four soldiers and a civilian were shot by a gunman at the U.S. Army’s Fort Stewart near Savannah. All survived and a sergeant was charged with attempted murder

Aug. 25: Kemp announced his decision to deploy about 75 military members across the state to aid U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement.

Sept. 4: Federal agents detained 475 workers at Hyundai’s electric vehicle battery plant near Savannah, most of them Korean nationals, causing friction with the South Korean government.

Sept. 5: Kemp announced plans to send 316 members of the Georgia National Guard to Washington, D.C. to support Trump’s use of troops to patrol the nation’s capital.

Nov. 4: Republicans felt a chill as voters soundly defeated two GOP incumbents on the Public Service Commission, choosing two Democrats instead. The monopoly regulator had raised electricity rates several times, leading to a backlash that pushed “affordability” to the top of the political agenda.

Nov. 21: U.S. Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene, the Rome Republican who forged a political brand as a staunch ally of Trump, solidified her break with the president by announcing her resignation a year early, in January. She disagreed with Trump on several issues, including artificial intelligence, military action overseas and release of the federal files concerning deceased sex abuser Jeffrey Epstein.

Nov. 26: A Fulton County judge granted dismissal of the criminal election conspiracy charges against Trump and his remaining co-defendants after a prosecutor took the case from District Attorney Fani Willis when the courts sidelined her over ethical concerns.

Dec. 19: The state Public Service Commission, with less than two weeks to go in the terms of two Republicans ousted by voters in November, granted a controversial expansion of electrical generation capacity for Georgia Power. The monopoly secured approval to build five gas-powered plants while sourcing other power to supply speculative demand by future data centers. The expansion raised concerns about the environmental impact of burning more fossil fuel and the cost to current customers if the nearly 10 gigawatts in new capacity proved unnecessary.

Obituaries

Daniel W. Clark

Daniel W. “Danny” Clark, 68, of Ludowici, Georgia, passed away on December 23, 2025. Danny was a devoted family man, proud grandfather, and a pillar of his community. He was known for his strong work ethic, generous heart, and unwavering loyalty to the people he loved most. Above all else, Danny cherished his family and took immense pride in his children, grandchildren, and great-granddaughter, who were the center of his world.

Danny proudly served his country in the United States Army, including service with the 1st Ranger Battalion and the 7th Special Forces Group. His military service reflected his strength, discipline, and quiet dedication—qualities that remained with him throughout his life. Danny was the owner of Imprint Warehouse, a 20-year business that reflected his entrepreneurial spirit and deep connection to his community. He genuinely loved his customers and the people who called Liberty County and the surrounding area home. For many years, Danny served as a Little League coach with the Liberty County Recreation Department, where he made a lasting impact on countless young athletes. Under his leadership, teams won many championships, but more importantly, he taught lessons of teamwork, perseverance, and sportsmanship that extended far beyond the field.

He is survived by his wife, Kathy Clark, and his daughters, Angela, Alexis, and Amber, along with his cherished grandchildren, great-granddaughter, and extended family who will forever treasure his memory.

Above all, Danny was a devoted Clemson fan. His love for Clemson was lifelong and unwavering—game days were sacred; the Tigers were family and cheering them on was one of his greatest joys. That passion was shared loudly, proudly, and with a smile that will be remembered by all who knew him. His legacy lives on not only in the lives he touched but in every Clemson kickoff, every Tiger victory, and every orange-clad Saturday that will forever remind us of Danny.

A celebration of Danny’s life was held at Gum Branch Baptist Church on Monday, December 29, at 2:30 p.m. All who knew and loved him were welcome to attend. Family and friends may sign the online register at www.howardfuneralga.com. Arrangements were under the direction of Howard Funeral Home of Ludowici.

A Nugget from the Word of God

No Sign But Sign of Jonah

The Pharisees asked Jesus for a sign; they already had many signs. Luke 5:12-14 tells of one sign.

“And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

“And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

“And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.”

The ritual for cleansing a leper was a complicated matter. Jerry Vines Ministries describes it as follows:

God’s method for cleansing the leper involved two living birds, an earthen vessel, some cedar wood, some scarlet cloth or thread, and some hyssop. The priest would take the scarlet thread and tie the hyssop to the wood to make a brush. Then one of the birds would be killed over the earthen vessel filled with fresh water. The living bird, along with the cedar wood, scarlet, and hyssop, would then be dipped into the blood of the first bird. Next, the priest would take the blood of the dead bird and with the hyssop sprinkle it seven times on the leper. The leper would stand there blood splattered and blood sprinkled.

Jesus healed many lepers during his ministry, and all of them went to the priests for the ritual cleansing. They had been given signs, many of them, Jesus gave them the sign he promised when he arose from the dead after three days in the grave, as Jonah was in the belly of a fish for three days.

Long County Board Of Commissioners is not increasing the millage rate this year. Public hearings on the millage were held on December 15 and 16. The last one was held before the Long County Board Of Commissioners work session.

Despite the reassessment, the Long County Board Of Commissioners is not planning to roll back the millage rate. Therefore, they had to advertise the millage as a tax increase, which requires three pubic hearings.

Shane Richardson has been selected as the new county manager. He will take over the position on January 2. Although he is presently working in South Carolina, he has worked previously in Georgia and therefore is familiar with Georgia law and the makeup of Georgia agencies and with officials in Georgia, according to former County Manager Chuck Scragg, interviewed on his last day on the job by the Press.

A reassessment of local properties was held in recent months. Former County Manager Chuck Scragg stated that a reassessment was last held in 2007. Scragg's last day as county manager was Friday, December 5..

Top Story Of 2025 Was GBI Arrest Of County Commission Chairman Parker

Top story of 2025 ws the arrest by the Georgia Bureau of Investigation of Robert Parker, who was serving as chairman of the Long County Board of Comissionrs at the time.

Parker was charged with one count of violation of his oath of office, two counts of theft by taking and another count of aggravated assault.

Because of his position as commission chairman, all of the judges in the Atlantic Judicial Circuit recused themselves from the case.

The case has been transferred to the Brunswick Judicial Circuit, and the case, when it comes to trial, is expected to be heard in the Brunswick Courthouse.

Also arrested was one of four contractors that Parker had retained to do work for the county. The two arrests were made in February, and both were jailed for about two weeks before they were allowed to bond out of the Glenville Jail.

No date has been set for the trial as of press time.

The second top story of the year was the change from a county commission to a county manager form of government. Long County hade a "strong commission chairman" form of government, with the county commission chairman serving as the CEO of the county. Commissioners voted to change to a county manager form of government earlier this year when the Georgia General Assembly approved the change.
