To our Community Partners,

Northern California Concerns of Police Survivors (NorCal COPS) is asking for your help making the 11th Annual Black and Blue Ball a success. The Black and Blue Ball is our main fundraising event to further our mission of Rebuilding the Shattered lives of surviving family members and co-workers of law enforcement officers who lost their lives in the line of duty.

The ball is a black-tie formal event attended by over 700 people that highlights the positive impact the organization has had on those survivors who lost a loved one. We are asking for donations for our raffle and/or silent auction to support the event or your consideration of becoming a sponsor for our event. Your tax-deductible donation helps send family members of fallen officers to retreat weekends where they have the opportunity to share grief with other survivors and advance on their healing journey.

Attached is a fillable form for donations and sponsorship levels. Several of the sponsorship levels include tickets to the event which sells out in one day each year. You can email the completed form with your contact information, donation description and value, and we will connect with you to arrange delivery or pick-up of any items. In-kind donations are welcomed (ie: wine to be served at the bar or on VIP and sponsor tables, or business services for the event) and cash donations help us purchase additional items for our raffle. Any cash donations or sponsorship payments should be mailed to: NorCal COPS, P.O. Box 2342, Vacaville, CA 95696.

Thank you for your consideration.
