Jesus said to his disciples: "As it was in the days of Noah, so it will be at the coming of the Son of Man. In those days before the flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, up to the day that Noah entered the ark. They did not know until the flood came and carried them all away. So will it be also at the coming of the Son of Man. Two men will be out in the field; one will be taken, and one will be left. Two women will be grinding at the mill; one will be taken, and one will be left. Therefore, stay awake! For you do not know on which day your Lord will come. Be sure of this: if the master of the house had known the hour of night when the thief was coming, he would have stayed awake and not let his house be broken into. So too, you also must be prepared, for at an hour you do not expect, the Son of Man will come."

~Matthew 24:37-44

Let us go rejoicing to the house of the Lord.

Joe Praml's 'Christmas Story'

Celebrate "The Night That Changed the World, a Christmas Story" written by long-time St Ambrose Lector, parishioner and playwright Joe Praml.

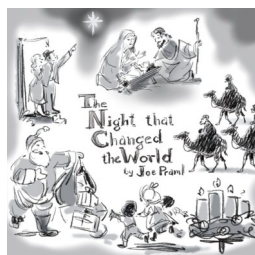

Sunday, Dec. 7 after the 10am mass.

Presented by Joe Praml Readers followed by a carol sing-a-long as a fundraiser, it starts with Matthew and Luke, and described its origins, opposition and acceptance by the church and how it became the holiday practiced today.

The Joe Praml Readers was formed in memory of the late Joe Praml.

Donations appreciated.

The advent calendar helps us focus on the joyous day of the coming of Christmas. The calendar provides an opportunity to reflect on the celebration to come. Please visit <https://www.usccb.org/resources/Advent-Calendar-2025-%20English.pdf>

The Advent season is all about preparing our hearts for Jesus—not just for Christmas, but for every day of our lives. The season of Advent might end with Christmas, but the prayer and preparations are meant to last a lifetime.

Through radical generosity—with acts of kindness, thoughtfulness, prayer, and love—we've opened our hearts to those around us, and ultimately to Christ. We've allowed Him room to work in us and through us.

One of the most famous Advent traditions is the Advent wreath. There is much rich symbolism to be found in this beautiful tradition.

The Advent candles remind us that Jesus is the light of the world. Each Sunday of Advent we light another candle as we get closer and closer to Christmas - the moment Jesus brought light into our darkness.

Three of these candles are purple and one is pink (or rose). The dark purple also reminds us of darkness and marks a time for prayer and waiting. The pink candle is lit on the third Sunday of Advent which is called Gaudete Sunday, meaning 'Rejoice' for the time of Christmas is near.

The circular shape of the wreath reminds us of our God, who has no beginning or end, as well as His endless love for us. The evergreen leaves that make up the wreath remind us that God gives us the gift of everlasting life through Jesus.
