Matthew 27:11-54

After Pius XII's reform of Holy Week in 1955, and the following reforms of Vatican II, Passion Sunday or Palm Sunday has acquired once again its liturgical character, without losing those well-known elements with which the faithful had become so familiar for many years. In the liturgy this Sunday, the word of God illumines the gestures and symbols that accompany the first day of this glorious week. The blessing of palms during the Introductory Rite, may be accompanied with a procession that resembles the glorious entry of Jesus into Jerusalem. This ritual, along with the antiphons that are sung and the readings that follow, point directly to the Gospel of Saint Matthew, that proclaims the Passion. The palm branches represent all faithful disciples willing to walk with Jesus toward Calvary, in hope that we will participate in his glorious resurrection. All the symbols and gestures of this Holy Week help us to commemorate the Paschal Mystery of Christ, but they are not to become dramatic representations of events, as in a play or a movie, for these run the danger of remaining at an external and superficial level. All ministers who labor with the word, are called to interpret these symbols in liturgical ministry, assisting the assembly to better understand these celebrations without distorting the texts or gestures.

Pope's Intention for March:

For disarmament and peace

Let us pray that nations move toward effective disarmament, particularly nuclear disarmament, and that world leaders choose the path of dialogue and diplomacy instead of violence.

Palm Sunday

- 1 Holy Week begins with the first Vespers of Palm Sunday.
- 2 We remember and honor Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem before his crucifixion.
- 3 Jesus enters Jerusalem riding on a donkey to fulfill an ancient prophecy.
- 4 It is called Passion Sunday because during the Mass, the entire Passion narrative is read.
- 5 Before Mass, a procession is held, and it is not obligatory to use palms. Olive, willow, fir, or other trees can be used.
- 6 "Hosanna" is a cry of joy and a prophetic prayer.

Readings ~ 03/29/2025

Palm Sunday

First Reading Isaiah 50:4-7

The servant of the Lord God was rebuffed but did not turn back; he was beaten and spat upon. The suffering one knew the Lord God was with him.

Responsorial Psalm 22:8-9, 17-18

Second Reading Philippians 2:6-11

Christ was in the form of God but did not consider equality with God a thing to be grasped at. He emptied himself, took the form of a slave, and was obedient unto death! Therefore, God exalted him, and all proclaim him Lord.

Gospel Matthew 27:11-54

The story of Jesus' betrayal, condemnation, suffering, and death are recalled. There is no greater love than this.

Readings ~ 04/05/2025

Easter Sunday

First Reading Acts 10:34a, 37-43

Peter preached about Jesus' baptism, the anointing with the Holy Spirit, works of kindness and healing, and his crucifixion and resurrection from the dead. All who believe in him are forgiven.

Responsorial Psalm 118:1-2, 16-17, 22-23

Second Reading Colossians 3:1-4

Think about what is above. When Christ appears, then you shall appear with him in glory.

Gospel John 20:1-9

Mary Magdalene and the disciples went to the tomb and found it empty. They did not yet understand that Jesus would rise from the dead.

Palm Sunday

THE START OF HOLY WEEK

May we recognize the presence of Christ this Palm Sunday in the small acts of kindness and generosity we share with others. Love is the most powerful force in the universe. May this Holy Week be a time of renewal, forgiveness, and unconditional love for you.
