Maxcine's Motivation

As the greens begin to recover from the recent hollow tining, we were delighted to play our first round back on course this week. There's something refreshing about seeing the course breathe again - reminding us that just like the grass, we too grow stronger through periods of renewal.

Golf, at its heart, is more than a game. It teaches us patience when the putts don't drop, resilience when the wind is against us, and optimism when the next shot offers a fresh chance. Every round is an opportunity to embrace challenges, celebrate small victories, and keep moving forward. Let's carry that spirit into our games this season: to play with courage, to support one another, and to remember that the joy of golf lies not only in the scorecard but in the friendships, laughter, and moments we share along the way.

As we step into this new chapter—both on the greens and in our clubhouse, let's embrace the season with enthusiasm and gratitude.

May every swing remind us of the joy of the game, may every round strengthen the bonds that make Eagle Canyon such a special place, and may we continue to inspire one another with the spirit of golf: resilient, hopeful, and always moving forward.

Richard's Rewards

Another week has come and gone, and February has arrived, marking the start of all our League fixtures for the month. If you wish to participate and support the Eagle Canyon League, please be sure to sign up with Nico. Good Luck to everyone who plays and represents our teams!

I would also like to take this opportunity to extend my sincere gratitude to the caddies who volunteered their time in filling the divots on each fairway while the course was closed for hollow tining. Their efforts have assisted in ensuring that we can look forward to a smoother playing surface in the next few weeks.

This time of the year, the weather for golfing is simply magical. I encourage you to take advantage of our practice facility in the late afternoons, or enjoy a quick nine holes with your family.

Happy golfing, I look forward to seeing you at the Club!
