

WEEKEND READINGS

Twenty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time Vigésimo Primer Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario

“Who do you say that I am?” Jesus not only asks his disciples this important question; he also asks us today. We might all have our generic, well-rehearsed answers at the ready, but what would happen if we took the time to allow Jesus’ question to open our hearts? What if we allowed God to reveal himself to us, as he did to St. Peter? Who would we say Jesus is in our lives? Would our answer reflect the way we live? Would those around us know that we are followers of Jesus simply by our actions? Let us allow God to build the life he wills for us, just as he did with St. Peter. Today’s readings remind us that all things are from God, through God, and for God. Choosing to follow Christ is a daily decision. As we grow in our relationship with him, may our words, choices, and actions become a living response to his question.

“¿Quién dicen ustedes que soy yo?” Jesús no solo les hace esta importante pregunta a sus discípulos; también nos la hace a nosotros hoy. Quizás todos tengamos preparadas nuestras respuestas genéricas y bien ensayadas, pero ¿qué pasaría si nos tomáramos el tiempo para permitir que la pregunta de Jesús abriera nuestro corazón? ¿Qué pasaría si permitiéramos que Dios se nos revelara, como lo hizo con san Pedro? ¿Quién diríamos que es Jesús en nuestra vida? ¿Reflejaría nuestra respuesta la manera en que vivimos? ¿Sabrían quienes nos rodean que somos seguidores de Jesús simplemente por nuestras acciones? Permitamos que Dios construya la vida que Él quiere para nosotros, tal como lo hizo con san Pedro. Las lecturas de hoy nos recuerdan que todo viene de Dios, existe por medio de Dios y está destinado a Dios. Elegir seguir a Cristo es una decisión diaria. Al crecer en nuestra relación con Él, que nuestras palabras, decisiones y acciones se conviertan en una respuesta viva a su pregunta.
