Mental health and suicide in Australia

Suicide

is the leading cause of death for Australians aged 15 to 49 years

On any given day, approximately 8 people in Australia die by suicide.

9 in 10

Australian workers (90%)
experience some level of work-related distress with more than 1 in five (22%)
reporting extreme distress

1 in 3

Australians have been asking others if they were OK more often over the last year

1 in 4

Australians might hesitate to ask someone if they're OK, even when they feel someone is struggling

Main barriers to asking

Fear of invading someone's privacy

Worried about their reaction – they might get upset or defensive

Don't want to say
the wrong thing and
make it worse

Want to help them
but don't know how to solve the problem

Don't want to embarrass them or make them feel judged

Lack of confidence that their actions would improve the situation

How to have an R U OK? Conversation

What are they
SAYING?

they
DOING?

What's going on in their LIFE?

Am I ready?

Am I prepared?

Ask R U OK?

How are you doing?

Is there something on your mind?

You don't seem yourself
lately – want to talk about it?

I know things have been hard lately. How are you feeling?

Listen

I'm here to listen

Take your time

Tell me
more about...

How does that make you feel?

Encourage action

What do you think is a first step that might help you?

What has helped you with this in the past?

Have you spoken
to your doctor
about this?

How can I support you?
