Dream Vacation Fun at Home

01

While we won't be taking the vacations we may have planned this summer, it doesn't mean you can't dream a little, right? If you could go ANYWHERE, where would it be? How long would you stay there? What sites do you want to see? For how many people do you need plane tickets and hotel rooms? Set yourself a budget, and see if you can stick to it! ... BUT REMEMBER: no Google. Find a paper atlas, encyclopedia, or magazines - anything that doesn't require a screen. It means you'll have to estimate on prices, but it's a dream vacation - have fun!

Neighborhood Talent Show 02 Playing with Other Kids in the Neighborhood

This one is as simple as it sounds - round up your neighborhood friends and get your special talent ready to show off! Everyone can stay safely distanced as you dazzle them with your juggling act, dance routine, or poetry recitation. Get creative and enjoy learning more about your neighborhood talents.

2020 Time Capsule

Family Nights
- Without a Screen

03

We can all agree - these are STRANGE times. There's nothing comparable to watching the WORLD shut down at the threat of a disease. While you may feel anxious to get back to normality, or you may hope for precautions to be more stringent, we are all in uncharted territory. Generations in the future will wonder - what was it like? What did you all do? What sort of things did you miss or give up? Were you scared? frustrated? bored?

Have each member write their experience of these last few months, describing whatever aspects of it all have been most impactful for them. Then, find other items or papers you might want to include to give your future readers a sense of daily life in 2020.

Lastly, find a sturdy container - whether a large tin (like for popcorn or Christmas cookies), a box, or durable bag. Seal it tightly and find your desired hiding spot. This could be the attic, buried in the backyard, or even just under your bed! Whatever you do, DON'T forget to label it with the date to open it - 5 years? 10 years? 50?

That's all for this week.
Come back next Sat. for more ideas of things to do with family or friends while social distancing.
