PASTOR'S COLUMN

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Today, November 2nd, we enter into a month that the Catholic Church dedicates in a special way to the remembrance of the faithful departed. For us as Catholics, this is not simply a cultural tradition or an act of nostalgia—it is a vital expression of faith and hope. We believe in the Communion of Saints: the bond that unites the Church on earth, the souls in purgatory, and the saints in heaven. To remember the dead is to affirm that no life is forgotten by God, and no soul is beyond the reach of His mercy.

From the earliest days of the Church, the faithful have gathered at the tombs of martyrs and in cemeteries to pray for the dead. Cemeteries are not merely places of sorrow but sacred grounds where the mortal remains of our loved ones rest in hope of resurrection. Each headstone bears silent witness to lives lived in faith, love, struggle, and perseverance. When we visit cemeteries, we practice a corporal work of mercy—burying the dead—and we participate in a spiritual work of mercy—praying for the living and the dead. Visiting a cemetery also reminds us of our own mortality and calls us to live each day with greater faithfulness. The rows of graves are like a silent homily, teaching us that “here we have no lasting city” (Hebrews 13:14). We are pilgrims on earth, destined for eternal life with God. To pray in a cemetery is to stand humbly before this truth, renewing our trust in Christ who promised, “I am the resurrection and the life” (John 11:25).

When I was a child in Catholic school, the sisters taught us a prayer that I still carry in my heart: “Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them. May the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.” Many families continue to pray this at the close of the evening meal, coupled with the traditional prayer after eating: “We give you thanks, almighty God, for all these and all your benefits, who lives and reigns forever and ever. Amen. May the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.” This custom beautifully ties the nourishment of our daily bread to the eternal banquet of heaven, where one day, in God’s time, we shall all be gathered again.

As we pray for the dead, it is helpful to recall what the Church teaches in the Order of Christian Funerals. This liturgy unfolds in three principal moments: the Vigil for the Deceased, the Funeral Mass, and the Rite of Committal. Each stage is a prayer of hope, rooted in Christ’s victory over death. The presence of the body at the funeral is deeply significant. The Church honors the body, for it was washed in baptism, anointed with holy oil, and nourished by the Eucharist. At the funeral Mass, the body is sprinkled with holy water and clothed in the white pall, reminding us of baptismal dignity and the promise of eternal life.

In recent decades, questions about cremation have become more common. The Church permits cremation, but always with reverence and with the understanding that it does not diminish our belief in the resurrection of the body. Cremated remains must be treated with the same dignity as the body itself. This means they are to be buried in a cemetery or entombed in a mausoleum or columbarium. The Church does not permit the scattering of ashes, keeping them at home, or dividing them among family members. To do so risks reducing what we revere as a sacred sign of God’s creation into something casual or even disposable. Instead, we entrust the cremated remains to consecrated ground, affirming our belief in the sanctity of every human body.

This month of November, I invite you to spend some quiet time before the shrine for the Deceased in our parish narthex. This shrine, much like a cemetery, gives us a sacred place to pause and pray. You may bring the names or pictures of your loved ones, but also pray for the forgotten dead—the countless souls who have no one to intercede for them. Each prayer we offer, however small, is an act of love that God magnifies with His mercy. Praying for the dead is one of the purest expressions of Christian charity. It costs us little, yet it brings immense spiritual benefit to others. And in doing so, it deepens our own awareness of eternity. Death does not end love, nor does it sever our ties of faith. In Christ, who conquered the grave, all the faithful departed remain bound together in the mystery of God’s redeeming love.

As you pass by the shrine this week, stop for a moment, whisper the ancient prayer—“Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord...”—and let your heart be lifted to heaven. In that simple act, you stand at the intersection of memory and hope, of earth and eternity. May the peace of Christ, risen from the dead, console you and strengthen your faith.

Blessings of peace, Fr. Norbert

Sunday, Nov 02, 2025An endless supply of grace

When we pray the Hail Mary, we ask for the help of Mary our Mother at two crucial moments of our lives: “now, and at the hour of our death.” Now is an important occasion because it is the time of decision. The hour of our death is critical because it’s the last moment over which we exercise our will. When we pray for the dead, today and every day, we come to the spiritual assistance of those who can no longer help themselves. We can rest assured that one day the church will be supplying us with the same grace.

COMMEMORATION OF ALL THE FAITHFUL DEPARTED (ALL SOULS’ DAY)

Wisdom 3:1-9; Romans 5:5-11; John 6:37-40 (668). “The souls of the just are in the hand of God, and no torment shall touch them.”

Monday, Nov 03, 2025An all-access party

In the neighborhood lives an elderly man who’s had a record five strokes. Each has taken a little piece of his ability and freedom away. He gets along with a small army of friends and assistants who come in a few hours at a time to care for him. But the one thing he really wants is to for someone to take him out to lunch. No one wants that responsibility. The inconvenience of lifting a disabled fellow in and out of a car seems too great. When Jesus throws a banquet, however, folks like that elderly neighbor are at the top of the list. That is why great spiritual masters, such as Saint Benedict, place special emphasis on attending to the infirm. Saint Benedict writes in his Rule: “Care of the sick must rank above and before all else.” Why? Because Jesus said, “What you did for one of these least, you did for me.”

Romans 11:29-36; Luke 14:12-14 (485). “When you hold a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind.”

Tuesday, Nov 04, 2025Spirited actions

As the Council of Trent tried to reform questionable practices in the church, Borromeo believed that if laypeople were being asked to uphold a higher moral standard, clergy needed to set the example and renew their apostolic spirit. He gave generously from church wealth to charity, and during the plague and famine that struck Milan in 1576, while civil authorities fled and to the detriment of his own health, Borromeo stayed and ministered to the sick and dying, borrowing large sums of money that required years to repay. Every generation is called to renew that same apostolic spirit. What does your service to the gospel look like?

MEMORIAL OF CHARLES BORROMEO, BISHOP

Romans 12:5-16ab; Luke 14:15-24 (486). “We have gifts that differ according to the grace given to us, let us exercise them.”

Wednesday, Nov 05, 2025Negatives outweighed

When Jesus talks about being his disciple, he warns us that the road will be difficult and rocky. Instead of looking at Christ’s words in a negative way, consider what is driving you toward discipleship in the first place. As Saint John Paul II explains: “It is Jesus who stirs in you the desire to do something great with your lives, the will to follow an ideal, the refusal to allow yourselves to be ground down by mediocrity, the courage to commit yourselves humbly and patiently to improving yourselves and society, making the world more human and more fraternal.” Call to mind the positive effects of your discipleship—true happiness, joy, and peace—during the hard roads you will travel on your spiritual journey.

Romans 13:8-10; Luke 14:25-33 (487). “Everyone of you who does not renounce all his possessions cannot be my disciple.”

Thursday, Nov 06, 2025Join the search party

Scripture speaks of the rejoicing that goes on in heaven when a lost soul is found. Apparently, God does not like to lose. As Pope Francis put it: “God is not a good loser.” God will search for us. “God has a certain loving weakness for those who are furthest away, who are lost,” says Francis, who goes on to say in a 2013 sermon that when God brings the lost sheep back to the fold, we shouldn’t say, “you are lost,” but rather that “you are one of us,” because this returns “dignity to the lost sheep.” The world is filled with lost souls; what is needed is a larger supply of those willing to join the search party. Start with a prayer for the sake of one person, which may end up saving a multitude of others.

Romans 14:7-12; Luke 15:1-10 (488). “Rejoice with me because I have found my lost sheep.”

Friday, Nov 07, 2025Fill in the gaps

We humans are hard-wired to focus our attention on the object in front of us: the oncoming car, the apples we are slicing for pie, the words on a page. Yet also worthy of our notice is the space between those things, which is captured in the German term Zwischenraum. Zwischenraum refers to the interval between objects or concepts: the gaps between the pickets of a fence, the bare branches of a winter tree, the pauses in music or conversation. These spaces often go unnoticed, yet they are essential. They give form to what surrounds them and shape our perception by offering contrast. Learning to notice the Zwischenraum can help us remember that we often only focus on part of the truth of our lives. If we pay close attention, we may begin to glimpse the profound reality that holds all things together and creates meaning: the presence of God.

Romans 15:14-21; Luke 16:1-8 (489). “Those who have never been told of him shall see.”

Saturday, Nov 08, 2025Who or what is at your service?

The Gospel of Luke often treats money with suspicion, likely because of how easily it can be accumulated and used to exploit others. But not entirely. As Saint John Chrysostom instructs: “Wealth and poverty are neither good nor evil in themselves. They become either good or evil from the will of those who use them.” Every Christian must ask themselves how they value money. Is it your master? Or is God your master? “If you use your wealth for the purposes of philanthropy,” says Saint John, “the thing becomes the foundation of good. But if you use it for robbery, greed and insolence, you turn the use of it to the direct opposite.” Take time today to consider how you make and spend money and whether your actions ultimately serve God’s purposes.

Romans 16:3-9, 16, 22-27; Luke 16:9-15 (490). “You cannot serve God and mammon.”

In Memoriam

During the month of November, Holy Mother Church invites us to pray especially for the souls of the faithful departed. We remember our loved ones who have gone before us, entrusting them to the infinite mercy of God. Through our prayers, sacrifices, and the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, we assist them on their journey to eternal rest. May the perpetual light of Christ shine upon them, and may they rest in peace.

COLUMNA DEL PASTOR

Queridos hermanos,

Hoy, 2 de noviembre, iniciamos un mes en el cual la Iglesia Católica se dedica de manera especial al recuerdo de los fieles difuntos. Para nosotros, como católicos, esto no es simplemente una tradición cultural ni un acto de nostalgia; es una expresión vital de fe y esperanza. Creemos en la Comunión de los Santos: el vínculo que une a la Iglesia en la tierra, a las almas del purgatorio y a los santos en el cielo. Recordar a los fallecidos es afirmar que ninguna vida es olvidada por Dios y que ninguna alma está fuera del alcance de su misericordia.

Desde los inicios de la Iglesia, los fieles se han reunido ante las tumbas de los mártires y en los cementerios para orar por los difuntos. Los cementerios no son solo lugares de dolor, sino terrenos sagrados donde descansan los restos mortales de nuestros seres queridos con la esperanza de la resurrección. Cada lápida da testimonio silencioso de vidas vividas en la fe, el amor, la lucha y la perseverancia. Cuando visitamos cementerios, practicamos una obra de misericordia corporal —enterrar a los muertos— y participamos en una obra de misericordia espiritual —orar por los vivos y los difuntos—. Visitar un cementerio también nos recuerda nuestra propia mortalidad y nos llama a vivir cada día con mayor fidelidad. Las hileras de tumbas son como una homilía silenciosa, que nos enseña que «aquí no tenemos ciudad permanente» (Hebreos 13:14). Somos peregrinos en la tierra, destinados a la vida eterna con Dios. Orar en un cementerio es permanecer humildes ante esta verdad, renovando nuestra confianza en Cristo que prometió: «Yo soy la resurrección y la vida» (Juan 11:25).

Cuando era niño, en la escuela católica, las hermanas nos enseñaron una oración que aún llevo en el corazón: «Concédeles, Señor, el descanso eterno y brille para ellos la luz perpetua. Que las almas de los fieles difuntos, por la misericordia de Dios, descansen en paz. Amén». Muchas familias siguen rezando esta oración al final de la cena, junto con la oración tradicional después de comer: «Te damos gracias, Dios todopoderoso, por todo esto y por todos tus beneficios, que vives y reinas por los siglos de los siglos. Amén. Que las almas de los fieles difuntos, por la misericordia de Dios, descansen en paz. Amén». Esta costumbre vincula hermosamente el alimento de nuestro pan de cada día con el banquete eterno del cielo, donde un día, en el tiempo de Dios, todos nos reuniremos de nuevo.

Al orar por los difuntos, conviene recordar lo que la Iglesia enseña en el Ritual de Exequias Cristianas. Esta liturgia se desarrolla en tres momentos principales: la Vigilia por los Difuntos, la Misa Exequial y el Rito de Sepelio. Cada etapa es una oración de esperanza, arraigada en la victoria de Cristo sobre la muerte. La presencia del cuerpo en el funeral es profundamente significativa. La Iglesia honra el cuerpo, pues fue lavado en el bautismo, ungido con óleo santo y nutrido por la Eucaristía. En la Misa Exequial, el cuerpo es rociado con agua bendita y revestido con el paño mortuario blanco, recordándonos la dignidad bautismal y la promesa de la vida eterna.

En las últimas décadas, las preguntas sobre la cremación se han vuelto más frecuentes. La Iglesia permite la cremación, pero siempre con reverencia y con la certeza de que no menoscaba nuestra creencia en la resurrección del cuerpo. Los restos cremados deben ser tratados con la misma dignidad que el propio cuerpo. Esto significa que deben ser enterrados en un cementerio o en un mausoleo o columbario. La Iglesia no permite esparcir cenizas, guardarlas en casa ni repartirlas entre familiares. Hacerlo corre el riesgo de reducir lo que veneramos como signo sagrado de la creación de Dios a algo casual o incluso desechable. En cambio, confiamos los restos cremados a tierra consagrada, afirmando nuestra creencia en la santidad de todo cuerpo humano.

Este mes de noviembre, los invito a pasar un momento de tranquilidad ante el Santuario de los Difuntos en el nártex de nuestra parroquia. Este santuario, como un cementerio, nos brinda un lugar sagrado para detenernos y orar. Pueden traer los nombres o fotos de sus seres queridos, pero también oren por los difuntos olvidados: las innumerables almas que no tienen a nadie que interceda por ellas. Cada oración que ofrecemos, por pequeña que sea, es un acto de amor que Dios magnifica con su misericordia.

Al pasar por el santuario esta semana, deténganse un momento, susurren la antigua oración: «Concédeles, Señor, el descanso eterno...» y permitan que su corazón se eleve al cielo. Con ese simple acto, se encuentran en la intersección de la memoria y la esperanza, de la tierra y la eternidad. Que la paz de Cristo, resucitado, los consuele y fortalezca su fe.

Bendiciones de paz,

Un suministro inagotable de gracia

Cuando oramos el Ave María, pedimos la ayuda de María nuestra Madre en dos momentos cruciales de nuestras vidas: “ahora y a la hora de nuestra muerte.” Ahora es una ocasión importante porque es el momento de la decisión. La hora de nuestra muerte es crucial porque es el último momento sobre el cual ejerceremos nuestra voluntad. Cuando oramos por los muertos, hoy y cada día, brindamos ayuda espiritual a aquellos que ya no pueden ayudarse a sí mismos. Podemos tener la seguridad que algún día la iglesia nos proveerá la misma gracia.
