HowlOver at Flyover at Canada Place

201-999 Canada Place, Vancouver

Flyover at Canada Place puts a spooky spin on its signature attraction each October with HowlOver Canada. The multi-sensory ride follows Biker Mama the Witch and her cat Tiger Moon as they soar across the country in search of Halloween magic.

With wind, mist, scents and stunning visuals, the experience is fun for both kids and adults. It's one of Vancouver's most popular family-friendly Halloween attractions.

This year, HowlOver Canada runs from October 15th until November 1st.

S Forbidden Vancouver Walking Tours

Spooky walking tours for adults and older youth in downtown Vancouver. The most popular one this time of year is the Lost Souls of Gastown Tour which is led by a professional actor. It's highly recommended. www.forbiddenvancouver.ca

Halloween at the Roundhouse - located in Yaletown Dress up in your festive costume and step into the Roundhouse Halloween Spooktacular - our indoor walkthrough filled with ghosts, skeletons, and spooky surprises. Registered participants receive a treat bag and photo-booth print. Tickets $12 per child. Register in-person, by phone 604-713-1800 ext. 1 or online. www.roundhouse.ca/event/halloween-spooktacular

Burnaby Village at Halloween

6501 Deer Lake Avenue, Burnaby

Burnaby Village Museum transforms into a Haunted Village in late October. The event combines history, community and Halloween fun with decorated streets, themed displays and child-friendly spooky scenes.

The Haunted Village is one of the best Halloween events for younger kids since the scares are mild, and the setting is more festive than frightening (although still a bit spooky). Families can stroll the open-air museum while children enjoy a safe Halloween experience.

Halloween Fireworks in Richmond

Minoru Park, 7191 Granville Avenue, Richmond

Richmond hosts one of the region's biggest free Halloween fireworks shows each year at Minoru Park. Families gather to enjoy live music, trick-or-treating, and community performances before the fireworks light up the night sky.

It's a lively and festive way to celebrate Halloween with kids, and one of the few places in Metro Vancouver where fireworks are part of the holiday fun. Saturday, October 31st, from 6:30 pm to 9:15 pm

Family Fun for Halloween

Heroes & Villains with Vancouver Mysteries Coal Harbour, Vancouver

Vancouver Mysteries offers an outdoor game called Heroes & Villains that plays like a family-friendly escape room or scavenger hunt around Coal Harbour and the Vancouver Convention Centre area in downtown Vancouver.

The storyline has kids and families working together as superheroes to save the city from the villainous Muck Monster. There's a regular version of the game for older players, plus a family edition designed for children as young as the age of six to play with adults. www.vancouvermysteries.com

Events on the North Shore

Canyon Frights at Capilano Suspension Bridge 3735 Capilano Road, North Vancouver

Capilano Suspension Bridge hosts Canyon Frights in October, a Halloween event with spooky lights, themed displays and scary, yet still family-friendly decorations.

Visitors can explore the famous suspension bridge, treetop walkways and cliffside paths while enjoying Halloween-themed fun. Families are encouraged to dress in costumes, and kids can sometimes win prizes at special activity stations.

In 2026 the event runs daily from October 9th until November 1st.

Haunted Houses

Alouette Cemetery - 12795 227a St, Maple Ridge

Alouette Cemetery is an award-winning outdoor Halloween display created at a private residence in Maple Ridge. Each year, the homeowner transforms the property into a spooky, detailed showcase featuring eerie lighting, lifelike props and creative themes that draw visitors from across the Lower Mainland. It's one of those hidden gems that has become a community favourite during the Halloween season.

Admission to Alouette Cemetery is free, though guests are encouraged to make a donation to a local charity. It's a great way to enjoy an impressive Halloween display while supporting a good cause.

The atmosphere is family-friendly, making it a fun outing for both kids and adults who enjoy festive neighbourhood haunts. For full details, visit the Alouette Cemetery www.alouettecemetery.ca

Haunted Houses

Cougar Creek's House of Horrors

12530 72 Ave, Surrey

Cougar Creek's House of Horrors is one of the largest and most elaborate Halloween events in the Lower Mainland. It features five terrifying, haunted houses, each with unique themes, detailed sets, and live actors that bring the scares to life. Visitors can also enjoy immersive horror experiences, spooky photo ops and a lively Halloween atmosphere.

Beyond the haunted attractions, Cougar Creek includes live entertainment and a licensed lounge for adults, making it a great night out for groups of friends or couples looking for some seasonal thrills. The event runs on select nights from October 2nd until November 1st and attracts thousands of visitors every year.

For full details, visit the Cougar Creek's House of Horrors website.

Dovercrypt Court -

3637 Maginnis Avenue, North Vancouver

Dovercrypt Court is a homemade haunted house in a quiet residential neighbourhood in North Vancouver. Each Halloween, the homeowners go all out with detailed decorations, sound effects and spooky lighting to create a chilling yet family-friendly spectacle. It's a local favourite for those who love exploring community displays.

While it's not a commercial haunted attraction, Dovercrypt Court delivers a level of creativity and craftsmanship that rivals professional setups. It's a fun stop for anyone doing a Halloween lights and decorations tour around the North Shore.

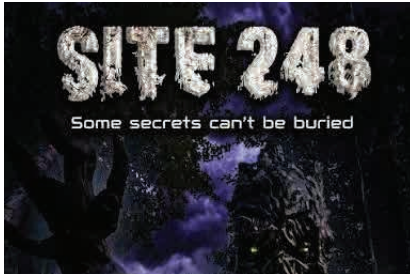

For more information about this haunted house, visit the Dovercrypt Court website.

SITE 248: Interactive Haunted Corn Maze
Presented by Blighthouse Productions Ltd.
| October 2026 Location: Meadows Family
Farm – 12377 248 St, Maple Ridge, BC

Step Into the Tear In the quiet cornfields of Maple Ridge, a spatial tear opened at SITE 248. What began as a controlled research operation quickly collapsed when test subjects—collectively known as The Unbound—were pulled into the anomaly. They returned mangled, altered, and hostiles.

When subject David Manathy was finally extracted, the breach ruptured completely. Something else came through. And it's still in the corn.

SITE 248 is a high-intensity, fully immersive, touch-based industrial horror maze spanning multi-acre farm terrain. Equipped with oppressive atmospheric fog, high-output outdoor soundscapes, and unpredictable multi-angle corridors, this attraction is engineered to push psychological limits.

Interactive & Touch-Based: This is a high-impact, touch-based experience. Scare actors will make safe physical contact with attendees inside the attraction.

Brinkworth Dungeon -

22260 48 Ave, Langley

Brinkworth Dungeon is an elaborate haunted house attraction set up at an artist's home in Langley. The experience features movie-quality sets, animatronics and terrifying special effects that have earned it a reputation as one of the scariest Halloween attractions in the region.

Many of the details at this haunted attraction are handcrafted by a professional artist, from the haunting props to the atmospheric lighting, creating a fully immersive environment.

The haunted house operates from October 15th until mid-November in 2026, offering visitors plenty of time to experience its chilling rooms and creepy corridors. While it's not for the faint of heart, horror fans and thrill seekers alike will find it an unforgettable adventure.

For more information about the attraction, visit the Brinkworth Dungeon website.

Fright Nights

2901 E Hastings St, Vancouver

Fright Nights at the PNE is Metro Vancouver's biggest and most iconic Halloween event. The attraction features multiple haunted houses, terrifying roaming performers, and an electric atmosphere filled with screams and laughter. From creepy clowns to sinister spirits, there's no shortage of jump scares and themed entertainment.

In addition to the haunted houses, guests can enjoy amusement rides, live shows, and Halloween-themed treats. Running on select days from October 7th to the 31st, Fright Nights is a must-visit for thrill seekers looking for both heart-pounding scares and carnival-style fun. Check out their website - www.frightnights.ca

Reapers Haunted Corn Maze

9423 Gibson Road, Chilliwack

Where all your nightmares become a reality. Prepare to have your senses overwhelmed, as you're fully immersed in a world where the supernatural roams freely. Test your instincts as you navigate through the shadowy twists and turns of the corn maze, where sinister creatures lie in wait, ready to spring from the darkness. Will you survive the terror that lurks around every corner, or will fear get the best of you?

Reaper's Maze of Terror is a scary, haunted attraction at Fantasy Farms in Chilliwack. Visitors venture through a dark corn maze filled with eerie scenes, lurking monsters, and unexpected scares around every corner. The attraction is known for its rural setting, which adds an extra layer of authenticity and suspense to the experience.

For full details, visit the Reaper's Maze of Terror website: www.reapers.ca

Halloween Walking Tours

*Explore Vancouver's darker side this October with guided walking tours that uncover the city's haunted history, ghostly legends, and mysterious past!

Walking tour meets outside Monaco Café, 356 Water Street, Vancouver.

This Halloween, with Forbidden Vancouver, guests can enter Victorian-era Gastown for a storytelling walk filled with spooky true tales of fire and an unsolved murder. Forbidden Vancouver's Lost Souls of Gastown walking tour runs most nights at 7:00 pm, with additional times during Halloween. It lasts about 1.5 to 2 hours. Tickets cost around $35 for adults and $32 for youth and seniors.

For dates and booking, see Lost Souls of Gastown on Forbidden Vancouver Walking Tour's website.

Graves Tales at Fort Langley National Historic Site

Fort Langley National Historic Site runs its lantern-lit Grave Tales walks from October 16th to 30th, 2026. MAAN FARMS PUMPKIN PATCH AND CORN MAZE

Famous for both its kid-friendly corn mazes and more serious haunted ones, Maan Farms also has a pumpkin patch and other fall activities available on-site. The farm is located at 790 McKenzie Road which is about 10 minutes east of the Abbotsford International Airport and a short drive from the Abbotsford Costco.

Maan Farms is one of our favourite places to take young children to in autumn. On the farm there is a pumpkin patch, bouncy pillow, pedal cart racetrack, play fort with tire swings, zipline, petting zoo, wagon rides, a market store and more.

The farm also has four haunted experiences for older people who like scary things. There are two family-friendly corn mazes suitable for younger ones as well.

The attraction's pumpkin patch and the rest of Fall at the Farm is open all October, with the final day of the season November 1, 2026. Instead of having a traditional field of pumpkins, Maan Farms has a Pumpkin Forest full of surprises and excitement for all ages.

General admission to the pumpkin patch and kids' play area is around $20 on weekdays and $27 on weekends for most people. Kids under age three enter for free. The corn maze for kids is included, but the Haunted Attractions are separate and cost extra. Check out www.maanfarms.com

Family Fun for Halloween

TAVES FAMILY FARMS (MAGIC OF FALL EXPERIENCE)

Taves Family Farms offers their Magic of Fall experience in October. It's great for children and their families.

Visitors can explore corn mazes, play areas and the apple orchard. The pumpkin patch opens midway through the season and hayrides take families out to the fields where they can pick pumpkins. Other highlights at Taves include a petting barn, cider tasting for adults and a farm store with fresh local treats.

The Magic of Fall Experience runs until the end of October and is one of the most popular seasonal events in the Fraser Valley.
