Our Mission - Why We Exist

To inspire and invest in the lives of children of incarcerated parents and families in communities harmed by systemic inequities.

Our Vision - Where We Are Going

Lead the next generation of character-driven, global minded youth toward actualizing their full potential.

U.S. Dream Academy Learning Centers are located in under-invested neighborhoods - where young people are growing up amidst high rates of poverty and often higher than average rates of crime in their communities.

U.S. Dream Academy offers a safe place to go every day after school, along with academic support, mentors, dream building activities, leadership opportunities, and a place to explore new options for their future.

Young people commit an additional 11 - 15 hours a week to dedicate themselves to skill building, character building and preparing for their future dreams.

WELCOME LETTER

FROM THE CHAIR

Dear Friends,

Welcome to the Power of a Dream Gala! On behalf of the Board of Directors, thank you for joining us this evening as we celebrate the achievements of our incredible DreamKids and the power of a community that believes in their future.

Before joining the U.S. Dream Academy board, I served for many years as a Warden within the Federal Bureau of Prisons. During that time, I witnessed firsthand the deep pain of incarceration—especially the heartache parents feel being separated from their children. I also witnessed their determination to grow, to reconnect, and to build a better life not only for themselves but for their families.

That is why tonight is so meaningful. Our mission—to support children of incarcerated parents and young people living in high-risk communities—is not just a cause I support; it's one I've lived and seen the need for up close. U.S. Dream Academy helps bridge the gap, offering our children academic support, character development, and caring mentors who remind them every day that their dreams still matter.

What we celebrate tonight is not just success measured by grades or milestones, but by resilience, transformation, and hope. And none of this is possible without you—our community of supporters, partners, and believers in what's possible.

Thank you for showing up. Thank you for standing with our students. And for helping our young people to believe that bold dreams can lead to bright futures!

With deep gratitude,

Carlyle Holder

WELCOME LETTER

FROM THE CEO

Welcome to the U.S. Dream Academy's 24th Annual Power of a Dream Celebration! On behalf of our entire team and the incredible young people we serve, I am thrilled to welcome you to this special evening—one filled with celebration, inspiration, and purpose.

Whether you're a longtime supporter or joining us for the first time, your presence tonight helps fuel a mission that matters deeply: empowering children through positive youth development, academic enrichment, mentoring, and character-building experiences.

As you enjoy the evening's celebration—filled with powerful stories, inspiring performances, and connections with fellow community, business, and civic leaders—know that your support is helping shape a brighter, more equitable future for the next generation.

I invite you to give generously—not only financially, but with your ideas, your voice, and your continued partnership. Every contribution opens doors for a young person to learn, lead, and grow into the bold future they deserve.

PERFORMER

Vickie
Winans

VICKIE WINANS

With a radiant voice, joyful spirit, and undeniable charisma, Vickie Winans has been a powerhouse in gospel music for more than four decades. Known affectionately as “the hardest working woman in gospel,” she has inspired audiences around the world with her soaring vocals, heartfelt ministry, and infectious sense of humor.

Vickie began singing at just eight years old, delivering her first church solo with the confidence of a seasoned performer—a spark that would one day lead her to stages as grand as Carnegie Hall. Over the years, she has become one of gospel music’s most beloved artists, earning Grammy nominations, Stellar Awards, and NAACP Image Awards for her soul-stirring albums and unforgettable performances.

Beyond her extraordinary musical talent, Vickie is also a trailblazer in the business of gospel. As president of her own management company, Viviane, Inc., based in Detroit, she manages her career and books more than 200 shows annually. Yet, despite her demanding schedule, she proudly declares that her favorite roles are those of mother to her two gifted sons—hit producers and recording artists Mario Winans and Marvin Winans, Jr.—and “Nannie” to her cherished grandchildren.

Her journey to success has been marked by hard work, resilience, and unwavering faith. Through triumphs and trials, Vickie’s gratitude and trust in God have remained steadfast. Her music and message—uplifting, joyous, and filled with hope—reflect her belief that “a merry heart doeth good like medicine.”

Whether performing on stage, starring in theatrical productions, or appearing on television, Vickie Winans continues to touch lives with her humor, authenticity, and powerful ministry. In 2015, she was among the first ten inductees into the Stellar Awards Honor of Distinction Club, joining an elite group that included President Barack Obama—a testament to her lasting impact and legacy in gospel music.

Today, Vickie Winans shines as one of gospel’s brightest stars—still singing, laughing, and spreading God’s love wherever the journey leads.

Nicolle
Christine
Green

MENTOR OF THE YEAR HONOREE

Nicolle Christine Green
San Bernardino, California

Nicolle Green's journey into mentoring with U.S. Dream Academy began in 2022 with a simple announcement at her church where a U.S. Dream Academy site was located.

Already a devoted mother of three, Nicolle felt a calling to make a greater impact in her community.

She began as a homework helper and summer program volunteer, quickly discovering that mentoring not only allowed her to pour into the lives of young people, but also refreshed and rejuvenated her own spirit. Today, Nicolle mentors two DreamKids, showing up for them with steady encouragement, compassion, and the reminder that they are important and seen.

Raised by supportive parents, Nicolle was a strong student, but as a teen she imagined her future limited to a desk job until a counselor told her to “dig deeper and dream bigger.” Without a mentor of her own to help her navigate life choices, Nicolle became a teen mom at 19. Through her faith, determination, and resilience, she embraced the challenges of young motherhood while staying committed to her goals. Her oldest child is now in college, a testament to Nicolle's perseverance and the loving, present parenting she has provided for all three of her children. These experiences fuel her desire to be the guide she once needed, helping her mentees make choices that expand possibilities for their futures.

Even with a demanding schedule, including overnight work as a nurse and leadership in her church, Nicolle remains deeply committed to her mentees and the Dream Academy program. She is known for her reliability: after long overnight work shifts, she has still shown up for summer mentoring sessions because, as she shares, “I knew the kids would be expecting me.” That unwavering dedication inspires both her mentees and her peers.

As a mentor, ministry leader, and engaged mother, Nicolle embodies selfless service, resilience, and love. She reminds her mentees that they matter, challenges them to set and reach goals, and opens doors to opportunities that broaden their horizons. For her extraordinary dedication, passion, and impact, we proudly honor Nicolle Green as the 2025 Mentor of the Year.

Together, the Vincents exemplify the spirit of Dr. King’s legacy—servant leadership, a deep commitment to justice, and tireless efforts to uplift others. Their shared journey reflects a powerful alignment of values centered on family, purpose, and community impact.

Troy Vincent is the Executive Vice President of Football Operations for the NFL. A former NFL cornerback, he is also a nationally recognized advocate against domestic violence. In his current role, he oversees game operations, officiating, discipline, player engagement, and key institutional policies. Off the field, he is a leader in social impact—co-chairing Vision28 (a campaign to bring flag football to the Olympics), steering the NFL’s inclusion and equity work, and together Troy and Tommi founded The Vincent Commission with Niagara University to address domestic and gender-based violence.

Tommi Vincent, known as Chef Tommi V., is the visionary and relational force behind Vincent Country, the family’s faith-driven lifestyle brand dedicated to positive social impact and leadership development. Her work spans culinary, hospitality, and wellness initiatives, all rooted in holistic community building. In her book The Table of Life: Nourishing the Soul with Food, Love, and Faith, she shares personal stories of heartache, healing, and resilience—underscoring how faith and food sustained her through life’s challenges.

Tommi and Troy lead the Vincent Country Safe Zone Activity Day—a cornerstone initiative of Love Thy Neighbor Community Development & Opportunity Corporation (LTN)—which brings mentorship, resources, and enrichment to youth at under-resourced elementary schools during Super Bowl week. Over nearly a decade, this work has impacted 4,500+ students across seven states and raised over $700,000, creating safe, uplifting spaces rooted in dignity, empowerment, and opportunity.

Married for 31 years, Troy and Tommi raised five children and have 11 grandchildren. They met in Trenton, New Jersey—Troy in high school, Tommi in middle school—and began dating during Troy’s rookie NFL year.

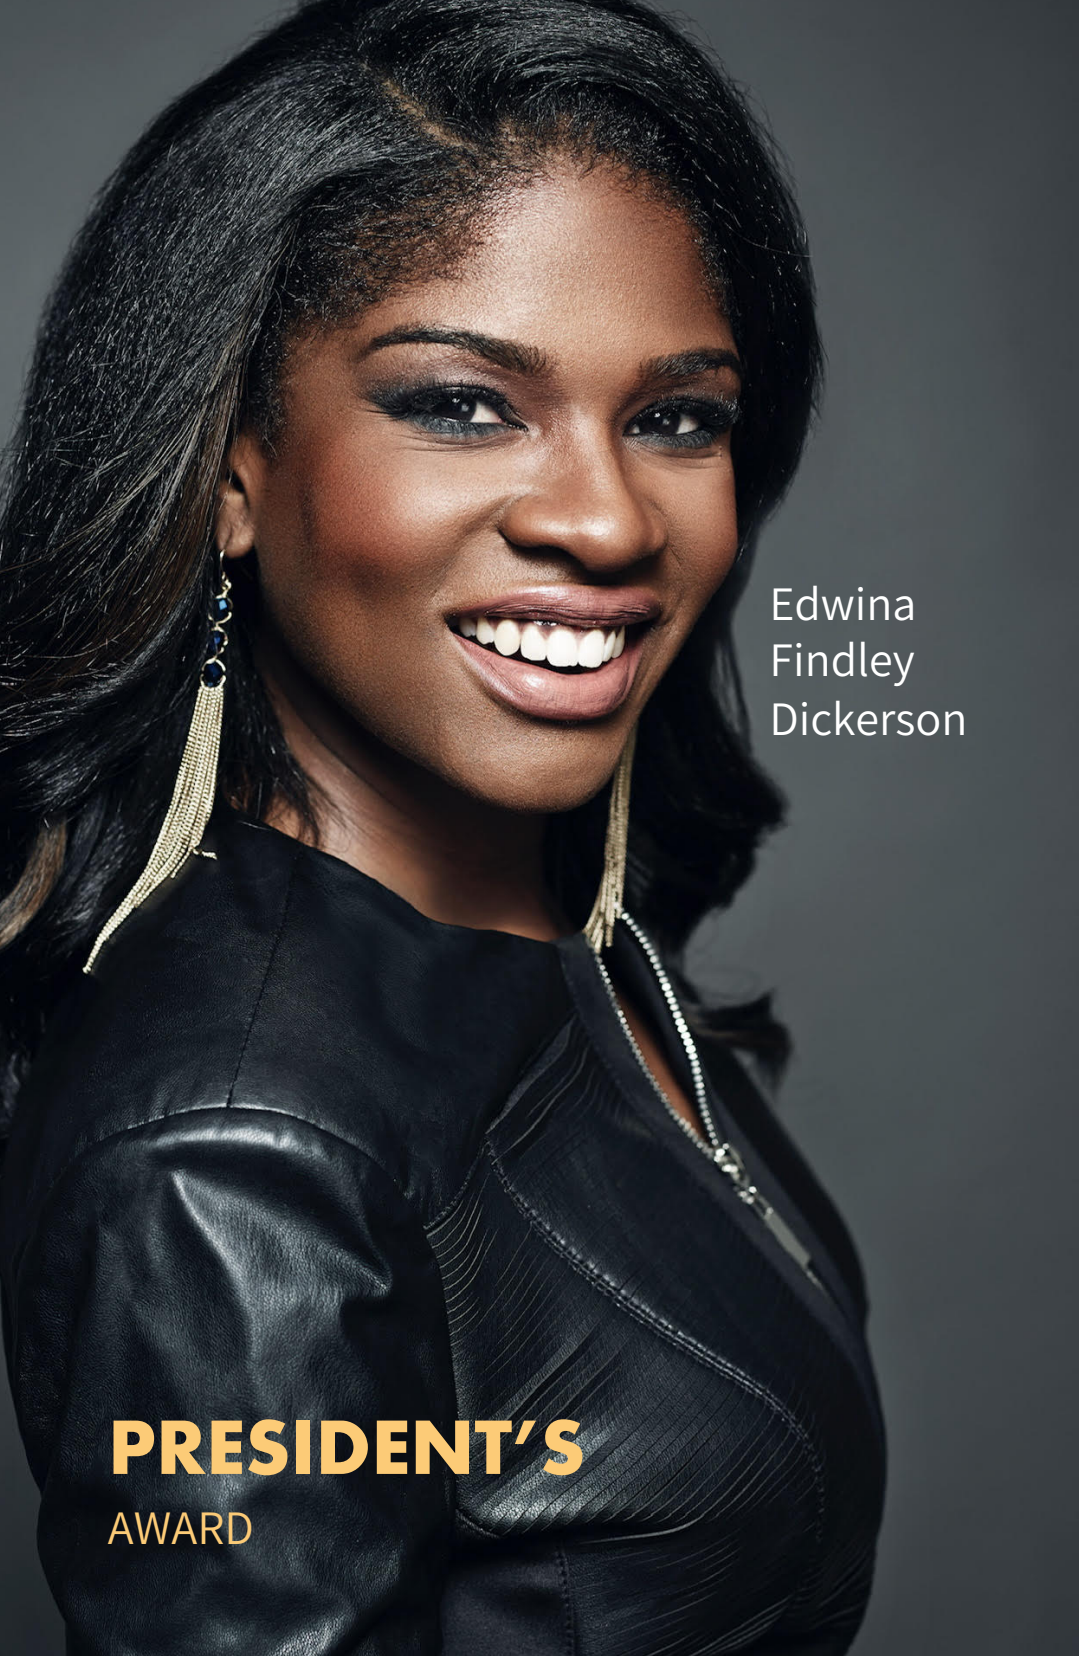

“Their story is one of alignment: of family, purpose, and an unshakable commitment to justice. It’s a story of two people who chose each other and then chose to serve the world.”

Their leadership is a powerful reminder of what’s possible when purpose meets compassion.
