

WEEKEND READINGS

Twentieth Sunday in Ordinary Time Vigésimo Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

God's love and mercy are for everyone, no matter what we have done. The Canaanite woman shows us what it means to have a deep faith and to trust Jesus even when we do not understand His answer. When she faces silence, difficulty, and resistance she does not give up or stop seeking His mercy. Her persistence exemplifies that prayer is not about getting the answer we want, but about continuing to trust God with hope. We are reminded that God welcomes those who faithfully follow His ways and seek to live in His presence. When people fail or turn away, God remains faithful to His promises and continues to offer us His mercy. We are invited to recognize that every person is loved and welcomed by God. When we remain faithful, persistent, and open to God's mercy, we can trust that He is always with us, even when we cannot yet see where He is leading us.

El amor y la misericordia de Dios son para todos, sin importar lo que hayamos hecho. La mujer cananea nos muestra lo que significa tener una fe profunda y confiar en Jesús, aun cuando no entendemos su respuesta. Cuando enfrenta silencio, dificultades y resistencia, no se da por vencida ni deja de buscar su misericordia. Su perseverancia nos enseña que la oración no se trata de obtener la respuesta que nosotros queremos, sino de seguir confiando en Dios con esperanza. Se nos recuerda que Dios recibe a quienes siguen fielmente sus caminos y buscan vivir en su presencia. Cuando las personas fallan o se alejan, Dios permanece fiel a sus promesas y continúa ofreciéndonos su misericordia. Estamos invitados a reconocer que cada persona es amada y acogida por Dios. Cuando permanecemos fieles, perseverantes y abiertos a la misericordia de Dios, podemos confiar en que Él siempre está con nosotros, aun cuando todavía no podamos ver hacia dónde nos está guiando.
