

Haiti - House #227 Jeff Cazy

Jeff Cazy and his wife, Clara Louis, have only one child but this dilapidated, old tin and tarp shanty is home for at least ten people between mother, mother-in-law, cousins, nephews, etc. During the construction of the church, stones had to be broken into a myriad of various sizes. Jeff was one of the masons who broke the stones for the construction of the Numero Deux church. Because this couple was such a good example of what hospitality and caring for one's family is all about,, the selection team was delighted to announce to them that in June 2021 they would be the recipient of one of the lovely HMI homes. Thanks to Almighty God and HMI, their situation will finally improve. They are so thankful and rejoice heartily with all who have helped in any way to make this happen.
