RUMSEY BAND DELIVERS TRIBAL MITIGATION CHECK FOR $3.5 MILLION TO YOLO COUNTY

Check Represents the 2004-05 Payment Due as Part of the Tribe-County Agreement

The Board of Supervisors received a check in the amount of $3.5 million from the Rumsey Band of Wintun Indians during today's regular Board of Supervisors meeting in Woodland.

The check, presented by Marshall McKay, Tribal Secretary, represents the 2004-05 payment by the Rumsey Band for impacts to the County from the expansion of the Cache Creek Casino Resort in the town of Brooks, in western Yolo County.

The award-winning Tribal-County Intergovernmental Agreement, signed in 2002, calls for 20 years of payments to the County of Yolo to mitigate impacts of the casino expansion. This is the second annual payment received from Rumsey.

"The Board is very happy to receive this check from Mr. McKay," said Mike McGowan, Chair of the Board of Supervisors.

"Yolo County has worked hard to develop a good working relationship with the Rumsey Band so that we could effectively resolve some of the public safety, transportation, air quality, land use and other community impacts from the casino's expansion," McGowan said.

District 5 Supervisor Lynnel Pollock, who represents the citizens most impacted by the casino, said, "I'm very pleased that the Rumsey band is again making their annual payment to Yolo County as set forth in the historic Tribal Agreement. These dollars are very important in addressing impacts to Capay Valley and the County," Pollock said.

"The tribe has long recognized that in order to build and maintain positive relations with those in the community, the commitments we make must be upheld," said Paula Lorenzo, Tribal Chairwoman.

"We entered into discussions with the County in good faith as a responsible exercise of our sovereignty," Lorenzo added. "As our payment today reflects, we have every intention of honoring all that was agreed to and paying our fair share."

The funds go a long way to address the impacts experienced by Yolo County, stated Supervisor McGowan. The tribal payments have funded increased law enforcement patrols in Capay Valley, fire prevention and safety measures, water and air quality monitoring, noise and light studies, pedestrian safety measures, road improvements and other mitigation efforts.

Esparto High School is Nominated for "Distinguished School" Award

Earlier this month, Esparto High School was notified that it had been nominated for the State of California's "Distinguished School" Award.

Over the last 2 years, Esparto High School has seen a 160 point increase in API scores and was issued a 6-year accreditation by the Western Accreditation of Schools and Colleges (WASC).

Farmers Market in Esparto — November 13th Craft Fair

Esparto is set to host the third Capay Valley Regional Farmers' Market on November 13th from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. at Esparto Community Park. In addition to local produce, the market will feature an arts and crafts fair sponsored by the Esparto PTSA, music, games, and a clown. The new market has been a big success thanks to a number of local groups and volunteer residents dedicated to assuring the future of the region.

While the Farmers Market brings people together, it also showcases the products grown in the region, giving area residents and visitors alike the opportunity to purchase them. "The local farms will have this year's almonds and walnuts, healthy greens, and winter squash," said Temra Costa of Community Alliance with Family Farmers and interim manager of the Farmers' Market. "This will also be a great opportunity for buying holiday gifts and supporting your local producers and artists."

The Capay Valley Regional Farmers Market is designed not just as a place to find and purchase locally grown produce, but also as a place for families to come together and for residents to meet their neighbors. The Capay Valley Regional Farmers' Market offers children's activities, nutrition education exhibits, Dilly Dally the Clown and other entertainment.

The Farmers' Market takes place monthly at the Esparto Community Park the second Saturday of each month through the end of 2004: December 11th. Closed for the winter months and is scheduled to return in April of 2005 on a weekly basis.

For more information about the Capay Valley Regional Farmers' Market, please contact Thomas Nelson, Executive Director of Capay Valley Vision at (530) 796-4160.

Biz News from Esparto District Chamber of Commerce

Gear up for Almond Festival 2005! The Almond Festival will be Sunday, February 27, 2005, but plans are already well underway. Since 1915, the Almond Festival has been held as a celebration of our people and our rural lifestyle, with each community offering different events, displays, information and commercial booths. This year, as the Capay Valley region continues to gain recognition as a great place to live, visit and do business, the park in Esparto will be a showcase of our region and its products.

Booths in the park will only be available to artists, crafts people, organizations, farms and other businesses located in our area west of I-505. If you have products grown, produced or created locally, contact the Chamber right away at 787-3242 to reserve your Almond Festival booth.

Get your free listing in the Business Book! We are now working on the Business Book, a directory of local businesses, to be distributed free of charge to all members of the community. We want to include all local businesses and organizations, large and small, whether or not you are a Chamber member. "White page" listings are available free of charge to every business, but Chamber members will have bold listings and the opportunity to advertise in the "yellow pages". If you've gotten your Chamber renewal notice, you've seen the section that gives us information for your listing in the Business Book. If you haven't filled it out or haven't gotten a notice, please call the Chamber 787-3242, or contact Pat Meade at mail@westvalleyalpacas.com. Don't be left out!

Remember to take advantage of your Chamber benefits! Let the Chamber promote your business by sending us upcoming events or other announcements to include in this column. You are welcome to introduce your business, services and products here. Just email a short description or other information to Pat Meade at mail@westvalleyalpacas.com by the middle of the month to be included in the following month's Valley Voice.

Next Chamber meeting is Wednesday, November 10 at 7 pm at Countryside Community Church. Please come find out what's going on in your community and give us your input. The board meets at 6:30 pm.

WYORCA News

This has been an exciting month for the Western Yolo Recreation Center Association (WYORCA). We are the recipient of funding from the Tribal Mitigation Funds to be used for conceptual drawings, display materials and a detailed business plan. This grant would not have happened without Supervisor Lynnel Pollock's support and endorsement. Thank you also to the Yolo County Board of Supervisors for voting yes to our goals as well.

WOW, do we ever want to thank some wonderful people who helped out at WYORCA's water slide booth during Hoes Down at Full Belly Farm. Julie Rose was there as well as Gretchen and Brian Paddock. David Markham and Jane Stallings helped with Helen Voss. In addition to working in the booth, Claire Haag, Trini Campbell and Anna Brait all helped to get it set up on Friday. Thank you so much for helping to make our booth the "cool" spot on the farm. Booth members also signed up community members for Raley's EScrip.

Speaking of Raley's EScrip, did you know that in this last three months, the 100 or so people who are consistently using their EScrip cards at Raley's earned $189 towards our goal of a swimming pool and recreation center. Let's do some math here... if 100 people are using the cards that's 1.89 per card in three months.... So if we could get 1,000 families to sign up and to use the card, that would be... well that would be $1,890 every three months. To get on board, call Trini at 530 796-4100 or Melissa at 530 787-3652. WOW what are you waiting for!

Recently, West Valley Alpacas held a Fiber on the Farm weekend. Visitors to the farm could take sample courses in weaving, knitting, spinning and how to raise alpacas as well as weaving and spinning demonstrations. Owners Pate Meade and Jon Robbins donated the proceeds from tickets sold for an alpaca scarf that was spun and woven over the weekend to WYORCA. Thank you Pat and Jon!

TIPS FOR PARENTS AND FAMILIES

Parents and families want to provide young children with the best beginning for a happy, productive life. Two important ingredients for success start during the first five years of life – good health and school readiness.

Your child's learning starts early – long before that first day at school.

Parents of infants, toddlers and young preschoolers can prepare their child for school by:

- Playing, singing and talking with your child everyday.
 - Loving them and showing them you are interested in who they are as people.
 - Keeping them safe and comfortable.
 - Giving them chances to see and do new things.
 - Reinforcing positive behavior and redirecting them from dangerous or negative behavior.
 - Allowing them to make age-appropriate choices.
 - Encouraging the child's imagination through games and stories.
 - Helping them develop a sense of humor.
- Helping them make friends and learn to play with other children.

For more information about preparing youngsters ages 0 – 5 years for school and keeping them healthy, contact the Yolo County Children and Families Commission.

ESPARTO REGION BEGINS ITS COLLABORATIVE EFFORTS

The Esparto Region Collaborative which is being hosted by RISE, Inc. held its first meeting on October 15th, 2004. Over 18 community agencies throughout Yolo county came together to bring all of their valuable expertise to the table. Our first spotlight individual to give a presentation on his agency was Thomas Nelson, Executive Director from the Capay Valley Vision. The collaborative offers the means for agencies to exchange information regarding their programs and to develop program delivery strategies specific to the Western Region. Every month the collaborative will be spotlighting an agency to give a short five minute presentation regarding their program(s). This gives each program a chance to share with others the services their agency offers throughout the community. It is also a time to brainstorm on how to obtain needed services in the Capay Valley.

The Collaborative will be meeting every THIRD Friday of the month. Our next meeting will be on November 19th, 2004 from 9:00 AM to 11:30 AM at the Esparto Community Center located at 17120 Yolo Ave. If you are interested in being part of a very important team, and in helping make a difference for families, please join us. We encourage each agency to bring materials about their agency to share. If you have any questions about the collaborative or want to join our meetings, please call RISE, Inc. and ask for Mary Barrientos at (530)787-4110.

You can make a difference with as little as a 2 hour one time task. Please look over the tasks we have and see if you can help make a difference this year. No minimum age to volunteer, multiple people can team together to accomplish each task. You do not need to be baseball knowledgeable nor do you need to have children in little league to help.

Yolo Supervisors Accuse Outside Interests of "Lies and Distortion" in Conaway Ranch Mail Piece

Yolo County Supervisors today reacted angrily to "distortions and outright lies" contained in a mail piece concerning their efforts to preserve and protect Conaway Ranch for the public use and benefit of County residents. The mailer, from a Sacramento non-profit organization, People's Advocate, hit Yolo County mailboxes last week.

"I've been in politics a long time," said Board Chairman Mike McGowan. "I've never seen so many distortions and outright lies as there are in this mail piece."

The 17,300-acre Conaway Ranch is currently controlled by bankrupt out-of-state National Energy & Gas Transmission (NEGT), a spin-off of PG&E Properties, and is used mostly for farming. The Ranch has 50,000 acre-feet of water rights. After NEGT put the property up for sale, it summarily rejected the County's request to negotiate. NEGT then announced it would conduct a confidential bidding, which excluded the County's participation under California law. That's when Supervisors, as a last resort, began efforts to purchase the property through eminent domain.

McGowan said he wanted to set the record straight:

- The County has had numerous public discussions with active public input on this issue and will continue to reach out to the public.
- The Board of Supervisors has directed staff to obtain funding outside of the County General Fund.
- Eminent domain proceedings are required because maintaining public ownership of this property is the only way to ensure that the land and its resources are not acquired by a private entity that does not have Yolo County citizens' current and future best interests at heart.
- NEGT placed an advertisement in the Sacramento Business Journal as a willing seller for the Conaway Ranch property and rejected the County's initial bid.

Preserving the status quo of the Ranch—including agricultural practices—is the sole purpose in the County acquiring the Ranch.

"It is extremely naive to suggest that this property will never be developed," McGowan said. "In 1992, a group made up of PG&E Properties and other developers expressed interest in building up to 40,000 homes on 2,500 acres of the Ranch. If this property were sold to a developer, the continued agricultural use of the land would be at grave risk. And what if an out-of-town buyer wanted to sell the water rights? Not a lot of farming can occur in that area without water!"

Referring to the mailer, Board Vice Chair Helen Thomson said unnamed special interests – with financial backing – are trying to subvert the Board's actions for the public interest.

"Someone spent a lot of money to put out this mailer," said Board Vice Chair Helen Thomson. "They're trying to scare the Supervisors so we'll back down, but it only makes me more convinced that we're doing the right thing for the people of Yolo County. I don't appreciate out-of-towners with a hidden agenda and a fat bankroll, deliberately spreading lies like this."

Judge Rules Against Sierra Club Challenge To Dairy Expansion

Judge Thomas Warriner of Yolo Superior Court on Tuesday determined that the Sierra Club petition filed in August challenging the Board of Supervisors' decision to approve the expansion of the Cache Creek Dairy in Yolo County was filed too late. The Board's action was taken during an April 6, 2004 Board meeting.

At the 10/19 hearing, Judge Warriner ruled that the Sierra Club's petition was filed after the statute of limitations had run out. The Judge found that the 90-day limitation period commenced April 6, 2004 and expired July 6, 2004. The Sierra Club's petition was filed August 19, 2004.

"We expect to be moving forward with the assurances we gave to the public, and as directed by the Board of Supervisors, that all environmental protection measures will be followed," said John Bencomo, County Planning and Public Works Director.

The Cache Creek Dairy is owned by Jack and Ellie Mae Kasbergen and is located in western Yolo County.

News from the Countryside Community Church

Thanksgiving Service at Countryside Community Church

Come add to the autumn spirit by joining Countryside Community Church's Thanksgiving service on Sunday, November 21st at 2:00pm. This is an annual ecumenical service combining all of the churches in the Capay Valley.

If you have never joined us before—come. This is a party! If you like Gospel singing that takes the roof off to the heart-felt twang of old-time hymns...then this is the place for you. It is so-much-fun. This could easily be a concert at the Mondovi Center, but it's right here in our valley.

If you would like to know more information go to our website at www.countrysidechurch.us or call Pastor Pamela at (530) 787-3586. There is a dessert reception to follow so make sure to bring your sweet tooth!

40 Days of Purpose Celebration Sunday

Countryside Community Church, in combination with other churches in the valley, are wrapping up their 40 Days of Purpose on Sunday, November 7. This has been an exciting program that has helped folks look at their spiritual walk at a deeper level through daily readings, small groups, signing up for volunteer positions, and looking at missions beyond their boundaries.

We would encourage you to join us at 10:30am for our church service to hear what the small group experiences have been like and to have a time of celebration and fellowship together. Following the service, we will have a meal together, so please join us. We would love to have you there! For more information, go to our website at www.countrysidechurch.us or call Pastor Pamela at (530) 787-3586. If you are able to RSVP, that would be helpful for us to know how much food to prepare. Thank you!

Hanging of the Greens

On Sunday, November 28, Countryside Community Church will have their "Hanging of the Greens" service at 10:30am. This is the first Sunday of Advent that begins our Christmas season culminating with the celebration of Christ's birth.

Hanging of the Greens is an old-time tradition to decorate the church with greenery, poinsettias, candles, colors, ornaments, lights and much, much more to get us ready for the season. This is a really delightful service to help transition us from Thanksgiving to Christmas. Please join us. For more information go to our website at www.countrysidechurch.us or call Pastor Pamela at (930) 787-3586.

Youth Group

Countryside Community Church is proud to announce that they have just hired two new youth directors for their Thursday Night Together program. UC Davis students Julie Merchad and Max Critchfield will be the dynamic duo to help Jr. High and High School students grow deeper in their faith through Bible studies, cool talks and exciting retreats. Just you wait...this is going to be a blast!

Youth Group meets every Thursday night at Countryside Church from 6:30-8:00pm. For more information, go to our website at www.countrysidechurch.us or leave a message for Julie or Max at (530) 787-3586.

Corner Kick

One of my goals over the last couple of years has been to strengthen the girls' soccer program. Mrs. Christina Gonzalez gave a boost to the program last year when she took over before the season started a team with only a handful of signups, and recruited until she had enough 12-13 year old girls for TWO teams. Trini Campbell has also been instrumental in bringing in more girls to the sport.

This year we have three new coaches for our girls: Mary Tharp, Maria Morales and Brian Paddock. We have one more team than we did last year, and would have had two if we had had more time to register before the scheduler said "no more time!". Still I and the AYSO board are delighted to see 65 girls participating in our program this year, including 22 on one team, a very competitive 19 to 14. Also, let me not forget one new female referee, Mrs. Erika Williams, who joins a very accomplished referee, Maria Borges from Madison.

This year I am told the Esparto High School will have a girls' soccer team. Dru Rivers and Jan Villela are the coaches.

It is rewarding to see these girls learning the lessons of teamwork and competition which will enable and empower them to not just be good athletes, but stronger participants in the decision making processes of our families, communities and society. Larry Mayer, regional commissioner,

The Pre-Kinder Ready Play Group begin their Sessions

"Come Read, Sing & Play with us!"

Our first Play group session was held on Tuesday, October 5, 2004.

The Play group will meet from 9:00-11:30am every Tuesday and Thursday, at the Universal Learning Center on the corner of Grafton & Freemont Street. Come join us for some Reading, Singing and Playing!! Children 3-5 years of age and their parents are welcomed!!!!

The theme for October was 'Changes'. Parents & children were able to observe 'Changes' in our environment, in their homes and within ourselves. The children experienced a big change by coming to our Play Groups and beginning a new routine.

October's focus included reading picture labels, singing and listening to stories through usage of puppets and flannel characters. We will continue to have opportunities to use paint, draw pictures, count and practice writing our names. Our group also celebrated Mauricio Barajas' birthday and joined the Esparto Elementary School's annual Halloween Parade.

A "BIG THANK" to Mrs. Alfonso, Mrs. Barajas, Mrs. Quiroz and Mrs. Rotoli. Your help during the play group sessions is very much appreciated!!!!!!

Film Script Features Capay Valley —Available at Esparto Library

Italian screenwriter Tommaso Scutari, using his artist name John J. Greenflowers, has gifted one of ten signed copies of his new film script "5 Days B4...back 2 life" to the Esparto Regional Library. The three act screenplay written for the movie industry is in its original language, Italian. Translated version will be available soon. Below is a letter Mr. Scutari sent accompanying his gift.

To the Capay Valley People,

The seventh day God was tired and decided to spend his holiday in Capay Valley.

Oh! I remember God,

He was walking across your country, on a white horse, together with his Son and the Holy Spirit: he went down from the horse and sat at the top of the Canyon, smiling.

A fresh wind came far from the Pacific sea, moving the hairs of God. God had a look around Capay Valley: his happiness was so great that he cried. The tears of God ran down fast along his white beard, and more down straight into the bottom of the canyons, filling them: the tears of God made the Cache Creek river.

The Dreams Country was born.

I can feel the heart of Capay Valley people beating inside my soul. I can see the people working hard every day, looking to give hope and peace to the next generations. I can see at the top also Joshua, sat down by the fire, beside God: telling Him many stories...the "Joshua tales on the Cache Creek." I can see the American mothers shedding tears into the Cache Creek river: I can see the never-ending happiness of their sons, dead for freedom.

One river, many tears. The tears of a happy God and the tears of the grieved mothers: blended, all together, forever. In the same river...the Holy river.

Like a wild horse riding along the Cache Creek my heart is looking for a piece of God.

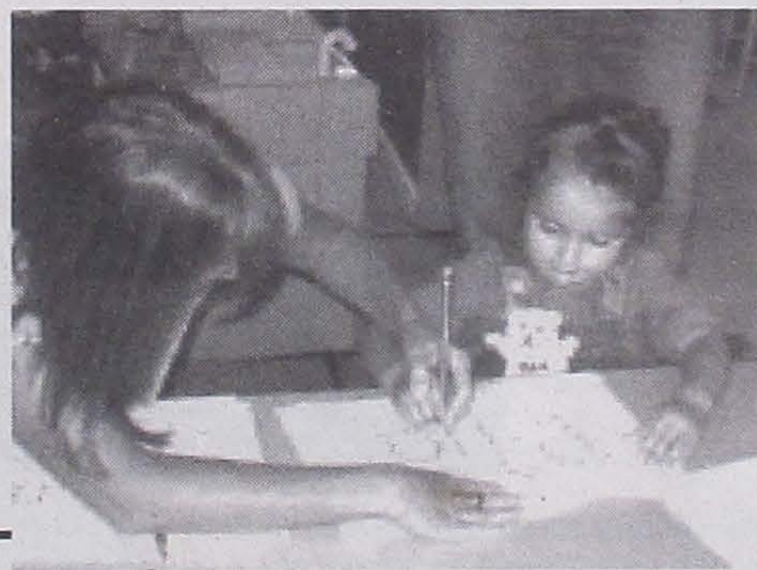

I can see the children, dreaming, smiling and playing in the meadows of Capay Valley with their families.

One day I'll touch the waters of the Cache Creek river and I'll quench my thirst of God, my thirst of peace, my thirst of dreams.

God bless the World.

She brings her expertise in the child development field and the enthusiasm of her love of children to share with the families we serve. One of Nellie's qualities is the ability to gather children's attention through the usage of puppets and flannel characters. LA REGION DE ESPARTO EMPIEZA SUS ESFUERZOS COLABORATIVOS

La Región del Esparto colaborativa que es patrocinada por RISE, Inc., tuvo su primera reunión el 15 de Octubre, 2004. Sobre 18 agencias de la comunidad a través de condado de Yolo se reunió a traer toda su experiencia valiosa a la mesa. El primer individuo que nos dio una breve presentación de su agencia era Thomas Nelson, el Director ejecutivo de la Visión del Valle de Capay. Nuestro colaborativo es un medio bueno para agencias en cambiar información con respecto a sus programas y para desarrollar estrategias específicas para la Región Occidental. El cooperativo estará iluminando una agencia para dar una breve presentación con respecto a su programa (programas). Cada mes vamos a ofrecer una oportunidad a las agencias que comparten información acerca de todos los servicios que ellos ofrecen a través de la comunidad. Es también un tiempo de poner en común acerca de como obtener los servicios más necesitados para el Valle de Capay.

El colaborativo se reunirá cada TERCER viernes del mes. Nuestra próxima reunión será el 19 de Noviembre, 2004 de las 9:00 AM hasta las 11:30 AM. La junta será en el centro social de Esparto localizado en 17120, Avenida de Yolo en Esparto. Si usted está interesado en acompañarnos en tomar parte de un equipo muy importante, y hacer una diferencia para familias, por favor juntese con nosotros. Alentamos a cada agencia que traiga los materiales acerca de su agencia para compartir. Si usted tiene cualquiera pregunta acerca del colaborativo o la necesidad para asistir nuestras reuniones, por favor llame a RISE, Inc. y pregunte por María Barrientos en (530)787-4110.
