MARY

This is the sixth installment in a series on helping Catholics know how to have constructive conversations with non-Catholics on the issues that are most likely to arise. This article will deal with why Catholics place such emphasis on the role Mary plays in the Catholic faith.

Catholics don't worship Mary. We honor her. Aren't we supposed to imitate Jesus? Did Jesus have a great love for His mother? Yes. Then so should all Christians. Most non-Catholics who criticize Catholics for honoring Mary are not familiar with what the Bible says about her.

Mary is a model for all Christians. As described in Luke 1, she found favor with God, was over-shadowed by the Holy Spirit and became the first Christ-bearer, goals for every Christian. Her number one priority was to carry and reveal her Son to as many people as possible. She started with her cousin Elizabeth, who, filled with the Holy Spirit, greeted Mary with these words: "Most blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb." Mary responded by saying, "My soul proclaims the greatness of the Lord... from now on will all ages call me blessed."

Mary intercedes for all who need help from her Son, as reflected at the wedding feast in Cana described in John 2. In John 19, Jesus, just before He died, gave His mother to John as the representative of all of humanity. And, finally, Mary is described in Revelation 12 as playing a key role in the cosmic battle between good and evil.

Mary, Help of Christians, pray for us!
