Capay Valley Vision Update

On June 8, a diverse group of people gathered to celebrate the opening of the new CVV office on Yolo Avenue in Esparto. Many thanks to all who supplied local food and drink: Bloom Ranch, Capay Valley Vineyards, FreeHeart Farm, Full Belly Farm, Java Station, Live Oak Farm, R.H. Phillips and Taber Ranch. We'd like to give a special thanks to NAU California Crop Insurance Services for sponsoring the event. The new office is open Monday-Friday during regular business hours. In addition to housing CVV, the space is intended to showcase the numerous high quality products and services the region has to offer—a sort of welcome center to the region. In addition, the attractive courtyard in back is available for a variety of events. Stop by and say hello.

July 2005

At the open house, the board presidents of CVV, Sue Heitman, and the Esparto Chamber, Elizabeth Campbell, introduced a team of UC Davis graduate students who presented their proposals for a local economic development action plan based on conversations with many community members and groups. Their three areas of focus were agriculture, downtown revitalization and regional branding/visitor services. A healthy discussion ensued where many participants affirmed that these strategies were appropriate and, if implemented appropriately, could help to strengthen the region's rural character we all cherish.

Economic development is one of three areas of community planning under the Capay Valley-Esparto Region 2020 project that seeks to create a long-term strategy for community enhancement in the region. The other areas are social and physical development. Please give us a call to find out more.

Ag Task Force

In the midst of the abundant harvest and the long days of summer, the Agriculture Task Force will meet on July 7, 7-9 p.m. at the Esparto Library. Topics for discussion include bar coding products for retail sales, the Yolo County Fair, and planning a harvest dinner.

Housing Report

The Housing Task Force wrapped up its initial year of study to assess housing needs for the region. Staff is preparing a report summarizing the study's findings and suggested action steps that is expected to be available in late July.

Among the task force's suggested actions is the diversification of housing models available for rent and purchase targeted at families working in the region, especially agricultural workers, as well as seniors. A project mixing housing with commercial space and a community resource center has also generated much interest. Toward this goal, CVV is partnering with Esparto Unified School District, RISE and the California Coalition for Rural Housing, as well as nonprofit and private developers, to further develop this concept, identify possible sites, and convene a development team. The S. H. Cowell Foundation, a private northern California foundation, has awarded $25,000 grant in support of this effort.

WYORCA Update

Summer is here! It's the season for picnics, play, and swimming. As temperatures rise, we seek ways to stay cool. We have the option of heading to the creek for a dip or swimming at a friend's pool. A community pool would provide people of all ages an opportunity to take swim lessons or splash around on a hot day close to home. To enhance the recreational opportunities in this region, Western Yolo Recreation Center Association (WYORCA) is actively raising funds for the construction of a public swimming pool to serve the rural communities of Madison, Esparto, Capay, Brooks, Guinda and Rumsey. WYORCA is a recent recipient of a $1500.00 contribution from the Ecological Farming Association for their participation in the 2004 annual Hoes Down Harvest Festival, a family event focused on celebrating rural living. The contribution was allocated to local community groups that helped orchestrate the festival. With this contribution, WYORCA reached the $12,000 mark in funds raised through memberships, scrip dollars earned, and annual fund-raising events.

There are several ways you can contribute to WYORCA to continue the efforts of raising funds to construct a community pool in Esparto.

- Become a new member or renew your membership today.
- Attend monthly board meetings; become a board member. Currently open are volunteer positions of membership coordinator and community group meeting liaison.
- Use a Raley's scrip card when you shop at Raley's, BelAir or Nob-hill.

To date, scrip card holders have raised $1227.00 for WYORCA. By presenting your scrip card when you shop at any Raley's, Bel Air or Nob Hill grocery store, a percentage of your purchases goes directly to WYORCA's pool fund. Simply show your yellow Raley's scrip card to the checker when you buy your groceries. To obtain a scrip card that will help raise funds for a community pool contact Trini Campbell 530-796-4122. For more information about WYORCA contact Melissa Jordan 530-787-3652.

Stakeholders Group Completes Projects

Are you interested in restoring wildlife habitat? Trying to find a solution to a soil erosion problem? Wondering what you can do about your tamarisk and star thistle? If your answer is 'yes' to any of these questions, you should consider joining your neighbors in the Cache Creek Watershed Stakeholders Group. Since 1996, the CCWSG has served as a forum for the local community to discuss natural resource issues and to develop and coordinate plans to address those issues. The Stakeholders Group is an open process. There is no official membership, and there are no dues to pay. Anyone who is interested in or concerned about natural resources in Capay Valley or the Cache Creek Watershed is encouraged to attend the bi-monthly Stakeholders Group meetings. The next meeting will be held Thursday, July 14, 2005 at the Grange Hall, Guinda.

What kinds of things does the Group do? So far, the Group, in partnership with landowners, has been involved in four projects in the greater Cache Creek watershed. The most ambitious project involved four landowners along Road 45 who had a flooding problem. With help from Yolo County Resource Conservation District staff, the Road 45 landowners wrote a grant proposal that was funded as part of the Partners for Fish and Wildlife program of the US Fish and Wildlife Service. This "sweat-equity" matching grant enabled the landowners to create a 2,000-foot-long grassed swale and several small wildlife/detention ponds as well as plant 2,500 feet of hedgerows along the swale and road with Esparto High School students. In addition to channeling and containing the water that had been running across their fields every winter, the swales and ponds provide additional open water habitat for waterfowl. Once it's mature the project will enhance nesting, wintering and migration habitat for a variety of species.

But not all projects are this extensive. Another landowner, Sumner Stone, in Rumsey had a drainage ditch filled with garbage. The ditch was cleaned out and willow wattles were made and placed along the sides to prevent erosion when rains began. John and Nancy Capitanio, residents of Guinda, had an erosion problem along Hamilton Creek that began with the heavy December 2002 rains (Figure 1). Using the resources of the group, a plan was developed that involved cutting the bank back, planting grasses, and laying down erosion control blankets (Figure 2). The project was a success! With all the rain of the past season, the grasses grew chest-high (Figure 3) and the erosion was halted. Don and Merrie Tompkins have an eroding bank along Cache Creek in Guinda. With help from the RCD and the County they planted over 200 willow tree poles along the base of the bank using a gas powered augur. These willows will eventually grow large, stabilizing the soil and slowing water before it hits the bank thus reducing the erosion.

Even if you don't have projects, the bi-monthly meetings provide an opportunity to learn more about the watershed and talk with like-minded residents. Meetings often have speakers that are brought in by the RCD staff. Past talks have been on seed-harvesting, mountain lions, tamarisk control, and the mercury situation in Cache Creek. You can also get a copy of the Capay Valley Watershed Stewardship Plan, and the Capay Valley Conservation and Restoration Manual. For more information on CCWSG, check out (<http://www.capayvalley.com/cache creek watershed.htm>), or come to the next meeting, Thursday, 6 PM, July 14th at the Grange Hall. Also, watch this column for regular updates from the Group.

Work or Bust!

The RISE Inc. summer youth employment program has been an awesome success. On June 2nd 2005 at 9:00am 17 local High School students walked into the Esparto Community Hall unaware of what would happen to them over the next six days. Over the next six days the youth would experience one of the most intense and competitive resume writing workshops known to man. Emotions flared and pencils flew, but Cathie Wicks and Miguel Fernandez were able to keep a strong handle on the energetic youth by implementing professional business techniques used by famous facilitators world wide.

In the end the youth learned how to write resumes and communicate better in the adult world. This is no easy task for a young high school person who lives in a teenage world with little adult contact. The workshop focused on helping these youth to improve communication skills and perform well in job interviews.

The following worksites are participating in this summer's youth employment program: Full Belly Farms, Esparto Child Development Center, Yolo County Housing Authority - Madison and Winters Site (housing office and maintenance department), Yolo Panning and Public Works office, Madison Migrant Child Development Center, CA Human Development Corporation, Esparto District Office, Esparto High School, Esparto Middle School, Esparto Elementary School, Esparto Fire Department, and the RISE Inc. Community Service Center. The communities of Western Yolo County thank all the above worksites for their patience and strong commitment to helping our youth.

This program does not just provide summer jobs. It is designed to teach youth discipline and respect for themselves and others. With these honorable traits one can realize their potential. All youth have the potential for greatness, but few ever access it. Ultimately this program prepares youth with the knowledge and experience necessary to take their education to the next level. Whether it be a vocational school, college or self taught career these youth are encouraged to always challenge themselves and achieve greatness. Please contact Miguel Fernandez at the RISE Inc. Community Service Center (787-4110), located in beautiful downtown Esparto, if you are a worksite and would like to have a youth work for you this fall or next summer. Thanks again to all the worksites for your support. For further details and information about the program please contact Miguel by phone at 787-4110 or email at rise.miguel@prodigy.net, thank you.

Together Children and Parents Enjoy the Summer

RISE Inc. started their summer program on June 7th with 33 enrolled children. The program consists of various hands on activities that encourage accidental learning through play. Learning that is fun and very interactive which includes reading at the library on Thursdays and swimming every Wednesday. Parents like children have participated in supporting and encouraging children to continue their social skills and even participate in the activities which are planned on a weekly basis. For those individuals that are still interested in enrolling, this program will continue through August 4th. This program is solely for children from the ages of 1 1/2 to 5 years of age. Please drop by our RISE office located on 16858 Yolo Avenue or call us at (530)787-4110 to ask how you and your child can enroll. We look forward to seeing you!

ESPARTO REGIONAL COLLABORATIVE CONTINUES TO MEET

The Esparto Region Collaborative is still continuing to meet in Esparto on the third Friday of each month. The collaborative will be meeting every THIRD Friday of the month. Our next meeting will be on July 15, 2005 from 9:00am to 11:30am at the Esparto Community Center which is located at 17120 Yolo Avenue. Yolo County Agricultural Production Increased 11 Percent in 2004

Region's Growers Continue To Demonstrate Resourcefulness Despite Intense Global Competition

The County of Yolo released its 2004 Agricultural Crop Report on Friday, including findings that gross valuation of agricultural commodities produced in the county totaled $338,128,000. The figure represents an increase of 11 percent from the 2003 gross production value of $304,520,000, and the largest valuation for agricultural products since 1999.

"These findings are extremely heartening both for local agriculture and the county as a whole," said Yolo County Supervisor Duane Chamberlain (District 5). "Even in a challenging global marketplace, Yolo's agricultural production is going strong, with the second highest grossing year ever."

Released annually, the report summarizes the acreage, production and gross valuation of all agricultural commodities produced in Yolo County.

The 2004 report found that tomato processing remained the top commodity, followed by rice, alfalfa hay, wine grapes, seed crops, almonds, organic production, wheat, walnuts, and cattle and calves.

As the county's number one agricultural commodity, tomato processing grossed $86,111,000 – a 41 percent increase from 2003 – and more than twice the value of the next leading commodity.

Yolo County grower Blake Harlan, manager of Harlan and Dumars, Inc., offered insight into the marked production increase. "Much of our success last year was the result of an increase in acreage due to cannery demand and an increase in tonnage per acre due to nearly ideal growing conditions."

In addition to excellent crop yields, the statistics also reflect the county's success last year in maintaining a tomato processing facility in Woodland, and underscore the importance of infrastructure to the region's agricultural economy.

Following tomato processing, the report ranked the gross value of Yolo crops as follows:

Rice – $40,768,000, partly due to increased acreage and despite lower prices.

Alfalfa hay – $36,753,000, up 18 percent due to higher prices.

Wine grapes – $33,341,000, continuing their downward trend, as growers grafted vineyards over to more popular varieties.

Seed crops – $21,296,000, up 19 percent due to continuing increase in acreage.

Almonds – $19,309,000, due to record high prices.

Organic production – $13,693,000, up 29 percent and continuing its 30 year climb in the rankings.

Wheat – $12,948,000, down 20 percent primarily due to a drop in acreage.

Walnuts – $11,437,000.

Cattle and Calves – $10,601,000.

The production figures only partially reflect the overall measure of agriculture's economic impact on the local economy. The study does not calculate net farm income or take into account the value of field labor, processing, transporting, marketing and other farm-related services.

The California Department of Food and Agriculture and the County Administrative Office were consulted in the study.

Water Safety for Children

Drowning Prevention Tips

Never leave a child unattended in the water or pool area for any reason. If you must leave the pool area, take the child with you. Always keep your eyes on the child or children. Designate a child watcher, whether you or someone else.

Talk with babysitters about pool safety, supervision, and drowning prevention.

Pay attention to rules such as "no running," "no pushing," "no dunking," and "never swim alone." Enforce the rules.

Don't rely on swimming lessons or "floaties" to protect your children in the water.

Don't assume a drowning incident couldn't happen to you or your family.

Don't have a false sense of security just because you think the pool area is secure. Always watch your children, whether in the house or outside.

Attend a CPR class. Make sure your babysitter knows CPR.

For the nearest cardiopulmonary resuscitation class, contact your fire department, the American Red Cross, or a hospital.

Encourage your pool-owning friends to follow pool safety guidelines, including keeping their back gates and doors locked and their pool gates securely closed and latched.

CAMP!

Once again, Countryside Community Church will be sending their youth to Westminster Woods Camp this summer. They will be going July 24th-30th for Adventure Camp, Sherwood Forest and Railroad.

Adventure Camp lasts for half the week (July 24-27) and this is for 2nd-3rd graders. This is a jungle safari theme so be prepared to bring your binoculars and go exploring.

Sherwood Forest is for all ladies and sirs who are 4th-6th graders. This is a time to become merry men and women of God. Sherwood is even visited by Robin Hood, Maid Marian and the Sheriff of Nottingham. The week culminates with a Town Faire. Railroad is for all of you who are tracking into the 7th and 8th grade. This is a high-energy camp with nightly campfires and an overnight on the Ridge.

Countryside Church is in need of volunteer counselors for all of these camps, so if you are sixteen and older, we could sure use your help.

The week of July 17-23, will be High School camp. This is for 9-12th graders and this is an absolute blast! All of these camps are great, but be prepared for lives to be changed and a huge growth spurt in one's faith. This is an awesome time! Words cannot give it justice...just send your kids and they will love it!

If you want more information contact the Woods at (707) 874-2426 or go to their website at www.westminsterwoods.org. If finances are an issue...don't let them be. The Woods has scholarships available and wants every kid to be able to go to camp and so does Countryside Church. If you have any questions, contact Pastor Pamela Anderson at 787-3586 or pastor@countriesidechurch.us. We hope that you are able to join us on this amazing adventure!

Vacation Bible School

Countryside Community Church just finished a very successful Vacation Bible School. We went on a "Prayer Safari" and had a roaring time. We had over 25 Jr. High and High School aged youth helpers, over 10 adult helpers and over 35 children who participated in this exciting adventure. That means there were over 70 participants at our Vacation Bible School this summer and the final performance by the children was packed with parents, grandparents, friends and of course...video cameras! An ice cream social followed the performance with lots of happy smiles. Our UC Davis youth directors, Julie and Max, also had a chance to promote our youth group (entitled Re-Mix) that meets at 7pm on Sunday nights in the Countryside Church youth room. This is an incredibly cool time so come and join the fun! For more information, call 787-3586 to leave a message for Julie or Max.

Next Movie In The Park Planned For July 8th!

Healthy Swimming

This summer, swimming pools will be filled with millions of people having fun and staying cool. But did you know that germs can contaminate swimming water? Learning about recreational water illnesses (RWIs), which are spread by swimming in contaminated recreational waters, can protect you from illness.

How can swimming make you sick?

Most recreational water illness (RWI) reported is diarrheal illness, which is spread by swallowing contaminated water. In addition, swimming in water contaminated with germs can also cause infections in your eyes, nose, ears and in cuts and scrapes. Recreational water can also be contaminated by fecal matter rinsed off of the bodies of swimmers. When people are ill with diarrhea their stool can contain millions of germs.

What kinds of illnesses can people get from swimming?

- o Diarrheal illness
- o Skin rashes
- o Ear infections
- o Eye infections
- o Respiratory infections

These recreational water illnesses have been linked to swimming. However, reports to CDC show that diarrhea is one of the most common RWIs.

Can people get an RWI from swimming in the ocean?

Yes. RWIs have been associated with swimming at ocean beaches. Some common germs can live for long periods of time in salt water. Swimmers should always avoid swallowing the water that they and others swim in.

Can people get an RWI from using hot tubs and spas?

Yes. Skin infections are the most common RWI spread through hot tubs and spas. Given that hot tubs and spas have warmer water than pools, chlorine or other disinfectant levels evaporate faster.

Can people get an RWI from swimming in fresh water lakes and rivers?

Yes. Lakes and rivers can become contaminated with germs from sewage, animal waste, water runoff and direct human contamination. Avoid swimming in areas that have been identified as unsafe by health departments. Contact your state/local health department about germ-testing results for local recreational water.

Can people get an RWI from playing and wading in decorative water fountains?

Yes. Several diarrheal illness outbreaks have been caused by playing and swallowing contaminated water in fountains. Not all decorative or interactive water fountains are chlorinated and filtered.

Doesn't chlorine kill all germs found in swimming pools, hot tubs & spas?

Yes, chlorine does kill all germs but it takes time. A few germs can survive in chlorinated water for several hours to several days in pools, hot tubs, and spas and you can get infected.

Why do many RWIs go undetected?

Because people do not think that pool water can make them sick. It can take several weeks before the germs in the water cause illness, so people often don't connect their illness with swimming.

Should some people be more concerned than others about the spread of Crypto (short for Cryptosporidium)?

Yes. Every swimmer should be concerned, but those living with a compromised immune system should be even more concerned.

Do people with compromised immune systems at a greater risk for developing severe of life-threatening illness?

Yes. If you are living with a compromised immune system (such as AIDs, those who have received an organ transplant, or those receiving certain types of chemotherapy) you are at greater risk.

Do swim diapers or swim pants prevent fecal matter from entering the water?

Not likely. Swim diapers are unlikely to prevent diarrhea from leaking into the pool.

What should I do if I see fecal matter in the pool?

Immediately notify the pool attendant or lifeguard.

Should I think the water is safe if I don't see fecal matter in the pool?

No. Just because you can't see these germs doesn't mean that they are not present.

How can I protect myself, my family, and others from getting sick?

1. Don't swim when you have diarrhea.
2. Don't swallow the pool water.
3. Wash your hands with soap and water after using the toilet or changing diapers.
4. Take your kids on bathroom breaks often.
5. Change diapers in a bathroom and not at poolside.
6. Wash your child thoroughly.
