

Our field is growing fast, and ASWIS needs leadership that is steady, transparent, and focused on strengthening our impact. Being on the Executive Committee, I've worked to support the organization with integrity, accountability, and a clear commitment to our mission.

Protecting Professional Excellence

ASWIS runs on trust. I will continue to advocate for fair processes, responsible leadership, and decisions that protect the credibility of sports social work and the members who make this organization strong.

Elevating Sports Social Work Nationally

Our voice matters. I'm committed to expanding ASWIS' visibility within athletics, mental health, and academic spaces so our profession is recognized, respected, and better positioned to serve athletes and their communities.

Strengthening Member Belonging

Members thrive when they feel connected. I will continue building opportunities for engagement, leadership pathways, and meaningful community so ASWIS is a place where all social workers in sport feel supported and valued.

Why I'm Running

My career sits at the intersection of mental health and sport. I work with athletes across levels, speak nationally on athlete well-being, and create innovative programs to support athletes, families, and sports professionals. I bring clarity, structure, and heart and I'm ready to keep moving ASWIS forward.

Thank you for your consideration.
