To our Community Partners,

Northern California Concerns of Police Survivors (NorCal COPS) is asking for your help making the 11th Annual Black and Blue Ball a success. The Black and Blue Ball is our main fundraising event to further our mission of Rebuilding the Shattered lives of surviving family members and co-workers of law enforcement officers who lost their lives in the line of duty.

The ball is a black-tie formal event attended by over 700 people that highlights the positive impact the organization has had on those survivors who lost a loved one. We are asking for your consideration of becoming a sponsor to support the event or a donation for our raffle and/or silent auction to help raise funds during the event. Your tax-deductible donation helps send family members of fallen officers to retreat weekends where they have the opportunity to share grief with other survivors and advance on their healing journey.

Attached is a fillable form for sponsorship levels and donations. Several of the sponsorship levels include tickets to the event and acknowledgment of your generosity, additional tickets can be added to your selected sponsor level to complete a table with seating for (10) ten. You can email the completed form with your contact information, donation description and value, and we will connect with you to arrange delivery or pick-up of any items. In-kind donations are welcomed (ie: wine or beer to be served at the bar, or business services for the event) and cash donations help us purchase additional items for our raffle. Any cash donations or sponsorship payments should be mailed to: NorCal COPS, P.O. Box 2342, Vacaville, CA 95696.

Thank you for your consideration.
