One Life to Live

As life goes on and one day after another day passes, a person begins to realize this is it. This is my life. I only have this one life to live. The question then arises to everyone at some point in their life “what am I doing with my life?” The answer for each person will then lead them to do what they do with the rest of their life. Some folks have what is known as a mid life crisis – realizing life didn’t turn out the exact way they thought it would. Some folks grow older in age but never grow up. These folks would give anything to turn back to their high school days where most of us had little responsibility when compared to life as an adult and a parent. Some folks appreciate the past for what it was, live each day as it is their last and look forward to what season of life God has in store for them in the future. There is nothing anyone can do about the past except learn from it and move forward. Do not let the past be a weight that hinders you from the enjoyment of today. Today is the only thing a person can have dominion over. Tomorrow will be a better day if we do the right things today.

Then you have those very unique folks – the ones that live knowing there is greater things to be done than take care of themselves. Memorial Day is a very sobering holiday. Just take a moment and stop to think – a man or woman chose to join the military and that choice led them to a battle they never asked for or imagined and it cost them their life. Their one life is over. Never to be brought back again. Families are left to pick up the pieces and stare at the photos as they remember what life used to be like. No sacrifice is greater than giving your life for someone else. At Your Line to Retirement we are all about America, our freedoms and liberties and 1000% behind the men and women who serve our nation and pray for the families that have lost love ones as they served.

The above photo is why I choose to stand for the National Anthem with my hand over my heart and my hat off opposed to taking a knee or looking like I am disinterested or like it is a burden to stand. It is not about politics it is about RESPECT!

Out of the office

I will be out of the office June 3-11. I will have some access to email but very limited access to phone calls. If you should need anything in regards to your account my assistant Becky Dalglish will be glad to help and she can be reached at 540-992-3337. I look forward to taking care of you the best I can once I return to the office. Thank you.

NFL is king

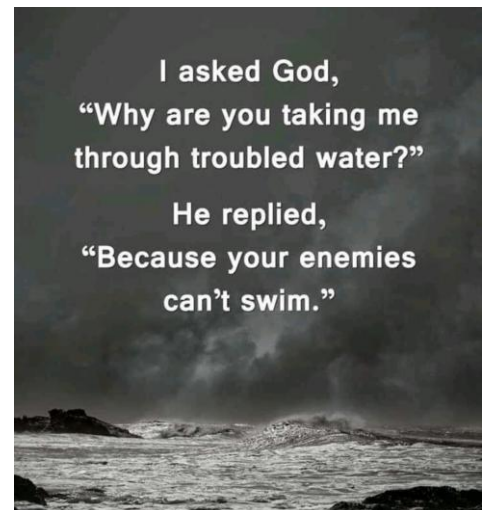

Each of the 32 NFL teams are worth more than every single MLB team except the New York Yankees and Los Angeles Dodgers. The lowest valued NFL team, Cincinnati Bengals at $5.25 billion, would rank third among all MLB team. The Yankees are worth an estimated $8 billion and the Dodgers are worth an estimated $5.8 billion. Leading the NFL teams of net worth are the Dallas Cowboys at $11 billion followed by the Los Angeles Rams at $8 billion, the New England Patriots at $7.9 billion, New York Giants at $7.85 billion and the Las Vegas Raiders at $7.8 billion.

Yes, Jim Cramer, the host of CNBC's "Mad Money," warned of a potential "Black Monday" market crash in early April 2025. He drew parallels between the market situation at the time and the infamous 1987 crash, where the Dow Jones Industrial Average fell 22.6% in a single day. Since that warning the S&P 500 is up over 14%. Be very careful who you listen to and where you get your news from.

I asked God,
"Why are you taking me
through troubled water?"

He replied,
"Because your enemies can't swim."

I don't have to know why something is happening, I just need to know who is in control of what is happening
