Over 20,000 toys were distributed through Northwest Michigan Toys for Tots

By Mike Kent

Traverse City, Mich.— December 24, 2025 - An estimated 5,700 children in the Traverse City region will share the joy of new toys tomorrow thanks to the success of the northwest Michigan Toys for Tots campaign.

While the final numbers will not be fully known for several days, campaign organizers estimate they collected and distributed over 20,00 toys this year. Organizers say they believe they met the needs of more than a dozen human service agencies that distribute the toys to families in need. The northwest Michigan campaign covers Grand Traverse, Antrim, Benzie, Leelanau, and Kalkaska Counties. Other Toys for Tots campaigns operate throughout northern Michigan.

“This was a challenging year,” said campaign coordinator Maggie Kent. “Toy requests were up from previous years. But thanks to the tremendous generosity of this community, thousands of toys will be in the grateful hands of kids this Christmas. It would never have happened if not for those who took toys to our drop-off locations and a variety of events.”

Kent also praised the long list of sponsors who supported the campaign with cash donations or in-kind gifts.

The toy donations were augmented by 245 bikes donated through Piper’s Project This Girl Can, and Bikes for Tikes. Corporate cash donations were given by Meijer, Fox Grand Traverse, Great Wolf Lodge, Leelanau Sands and Turtle Creek Casinos, the Les and Anne Biederman Foundation, Trout Town, and Moose and Stella’s restaurants in Kalkaska. An additional $10,000 gift was received from an anonymous donor.

“This is a campaign built around faith,” said Kent. “None of us sees the final results. As it should be, it’s the parents who experience the joy when their child opens a present on Christmas morning. All we can do is have a warm feeling because we know that moment will be special.”

Local corporate sponsors include Meijer, Fox Grand Traverse, Serra of Traverse City, Great Wolf Lodge, Two Men and A Truck, Up North Live News, Midwestern Broadcasting, Black Diamond Broadcasting, Blarney Stone Broadcasting, Traverse City Record-Eagle, Leelanau Sands Casino, Turtle Creek Casino, The Les & Anne Biederman Foundation, Jen Tees, A. Papano’s Pizza, Bay Area Transportation Authority, Fast Signs, US Coast Guard, Menards, Republic Services, Service Masters, Poolside, Home Depot, Grand Traverse Industries, Lowe’s, Trout Town Tavern & Eatery, Moose & Stella’s Café, Jimmy Johns, and Traverse City Tourism.

Now in its 78th year, the toy drive is part of a national campaign initiated by the Marine Corps Reserves. It is the largest toy collection program in the country, with 800 campaigns in all 50 states. More information is available at <http://www.toysfortots.org>

Richard Kevin Spires

April 19, 1957 ~ December 1, 2025

Richard (Rick) Spires 68, of Mancelona journeyed home on Monday, December 1, 2025 at Meadow Brook MCF following a long, hard 13 year battle with Frontotemporal Dementia.

Rick was born on April 19, 1957 in Kalkaska, MI to Leslie and Vivian (Stratton) Spires.

He was a 1975 graduate of Mancelona High School. He had worked many years in the automotive industry, followed by his “favorite job” -at Mancelona Public Schools (where he was known to many as “Uncle Rick”)-, and eventually retiring from Northwestern Michigan College.

Rick was passionate about life and made sure to live it to the fullest. He made everyone feel that they mattered. His smile, laugh and energy were contagious. He loved people and they were naturally drawn to his light which made him the center of attention in every situation. Family was important to him and it brought him great joy when he was able to provide a place for the family to circle the campers for weekends/holidays.

Rick was a memory making machine. If he wasn’t in the woods hunting, hiking, mushroom hunting, berry picking, fishing, camping, rock hunting, on a ballfield, or on a golf course, you could bet he’d turn up somewhere with somebody, getting into something. He would make memories alone, or with whoever wanted to tag along. He wasted no time and made sure to have no regrets.

Rick was preceded in death by his parents. Brothers: Samuel (Helen) Spires, Leslie (Elaine) Spires Jr. Sister: Martina (Harry) Sutter.

Brother In-laws: Thomas Healey, and Harry Sutter.

Rick is survived by his wife of 37 years Jane. Sons: Richard (Audra)Spires Jr., Shawn Spires. Sisters: Zila (Tom) Healey, Gertrude (Ken) Westcott, Edna (Norm) Lanning, Sheryl (Dave) Miller, Bonnie (Orlo) Wildfong, and Jeanne (Eric) Hoogerhyde. Grandchildren: Mallorie Spires, Collin (Kadence) Spires. Bonus Grandchildren: Dustin Micheal, Darren Michael, Alyiah Grody. One Great Granddaughter: Josie Spires. Many nieces and nephews.

The family would like to extend their gratitude and appreciation to the staff at Meadow Brook for the excellent care he received during his stay. Even as his light was dimmed by the FTD he made his presence known by warming hearts with his infectious personality. -Your efforts truly went above and beyond.

Rick’s life will be celebrated on: April 19, 2026, 12-4pm at the Helena Township Community Center, 8751 Helena Rd. Alden, MI 49612.

Arrangements were made by Wolfe-O'Neill Funeral Home, our family serving yours.

Jeff worked at several Truenorth gas stations in the area, and most recently served as the assistant manager at the store near the Grand Traverse Mall.

Staying true to his roots, Jeff was a proud supporter of the Ohio State Buckeyes, the Cleveland Indians (Guardians), and the Cleveland Browns. In addition to his hometown pride, Jeff was lucky to travel out West to ski in his younger days and was always proud of his travels down the Amazon River with his dad Owen.

He enjoyed fishing in Northern Michigan, especially at Lake of the Woods with his uncle Kim, where he felt he finally cracked the code to catching the big ones.

He also loved a good deal at the grocery store and liked to spend time cooking in the kitchen and sharing meals with those he loved. Jeff was quite a movie buff. He enjoyed 80's movies in particular and would share source and endlessly share movies with family. December 19, 1948 ~ December 20, 2025

Lewis “Lew” Martin, age 77, passed away on December 20, leaving behind a lifetime of cherished memories, contagious laughter, and the kind of friendships that feel like family.

Born on December 19, 1948, in Wyandotte, Michigan, Lew had a rare and genuine gift because he made everyone feel at home. His door was always open, his heart even more so. Known for his warmth, quick wit, and easy smile, Lew was the person who brought people together and made moments memorable. His gatherings were legendary, filled with laughter, storytelling, and friendly competition especially when sports were involved.

A proud graduate of Lincoln Park High School, Class of 1967, Lew was a natural leader. He played both football and baseball and served as class president, roles that reflected his lifelong love of teamwork, camaraderie, and bringing people together.

Lew deeply cherished his family and friends, valuing time spent together above all else. A devoted sports fan, he passionately supported Detroit teams but found joy in watching almost any game, especially when shared with good company. He found happiness on the golf course, peace while fishing, and true contentment at his northern Michigan home, where he embraced the beauty of nature and the animals he so dearly loved.

Never one to miss a good party, Lew was well known for his love of karaoke, particularly his unforgettable rendition of “Pretty Woman.” With his own carefully prepared set list in hand, he delighted in entertaining others, spreading joy, and making sure everyone felt included in the fun.

True to his wishes, Lew would want his life remembered as a celebration full of stories, music, laughter, and love. His legacy lives on through his wife and children, in the countless lives he touched, the friendships he nurtured, and the joyful moments he created. He will be deeply missed and forever remembered.

Lew is survived by his wife of 47 years, Kitty (Catherine Hope) Martin; his children Laura (John) Freeman, Lewis Martin, Amanda (Mike) Anderson, and Brett (Maria) Martin; and many grandchildren, great-grandchildren, nieces, and nephews. He is also survived by his brothers Ken Martin and Ron Martin; his sister Janie Calpin; and many sisters- and brothers-in-law.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Ira and Clara Martin; his brother, Don Martin; and his daughter-in-law, Michelle Martin.

MMC Recertified as Comprehensive Stroke Center and Now the Second Busiest in Michigan

The Witham Family Comprehensive Stroke Center prepares for a period of increased risk as winter weather and the holidays approach.

The Witham Family Comprehensive Stroke Center (WFCSC) at Munson Medical Center is proud to announce its recertification from The Joint Commission as Northern Michigan’s first and only Comprehensive Stroke Center (CSC).

Since 2020, the number of stroke cases accepted at WFCSC has more than doubled to over 1,200 each year making it the second busiest of 16 CSCs in the state. The American Stroke Association (ASA) has cited research indicating that strokes are more common November through February due to winter weather and the holidays. Access to the highest level of stroke care including endovascular intervention is critical but also very unique for a region like Northern Michigan.

“There remain significant disparities in stroke care across the country and around the world, with rural areas typically underserved with advanced stroke therapies,” said Gary Rajah, MD, Neurovascular/Cerebrovascular Neurosurgeon and WFCSC Medical and Surgical Director. “Time is brain and the over 500 emergent stroke procedures we’ve performed over the last five years are helping to improve outcomes, but our work is never done.”

Dr. Rajah completed the region’s very first thrombectomy in 2020 but prior to his arrival patients requiring that procedure had to be transferred downstate, delaying care a minimum of two hours due to travel time. Stroke is the world’s leading cause of disability with each minute of delay potentially causing the loss of four disability-free days and each hour equivalent to aging 3.6 years.

“It’s been incredibly rewarding to bring this high level of stroke and neurovascular care to Northern Michigan, and the program continues to grow,” added Rajah. “CSC status not only reassures our patients and their families that they are receiving the very best evidence based, innovative care, but also helps with recruitment and retention of staff system wide.”

The success of the CSC has helped expand neuro care overall with the launch of Munson Neurosciences in Fall 2024. Over the last five years, Munson Healthcare has recruited six neurosurgeons and nine neurologists to the region with additional providers set to join the program this coming summer.

There are upwards of 300 Comprehensive Stroke Centers in the United States certified by The Joint Commission which represents the gold standard in stroke care. Each delivers care across the entire stroke continuum including:

- Pre-hospital coordination at smaller hospitals/critical access locations
- Emergency evaluation, and acute treatment (including IV thrombolysis and mechanical thrombectomy)
- Neuro intensive care
- Rehabilitation planning
- Long-term follow-up

Additionally, stroke related research is also a core element of CSC health, which can help provide Northern Michigan communities with treatment options beyond the standard of care for complex cases.

For more information on The Witham Family Comprehensive Stroke Center visit munsonhealthcare.org/stroke.

DEAL ME IN

By Mark Pilarski (reprinted with permission of the author)
Meet Jerry, the award-worthy guest writer

22 September 2003

Dear Mark,

A long overdue note to tell you how much I enjoy your column. While I agree 100% with your gambling views, I would offer another take on keno. Having been gambling in Reno since 1948 and as a longtime Nevada resident, I consider gambling to be entertainment. Here is my take on keno. I meet three friends two or three times a week and we each play two games of keno progressive at $1.25 a game. If we win, we split the winnings. Here's the math: Two games at $1.25 and a buck for the keno writer. Another $1.00 for our "free" drink for a total of $4.50. We take turns playing, so we stay longer. In three years, our biggest win was $65.00 for 5 out of 6. $5.00 for the keno writer and a whopping $20.00 for each of us (only three of us that day). So we are not making any money, right? Now, let's look at it another way. If we met at Starbucks, do you think we could get out for $4.50? Do you think we would be welcome to hang around as long as we like? Do you think we would ever make any money? Also we have friends who spend several hundred dollars a week playing golf, or what about fishing, hunting, bowling... well, you get the idea. We enjoy ourselves and COULD win something. Reno has to be the best place in the world to live. We drink, eat and see shows for next to nothing and are welcomed every time we visit. Flash: I delayed writing you for so long, but we finally hit a solid six for $4700.00! Two hundred dollars for the keno employees and $1500.00 each of us (three again). Keep up the good work, and I especially enjoy your "war" stories about gambling. Jerry L.

Who am I, Jerry, to fault you on your philosophy? Your gambling coterie is betting money they can afford to lose, and you have set loss limits ($4.50) and win goals (free drinks). Your impeccable reasoning calls to mind the violet-haired Reno beauty who borrowed $5,000 from her bank for a two-week trip to Bermuda, leaving her $250,000 Rolls Royce in the bank's underground parking level as collateral. When she returned, repaid the 5 grand along with $15.41 in interest, and started toward the parking area, a bank VP approached her discretely and said, "Please forgive my curiosity, but why would anyone leave a car worth a quarter million as collateral for a loan of $5,000?" She smiled at him and asked, "Where else could I park my car, under guard, for two weeks, for $15.41?" Understand, Jerry, that keno is a tough beat because of the enormous casino advantage the house holds on the game. Consequently, table games and selected casino wagers, played intelligently, offer the greatest hope for the player, unlike yourselves, whose dominant purpose is walking out of the casino with the casino's loot. But I do tip my fedora to the "entertainment factor" of gambling, especially with games, keno included, that are enjoyable to play on a modest bankroll (under $5). I can't be critical of any player whose strategy limits his or her gambling to under five bucks, maintains total bankroll control, and who enjoys the R&R aspect of casino gambling. I think I will just muffle my claptrap and quietly endorse the proceedings of your cadre of green felt gamblers.

Gambling quote of the week:
"Mastering the inherent unpredictability of any game or art form can trigger overpowering 'pleasure,' and this dopamine rush gets deeply embedded in the memory of some of the most talented practitioners." James McManus, Positively Fifth Street

Dear Friend,

In 2025, we got a lot of stuff done. That's what we're all about in Michigan. We take care of our family, our friends, and our community. We work together to build a brighter future.

This year, we:

- Eliminated state taxes on tips, overtime, and Social Security.

- Secured the largest roads deal in Michigan history, $2 billion more every year to fix the damn state AND local roads.
- Provided free pre-K and community college for all.
- Fed all 1.4 million public school students free breakfast and lunch.
- Protected quality, affordable health care for

- millions who get their insurance through Medicaid.
- Built more affordable housing, met our goal of 75,000 homes a full year ahead of schedule, and upped that goal for next year.

Sincerely,
Gretchen Whitmer
Governor

Growth, Meaning and Self-Mastery Part 2:
The Bear and The Dragon

The commitment to personal growth will come with many thresholds to break through. There are two forces that live within us: The Bear and The Dragon.

These are not enemies to be destroyed. They are our teachers.

THE BEAR:

The Bear represents the outer-world challenges life throws at you:

- Sudden loss or changes in direction
- The ending of a relationship(s)
- Financial pressure or setbacks
- A world that shifts faster than you can comfortably adapt

The Bear asks you: “Do you really want to grow?”

Every time we climb to a new level in our personal development and go outside our comfort zone, we encounter a new and stronger Bear than the last one. Each Bear is a reminder that we are growing. Each Bear invites us to practice patience, courage and faith in the process of our own growth.

It’s not punishment. It’s preparation.

THE DRAGON:

The Dragon lives inside us. It represents the inner struggles we carry. This might show up as:

Unresolved pain or hidden grief from losses

Habits that show up as self-sabotage

Limiting beliefs that can whisper, “You’ll never be enough.”

The Dragon feeds on our fears, shame and tendencies to avoid difficult things. It whispers in an attempt to keep us small and safe. It will show up in the stories that we tell ourselves to shrink from joy or when we doubt our own self-worth.

If the Dragon is not tamed, it will be content to burn down the whole village.

Taming the Dragon is not about using force. It’s about bringing awareness and self-compassion to your journey. It’s choosing to stay present when everything in you wants to quit or run away.

You overcome the Dragon when you:

- Learn to keep showing up.
- Learn to keep breathing through the fire.

In time, you will discover a quiet strength that will outlast your fear. You will begin to live from purpose instead of pain.

EMBRACING THE JOURNEY:

Our growth is not about perfection. It’s about participation.

When we learn to meet the Bear with our courage and the Dragon with our self-compassion, it ceases to feel like a test or hardship and begins to transform into a training ground. You begin feeling more grounded, wise and deeply alive. This builds our resilience and our ability to face anything life brings. This is another way we win at life.

James "Jim" McClurg

March 30, 1932 ~ December 7, 2025

James Edson (Jim) McClurg passed away on December 7th 2025 at his beloved cabin on the north end of Torch Lake in Eastport, Michigan. Jim was born in Dearborn, Michigan in 1932 and was fortunate to live a full rich life for 93 years. His early years were divided by living and attending school during the fall and winter in Dearborn and spending spring and summer at the family cabin on Torch Lake.

As a boy Jim, his twin brother Bill, and the other kids on the Torch Lake beach entertained themselves with water skis, home-made diving helmets, paddle boards, water ski jumps, and diving towers. They canoed, rowed, and sailed all over the lake, including rowing a rowboat from Eastport to Elk Rapids (31 miles). They then turned around and rowed the 31 miles back. Their antics earned them a reputation and they were invited to put on the first community water ski show.

Jim was very athletic and he enjoyed many sports throughout his life. In high school he used a bamboo pole that he had cut from a grove in Florida so that he could compete in pole vault. He loved many sports including tennis, handball, racquetball, squash, skiing, hockey and softball. His passion for sports included coaching high school swimming, tennis and diving. He enjoyed backpacking all of his adult life and instilled a love of the outdoors in his children and grandchildren.

Jim earned Bachelor’s, Master’s, and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Michigan. In the 1960’s he spent a summer doing geology fieldwork in Mexico for Pemex, driving a 1945 army jeep across Mexico. He later taught the UM Geology Department’s summer field course in Boulder Colorado and later in Jackson Hole Wyoming. Jim fell in love with the West and in the early 1970’s made his home there. He spent the majority of his career at the University of Wyoming in Laramie, beginning in 1972 and retiring in 1997. Jim conducted research into the origins of coal, which included touring many of the swamps of the southeastern U.S. He published his findings and shared them with other interested researchers.

Jim enjoyed many aspects of being a college professor but his first love and true gift was teaching. Early in his career he produced and taught over 100 TV programs for both the U of M Television Station and the National Education Television (NET) Science series “Through Children’s Eyes.” He made science interesting (doing things like drinking a glass of water while upside down to prove that gravity wasn’t necessary to swallow).

He received teaching awards everywhere he taught. At the University of Wyoming he won every teaching award offered, some a number of times. He was well known for his popular Introduction to Geology course, and was responsible for inspiring many students to pursue geology or science careers. After retirement he was recruited by the Wyoming Geological Survey to mentor new hires and to edit publications. Jim continued his love of teaching and was a sought after presenter, giving talks on history and geology in both Wyoming and Michigan.

He had a lifelong interest in building and woodworking. He constructed several additions to the cabin in Eastport enlarging it in order to make room for his growing family. He was eager to help anyone in need with home improvement projects. Always the teacher, he taught his children how to fix and build things.

Jim’s biggest legacy may be his grandchildren and great grandchildren, and they loved him dearly. He was never too busy to spend time with them. No request went unanswered, no matter how trivial. He spent hours in his wood shop with them, helping them create projects. He and his wife, Pat, created a sense of home for his far flung family on the shores of Torch Lake, where they gather together every summer.

Jim is survived by his wife of 53 years Patricia (Pat) Hatch McClurg; children Jon (Caroline), Tom (Susan), and Karen Sheffres (Bob); grandchildren Sam (Liza), Ryan (Taylor), Jacob, Lauren, Audrey, Michael, Jackson (Eve), Benjamin; and great grandchild Ezra. His twin brother Bill and parents Howard and Louise McClurg preceded him in death.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Torch Lake Conservation Center, <https://conservetorch.org/donate/> , or Doctors Without Borders, <https://www.doctorswithoutborders.org/get-involved/ways-to-give> .

Arrangements are in the care of the Central Lake Chapel of Mortensen Funeral Homes.

Learn to ice fish from the pros, build your own snowshoes

The DNR Outdoor Skills Academy offers opportunities to learn how to ice fish with professional anglers and build a pair of snowshoes this winter.

Hard Water School, with virtual instruction Jan. 13 and 20 and an in-person class Jan. 24 at the Carl T. Johnson Hunting and Fishing Center in Cadillac's Mitchell State Park, provides an ice fishing experience for anglers of all skill levels. Focusing on techniques for panfish, walleye and pike, pro staffers from Clam Outdoors, HT Enterprises, Vexilar, K-Drill, Fish Bones and more will provide expert instruction on setup, rigging, gear selection, fish location, ice safety, and rules and regulations. Participants will have the opportunity for hands-on learning on the ice, including one-on-one guidance from professionals. Cost is $25, which includes a take-home gift and bait.

During the Snowshoe Building Workshop at Hartwick Pines State Park in Grayling, Jan. 24-25, instructors will teach participants, step by step, how to lace the modified bear paw-style, wooden-framed snowshoes (10 inches by 36 inches). Tubular nylon will be used for the lacing. The snowshoe kit comes with a set of "Super A" bindings. Cost for the class is $195.

Additional snowshoe-building sessions are available in February and March, and another Hard Water School is scheduled in February. Find more details about these and other classes at Michigan.gov/OutdoorSkills.

Aiming High

January 9, 2026

It may have been my dad who first advised me to aim high. “Aim for the moon,” he said, “because even if you don’t get all the way there, you will still be way ahead of where you would be if you just aimed straight ahead.”

I have aimed at more than one goal and fallen somewhat short, but the advice is still good, and correct. At one time, I aimed to become an opera star. I had a very wide lyric soprano vocal range, easily tinkling up there on a high C and even making a high E; and I could comfortably descend to an A or G below middle C. I never became an operatic diva, but I did have about ten years as a working performer in the dinner clubs around Chicago. And, I was also a folk singer and guitarist.

At one time, I expected to be an engineer. That also didn’t happen, but I learned a lot about how things work. Knowing the laws of physics, I am a driver who would never cut in front of an eighteen-wheeler truck and stand on the brakes to make it onto an off-ramp. I know the truck simply cannot stop on a dime.

When motherhood came along, I expected to be an at-home Mommy until my children were full grown. But, things do happen, and I suddenly found myself alone with four children to raise. Children want to eat every day, so I got a job, that within a couple years led me into export management. Feeling very guilty about having to cut into family time in order to earn a living, I was greatly lifted up when my youngest daughter said to me, “No, Mom, you are showing us what a responsible adult does.”

Marriage was something that I had to try more than once to get it right. It seems I have finally succeeded at that, having recently celebrated 38 years in a very stable and loving marriage.

During a batch of pre-employment tests I discovered that binary logic is just obvious to me. I had never known that. But armed with that talent, I easily developed the skill of computer coding. So, among other things, I am also a computer programmer and database developer.

Becoming a journalist and newspaper publisher was never something I envisioned for myself. But, just over ten years ago this opportunity fairly dropped into my lap. Now, I get to be part of a paper that my community loves. People tell me that they truly look forward to each issue every two weeks. I’ve been frequently asked how soon I can make it a weekly publication. Well, that’s going to take some work.

Here’s the idea I have – and I’ve been working on how to make it happen for more than a year, now. I think we can make it a weekly paper online, and continue the biweekly print version. I’m working on learning the intricacies of the back end of websites, because that’s where the real magic is. I’m pretty comfortable already with the front end coding. So, a few more lessons on the controls, the servers, the databases, and all that stuff, are still ahead for me. Also, I need to find enough sustaining advertisers to support this venture. Shooting for the moon, I’ll just go ahead and say what I need. I need subscribers for the print version and I need advertisers for both the print and web versions. If you are interested, or know anybody else who would be, please reach out to me.

Well, that’s what I’ve been thinking about.

Shalom

Citizenship Corner

These questions may require some research on your part. Thank you for making that effort. The answers will appear in the next edition of the Voice.

- 1) How many times does the Constitution refer to “due process of law”?
- 2) Where are those references found?
- 3) What is the principle reflected in these two references?
- 4) Is this protected right reserved for citizens?

Citizenship Corner

Answers to last issue’s questions

- 1) Where in the Constitution is the “writ of habeas corpus” referenced?
A. Article I, Section 9, paragraph 2, says: “The Privilege of the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion the public Safety may require it.”
- 2) What does the Latin phrase “habeas corpus” mean?
A. Literally, it means “you have the body.”
- 3) How is the writ of habeas corpus used?
A. Typically, a judge will issue the writ, thereby obliging whoever is detaining a person to provide that person physically to the court.
- 4) Why is this important?
A. This offers protection against unlawful detainment. The entity detaining the person has to produce that person in court and has to present to the judge the reason for detainment. The judge then determines whether the detainment is legal or illegal.

The Sweet Truth: Local Raw Honey Shines in the Mitten

By Dominic Fortuna

SUTTONS BAY -- As a singer, I'm always on the lookout for natural ways to keep my vocal folds in top shape. That's why I'm obsessed with local raw honey – it's a game-changer. Not only does it add a touch of sweetness to my tea, but it also helps with allergies, inflammation, and overall wellness. Let's dive into the awesome benefits of raw honey -

Here's a thorough list:

- 1. Soothes Cough: Raw honey is a natural cough suppressor, coating the throat and calming irritations.
- 2. Antibacterial Properties: Raw honey has hydrogen peroxide, which gives it antibacterial powers, helping to fight infections.
- 3. Anti-Inflammatory: Raw honey's antioxidants and flavonoids reduce inflammation, easing conditions like sore throats and arthritis.
- 4. Allergy Relief: Consuming local raw honey exposes you to local pollen, helping desensitize you to allergies.
- 5. Wound Healing: Applied topically, raw honey promotes wound healing, reduces infection risk, and speeds up tissue repair.
- 6. Digestive Aid: Raw honey soothes digestive issues, like ulcers and gastro issues, thanks to its prebiotic properties.
- 7. Energy Booster: Raw honey's natural sugars provide a quick energy boost, making it a great pre-workout snack.
- 8. Antioxidant-Rich: Raw honey contains antioxidants that fight free radicals, protecting against chronic diseases like cancer and heart disease.
- 9. Skin Health Raw honey's antibacterial and moisturizing properties make it a great face mask or skin treatment, helping with acne and eczema.

- 10. Immune System Support: Raw honey's antimicrobial properties help boost your immune system, fighting off illnesses.
- 11. Sleep Aid: Consuming raw honey before bed can promote relaxation and improve sleep quality.
- 12. Respiratory Relief: Raw honey helps with asthma and bronchitis symptoms, easing congestion and coughs.
- 13. Oral Health: Raw honey's antibacterial properties can help with oral health, reducing plaque and gingivitis.
- 14. Neuroprotective Effects: Some studies suggest raw honey's antioxidants may help with neurodegenerative diseases like Alzheimer's and Parkinson's.
- 15. Weight Management: Raw honey's natural sweetness can help curb cravings, supporting weight management efforts.

Some other perks:

Raw honey's unique flavor profile comes from the flowers the bees visit.

I recently had the pleasure of meeting a beekeeper in Suttons Bay, who runs an amazing operation. She produces some of the most exquisite raw, unpasteurized honey I've ever tasted. And the best part? She filters it just once with fine cheesecloth – no pasteurization in sight. It's liquid gold, folks.

But what really gets me excited is the variety of flavors you get with local raw honey. Depending on what flowers the bees have been busy with, you can experience a range of tastes. Take the lady in Boyne City, for example – her honey has a rich, caramel-like flavor, and she's got a bear problem, which only adds to the story. Or the lady in Wolverine, whose honey has a hint of licorice, thanks to the abundance of golden rod near her farm.

I've been experimenting with crystallized honey, too. There's nothing quite like adding a spoonful to your coffee or tea – it's the perfect natural sweetener. And the health benefits? Countless. Raw honey has antibacterial properties, anti-inflammatory compounds, and can even help alleviate allergy symptoms.

I've got a quart of my favorite honey stashed away, and I savor it by the tablespoonful. It's a treat, for sure, but it's also a healthy habit. I've noticed a significant improvement in my vocal health since I started using it regularly.

If you're looking to experience the magic of local raw honey, I highly recommend seeking out a beekeeper in your area. Not only will you be supporting local agriculture, but you'll also get to meet some incredible people. And who knows, you might just find your new favorite flavor.

As for me, I'll be back in the studio soon, belting out tunes with a spoonful of liquid gold in my tea. If you're a fellow music lover or just someone looking for a natural way to sweeten up your life, give local raw honey a try. Your taste buds (and vocal folds) will thank you.

Upcoming Honey Adventures

This Thursday, I'll be picking up a jar from a lady in Wolverine – can't wait to try it in my morning tea. Looking for a crystallized honey to add to my coffee routine – if you know a beekeeper with a great selection, let me know!

  - Boyne City: Rich, caramel-like flavor (bear problem notwithstanding)

Dates Set for the Second Annual Traverse City Food & Wine

Traverse City, Mich. — Traverse City Tourism announced December 11, 2025, that Traverse City Food & Wine, the celebration of the region's agriculture, culinary and craft beverage scene, will bring five days of events, starting on Wednesday, August 19th and wrapping up Sunday, August 23rd

Details are still being planned, but organizers say the event will feature celebrity chefs, cooking demonstrations, food and beverage pairings, fine dining, farm tours, and specialty tours and tastings. The Grand Tasting - an afternoon featuring chef demos, dozens of local bites and over 100 locally-made beers, wines and spirits - will be held on Saturday, August 22.

"With the wide variety of freshly grown fruits, vegetables, fish, and meats, the Traverse City area has a unique story to tell," said Traverse City Tourism Chief Operating Officer, Whitney Waara. "The first year of the event was a resounding success. We've seen that chefs, participants, and winemakers are enthusiastic about returning next year."

The 2025 inaugural Traverse City Food & Wine featured over 80 events, and most of them were sold out. The headliner was celebrity chef Tyler Florence, a Food Network veteran and celebrated cookbook author. Visitors from 34 states attended the event.

"We were able to showcase the diversity and creativity of our culinary and craft beverage scene, and that helped introduce visitors to the region," said Traverse City Tourism President Trevor Tkach (tah-KACH).

Traverse City Food & Wine is presented by 4Front Credit Union and organized by Traverse City Tourism. More information about the event is available at www.TraverseCityFoodAndWine.com.
