

Haiti - House #265 Chery

Pictured in the “before” picture is Lover-Boy “Boy” Chery (Haitians have a different understanding of his name than we Americans) with his wife Chedline and daughter. Boy is an electrician and his wife is a police officer. He worked on the construction of the new church in Numero Deux.

Although they are not Catholic, they are very respectful and friendly toward the Catholic community. The “before” shack in which they have been living is rapidly deteriorating around them. They have been presenting their case for a house for a considerable number of years. Almighty God has answered their plea in April 2022. They send their sincere thanksgiving with assurance that they will pray daily for the donors who made this possible.
