PGA Pro Chris DiMarco to Headline Concrete Advancement Foundation Golf Tournament

Alexandria, VA – August 4, 2026 - The Concrete Advancement Foundation is honored to feature PGA Tour Champions golfer Chris DiMarco as the tournament day headliner of its upcoming Thought Leadership and Golf Tournament event. The gathering will take place at The Ritz-Carlton Dallas and The Nelson Club at TPC Las Colinas on December 7-8, bringing together leaders from the cement, concrete and construction sectors for networking, thought leadership and championship golf, in support of the non-profit organization.

DiMarco will lead an on-course clinic, offer short-game and putting tips, and play select holes alongside tournament participants, giving golfers a rare opportunity to learn from and network with a celebrated professional. He will also recount highlights from his distinguished career that includes multiple PGA Tour victories and standout major finishes, notably runner-up at both the 2004 Masters and the 2005 Open, where his head-to-head battles with elite rivals helped shape the era. He currently plays on the PGA Tour Champions.

The program opens December 7 with a Welcome Reception that includes a special appearance by DiMarco. On December 8, the day starts with a Thought Leadership Breakfast where speakers will spark forward-looking discussion about future industry challenges and opportunities. After breakfast, participants will attend DiMarco's clinic, take part in a shotgun-start tournament with on-course play alongside Chris, enjoy networking opportunities for players and sponsors, and conclude with awards.

Tournament registration is limited to 30 foursomes. Registration is $10,000 per foursome and includes participation for four players, club rentals, access to tournament events and hosted functions, and player swag. Sponsorships are also available.
