On behalf of Destination Vancouver and our many partners in the hospitality community, welcome to the beautiful West Coast.

Vancouver is a young city on an ancient land. We're a city wrapped in a rainforest, perched between the Pacific Ocean and the North Shore mountains. And in the middle is a walkable cosmopolitan city.

From beachside table to MICHELIN restaurant to ski lift to bike-share, there's a seat here for everyone.

If you encounter the splashes of rain that keep our city so beautiful, fresh and green, we encourage you to embrace it just like we do. Here in Vancouver, it takes more than rain to rain on our parade.

We hope you'll love our city as much as we do.

Sincerely,

Royce Chwin

Feature Story: Mosaics

Art Under Foot

Whether a long-time resident or a visitor, the next time you are walking in downtown Vancouver, take a moment to look down. An exciting discovery is literally at your feet and provides an impressive visual tour of historical and contemporary Vancouver through beautiful mosaic tiles.

Back for its 15th year anniversary, the Downtown Vancouver Business Improvement Association (DVBIA) launched the mosaic public art project aimed at beautifying downtown streetscapes.

In partnership with the City of Vancouver and the Creating Employment Through Art co-op (CETA), the DVBIA commissioned accomplished mosaic artists - Liz Calvin and Bruce Walther - to spearhead the design and production of the mosaics. Calvin became passionate about mosaics traveling through Europe where she attended a mosaic art school in Italy for one year.

Walther, a self-employed artisan for more than 15 years, has done numerous stained glass commissions for private residences as well as public art projects, residential tile work, and community mosaic workshops.

The concepts behind the twelve original tile mosaics - each measuring nine square feet and containing between 3500 and 4500 hand cut ceramic pieces - reflects the culture, history and geography of downtown Vancouver.

Each mosaic took approximately 160 hours to create. Calvin and Walther worked with CETA, a collective of artists who are residents of the Downtown Eastside, some of whom are challenged with addictions or mental illness, to develop the mosaics. The group's purpose and philosophy is explained on its website: "Just as CETA pieces broken tile together into a beautiful mosaic, CETA also strives to act as a catalyst for putting lives back together through art and enterprise."

One of the mosaics tributes Dal Richards; a Vancouver legend. With a career spanning over a half century, and with all of the charisma and style it takes to be a Big Band leader, Dal is an icon of Vancouver's music scene. The success of his impressive orchestra, boasting an amazing five night-a-week 25-year run at the Panorama Roof of the Hotel Vancouver and 25 years of live CBC National Radio broadcasts has led to friends and fans affectionately dubbing him Dr. Swing.

Some of the other mosaics feature historic Granville Street's entertainment district awash in the neon glow of the 1950s, The Hudson Bay Company circa 1670, tributes to notable architecture including the 1929 nurse from the Art Deco Georgia Medical Dental Building, and the Princess Marguerite II, a historic steamship, passing under the Lions Gate Bridge.

Things to do this Spring

Vancouver is home to dozens of world-class attractions, parks, festivals, events and places you'll want to visit. Here are a few highlights to consider as you explore the city.

Gastown

the historic old quarter of downtown Vancouver with excellent bars, restaurants and touristy souvenir stores. Home of the Underground Comedy Club close by at 120 West Hastings Street. www.ugcomedy.com

Granville Island

Considered by many as Vancouver's #1 attraction. The fun starts with getting there; hop a tiny passenger ferry from any the False Creek Ferries docks around False Creek. Check out the Granville Island Public Market - a 365-day-a-year fresh grocery institution - and cruise the stalls for locally grown and raised delicacies. Feeling adventurous? Rent a kayak or paddleboard at Vancouver Water Adventures (www.vancouverwateradventures.com) and finish your day with a wonderful dinner at the Dockside Restaurant within the Granville Island Hotel.

Things to do this Spring

Grouse Mountain

Grouse Mountain - the best year-round mountain attraction offering downhill skiing, mountaintop skating, and snowshoe trails in the winter, along with its Refuge for Endangered Wildlife with resident Grizzly bears, world-famous Lumberjack Show, and Birds in Motion demonstrations in the summer, and year-round gondola rides, Theatre in the Sky, restaurants, and unparalleled views of Vancouver. New this year, the Blue Grouse Gondola features 15 towers, 27 eight-person cabins and an average trip time of 5.5 minutes, allowing the new lift to operate at a capacity of 1,000 people per hour. In addition, the North Shore's only lift-accessed Mountain Bike Park, and a new alpine, gravity-fed Mountain Coaster are both set to open in spring and summer, respectively. www.grousemountain.com

Gulf of Georgia Cannery

A museum at a former salmon cannery in Richmond's Steveston Village, a great place to visit year-round.

Horse & Carriage Rides in Stanley Park

For years, a Vancouver gem; home to the famous AAA Horse & Carriage tours through the park. Spring, Summer or Fall, cozy up under the blankets and enjoy a wonderful experience together. Open 10am to 4pm May; to 5 pm in June. Book online at www.stanleypark.com

H.R. MacMillan Space Centre

Located in Vanier Park; hosts Vancouver's planetarium and has great exhibits for all ages.

The Improv Centre

Check out one of Vancouver's best comedy theatres. Located on Granville Island, the Improv Centre specializes in theatresports-style improv shows; also a great date night place to go before or after for dinner at the Vancouver Fish Company restaurant located almost next door at the entrance of Granville Island. www.theimprovcentre.ca

Kids Market

Located at the entrance of Granville Island; where to bring young children to burn off some energy. Shops, food, entertainment and activities to make every visit memorable for you and your family.

Kitsilano Beach

an exceptional beach with a giant outdoor pool, plus views of the city and North Shore Mountains. Great place to walk during the Spring/Summer for the best ocean views in town.

Lonsdale Quay

Located over the water from Vancouver's Seabus Terminal, the Quay is a vibrant and colourful public market. One of the best daytrips you can take; jump on the Seabus; go over the water and enjoy the shops, restaurants, visit the Polygon Gallery, and the North Shore Shipyards.

Maplewood Farm

The best place to see farm animals, and a fun attraction to take very young children in North Vancouver.

Shopping

Obviously stroll the streets of Robson, Alberni, Davie, or head to Australian Boot in Gastown for the best Glerups in the world. Speaking of boots; head over for the latest in Western attire to OK Boot on Granville Island or Gastown. Looking to stay cool from walking around; head over to Pacific Centre, Vancouver's shopping destination for trendsetters and fashion seekers alike.

Spa & Massage

Head over to Sabai Thai Spa for packages, Spa & massage treatments to recover from all the walking & exploring today. Seven locations; look for their special offer via QR code within this magazine.

Spanish Banks

one of Vancouver's best sandy beaches, and the most amazing one at low tide. Head over to Jericho Beach to access.

Stanley Park

one of the largest and most famous public parks in the world, surrounded by a beautiful 10-kilometre seawall with stunning views. Explore the 400-hectare natural West Coast rainforest and enjoy scenic views of water, mountains, sky, and majestic trees as you hike through kilometres of trails, beautiful beaches, local wildlife, great eats, natural, cultural and historical landmarks, along with many other adventures, including Canada's largest Aquarium. Park is open from 6am to 10pm unless otherwise posted, and access to washrooms is available from dawn until dusk.

Vancouver Aquarium

One of the city's top year-round attractions that's home to sea otters, stellar sea lions, thousands of fish, live experiences and a 4D theatre.

Vancouver Art Gallery

The city's best place to admire art, located downtown beside the Hotel Vancouver.

Vancouver Lookout

a skyscraper with 360-degree views from its observation deck, making it a top place for photos and admiring the region on sunny days. Open daily from 10:00am until 6:00pm

Vancouver Maritime Museum

A great museum and the best place to learn about the Pacific Northwest and Arctic's maritime history.

Vancouver Mysteries

Outdoor adventure games in downtown Vancouver. It's not a "place," it's an activity and an experience. It's still, however, in our opinion, one of the region's top things to do!

Vancouver Police Museum

An interesting museum showcasing the city's police and criminal pasts.

VanDusen Botanical Garden

Visit this 55-acre oasis in the heart of Vancouver with over 7500 plant species and varieties from around the world. Featuring the Elizabethan Maze made up of 3000 pyramidal cedars, and Thuja occidentalis 'Fastigiata'.

Arts & Culture

From local bands in intimate venues to packed concert houses, Broadway musicals to Italian operas, open-mic nights to annual festivals, Vancouver's arts scene leaves nothing to be desired.

Live Music

Ranging from garage bands to symphony orchestras, Vancouver's concert scene is diverse. There's always a live show to be found, every day of the week, in venues across the city:

Railtown

Industrial-chic Railtown may be one of Vancouver's trendiest neighbourhoods du jour, but it's also one of the oldest areas in the city. Defined by working rail yards to the north, this tiny up-and-coming district includes independent artist studios and designer workshops, creative-company offices and some of the yummiest under-the-radar eateries and coolest nightspots in town. (Map 1, A10-11)

Yaletown

Explore the European feel of this hip downtown Vancouver area. Yaletown, which was once a warehouse district dominated by textile shops and train yards, has undergone serious revitalization in recent decades. Today, the 20-block, cobblestoned neighbourhood is home to some of the most cutting-edge restaurants and retailers in the city, plus lots of fabulous live entertainment. Shop till you drop, or sit down for an expertly mixed cocktail at one of the many upscale bars and lounges and indulge in some well-deserved people watching. Celebrity sightings are frequent here, so don't be surprised if you see stars! yaletowninfo.com (Map 1, F10-G10)

Georgia Street

Georgia Street was named in 1886 after the Strait of Georgia, and ran between Chilco and Beatty Streets. After the first Georgia Viaduct opened in 1915, the street's eastern end was connected to Harris Street, and Harris Street was subsequently renamed East Georgia Street.

In recent years, Georgia Street features the Paradox Hotel, home to Mott 32, one of the world's top Chinese restaurants, and The Shangri-La Hotel (the city's tallest building), Vancouver Centre Mall, Fairmont Hotel Vancouver and upscale shops like Lululemon, Gucci, the HSBC Canada Building, the Vancouver Art Gallery, the Hotel Georgia, Pacific Centre Mall, Vancouver Centre Mall, the Granville Entertainment District, Scotia Tower, and the 1.1 million square foot office space for Amazon.com Inc. (Map 1, D3-10)

Robson Street

In the 1950s and '60s the three-block area from Burrard to Jervis called Robsonstrasse was the centre of German culture and commerce. Today, Robson Street west of Burrard includes excellent shopping, cafés and restaurants. Travelling west toward Stanley Park, you'll find clusters of well-priced hotels that give way to Asian-fusion eateries and, finally, bike-rental shops. (Map 1, E4-10)

West End

The West End is a walker's paradise, perfectly situated between the city's best-loved and most popular destinations. With the world-famous Stanley Park and English Bay at its doorstep, the West End is a must-visit neighbourhood. Explore the colourful commercial streets of Davie, Denman, and Robson, and enjoy soaking up the sunshine on one of the many patios or take yourself on a self-guided mural tour to experience the diversity of local artwork. Simply put, the West End is your summer destination. For calendar of events: Go to westendbia.com/neighbourhood-events

Davie Street

Lower Davie (Cardero to Denman) includes a full selection of shops and services while Davie Village, further east, is home to Vancouver's vibrant gay community, complete with four permanent pride-coloured crosswalks at Bute Street. The concentration of restaurants, bars and pubs in the area successfully create one of the city's most vibrant entertainment districts. (Map 1, E,F,G-3)

Denman Street

Boasting a selection of restaurants that's second to none, Denman Street bustles with activity and, closer to Robson and Georgia streets, acts as a gateway to Stanley Park. Moving south toward English Bay, this eclectic thoroughfare transforms into a beach promenade, complete with gelato shops, public art and spectacular sunsets. (Map 1, G3-10)

Alberni & Burrard

There's no better place to shop than Alberni Street! Luxury is just one block to the north of Robson, starts at Burrard Street and ends at Bute St. Referred to as Vancouver's "Luxury Zone" or "Luxury Row", Alberni Street and its environs are home to the majority of luxury brands in Vancouver. (Map 1, E6-7)

Stanley Park

The gem of Vancouver, this 1,000-acre park was established in 1896 smack-dab in the centre of the city (Map B). Spanning 404 hectares (1,000 acres), Stanley Park is home to a variety of wildlife and tree species including towering hemlock, fir and cedar. Beyond the spectacular scenery, the park offers attractions for the entire family. vancouver.ca/parks/parks/stanley (Map A)

Try the following fun-filled activities:

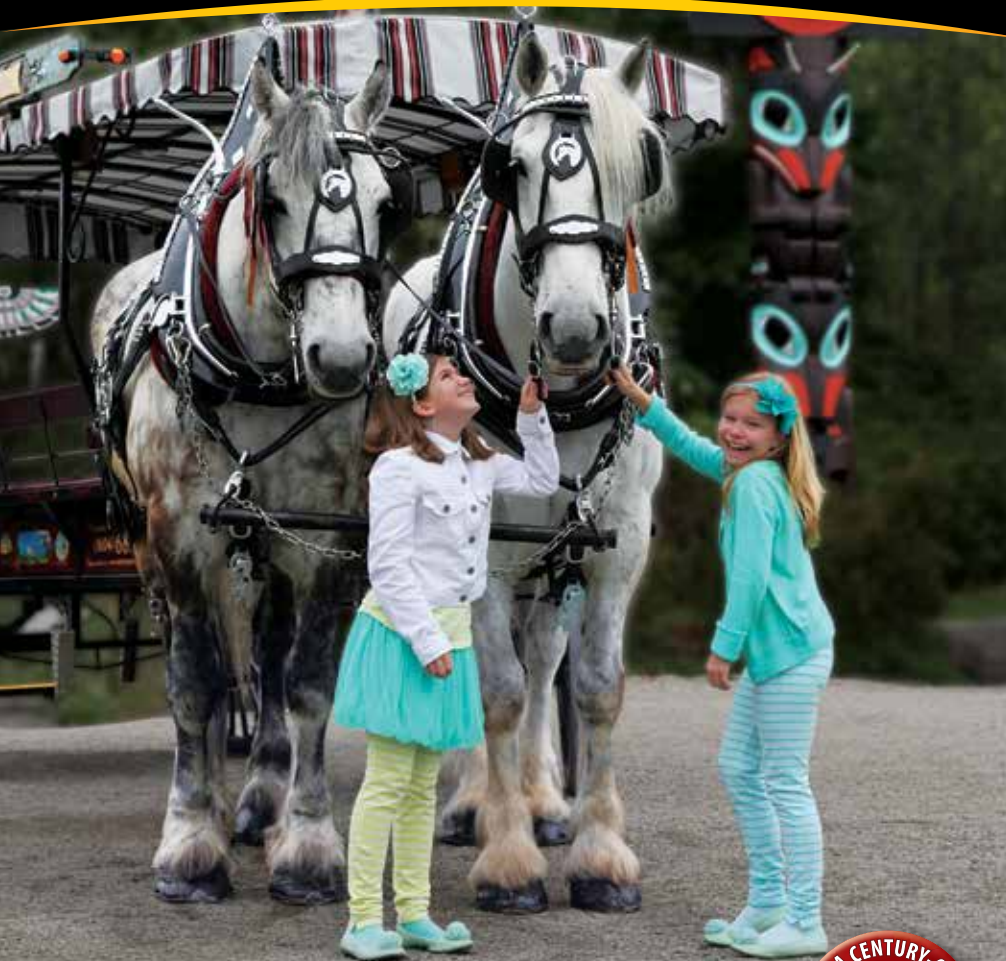

- Hit one of many forest trails, or walk, jog, cycle or in-line skate around the 22-kilometre (13.7-mile) seawall.
- Take a scenic, fun-filled horse-drawn carriage tour of the park and its sites.
- Check out the view of the majestic view of the Lions Gate Bridge from the Prospect Point lookout.
- Visit Stanley Park Nature House on Lost Lagoon to learn about the park's flora and fauna and social history. stanleyparkecology.ca vancouver.ca/parks/parks/stanley (Map A)

MAP A - Stanley Park

Feature Story: Stanley Park

A green jewel in an urban setting:
Stanley Park's history

Stanley Park has been Vancouver's favourite urban playground for as long as the city itself has been in existence. When members of city council convened for their second meeting on May 12, 1886, just five weeks after the city was incorporated, high on the agenda was the matter of a civic park. Council drafted a petition asking the government of Canada to hand over the 1,000-acre military reserve located on the peninsula of land jutting into Burrard Inlet at the "First Narrows". The federal government complied, and in October, 1888, Governor General Lord Stanley came to town to dedicate the park. In the rest of the country, Stanley is best known for donating the silverware that became the National Hockey League's championship trophy. Here in Vancouver, he is known for the park that bears his name.

The city's founders prided themselves on their farsightedness. Urban parks were, and still are, considered the hallmark of a progressive community. But more than community spirit motivated these pioneer politicians, who were mainly merchants and land speculators.

By forestalling the possibility that the military reserve might ever be sold off as real estate, they were protecting the value of their own property investments elsewhere in the city.

No one had consulted the park's original inhabitants, the First Nations people who had used the peninsula for generations before the arrival of outsiders. The Squamish people had occupied seasonal camps at Whoi Whoi (Lumberman's Arch), Staitwouk (Second Beach), and Chaythoos (Prospect Point) and were still living there when the park was created. There were several fishermen and millhands living with their families near Brockton Point on land they were never allowed to acquire, and a group of "Kanakas" (Hawaiians) living in Coal Harbour. All of these people were eventually displaced by the government in order to create a pristine wilderness for the residents of the city to enjoy.

Of course, there was nothing pristine about the park. Loggers had been busy since the 1860s hacking down the original tree cover, and the first thing the city did after taking control was to carve out a scenic road around the perimeter of the peninsula. There is still a First Nations presence in the park. A cluster of totem poles near Brockton Point serves to remind visitors of the first inhabitants.

The original park reserve was an island, cut off at high tide by the rising waters of Coal Harbour and English Bay as they merged in the low area now occupied by Lost Lagoon. The water was crossed by a log bridge until the stone causeway was built in 1916, creating the small lake. The name Lost Lagoon comes from a Pauline Johnson poem: It is dusk on the Lost Lagoon And we two dreaming the dusk away, Beneath the drift of a twilight grey, Beneath the drowse of an ending day, and the curve of a golden moon.

The ashes of the famous poet, who lived out her final years in Vancouver, are buried beneath a cairn near Third Beach. Between the world wars, the biggest change to the park was the construction of the main road linking the Georgia Street entrance with Lions Gate Bridge. A group of British investors built the bridge to provide access to their North Shore real estate development, the British Properties. It opened in November 1938, by which time work crews had completed the road, known subsequently as The Causeway. It had been approved by voters in a public plebiscite and carried out largely as a Depression-era make-work project. For many years this thoroughfare featured one lane of traffic in each direction and a middle lane, known aptly as the "suicide lane" because it was open to traffic for passing in either direction. Nowadays, traffic is controlled by signal lights.
