Matthew 10:26-33

Today's readings emphasize God's strength and power throughout history, and even in our personal lives. In the face of the evildoers who wish to hinder the mission of the prophet Jeremiah, God brings strength to the just and the powerless, whose voices are heard through the prophet's denunciations. In the Gospel, Jesus assures his apostles that they need not fear, for no one can quench the power of the Spirit. The Father, who cares for the smallest of all creatures, cares deeply for each of them with strength and with love. In carrying out the apostolic mission, there may be many obstacles, but nothing can diminish the strength of the Holy Spirit. This is the message of the Church, proclaimed on a daily basis by Pope Francis, who proclaims the presence of God in the poor and the marginalized, denouncing the greed of the powerful on earth who seek only to satisfy their own needs above those of the needy throughout the world. Take the time to look over the petitions of the church community in light of the Scriptures, music selections, and the homilies of this week. Then, the word proclaimed can take root in its local context and find an authentic expression among its hearers.

Readings ~ 06/21/2026 XII Sunday in Ordinary Time

First Reading Jeremiah 20:10-13 Jeremiah found comfort and strength in the Lord though his friends sought to trap him and take vengeance on him. He praised God and entrusted his cause to the Lord.

Responsorial Psalm 69:8-10, 14, 17, 33-35

Second Reading

Romans 5:12-15 Paul the apostle believed death entered the world through sin, but life comes as a gracious gift from God through Jesus Christ.

Gospel Matthew 10:26-33 Jesus encouraged his apostles not to be intimidated or afraid because "Everyone who acknowledges me before others I will acknowledge before my heavenly Father." He comforted them, assuring that in God's eyes their worth exceeds a flock of sparrows. God knows them intimately and cares for them.

Readings ~ 06/28/2026 XIII Sunday in Ordinary Time

First Reading 2 Kings 4:8-11, 14-16a A woman of influence provided a room for Elisha. In gratitude, he promised the woman, who had no child, that within a year she would bear a baby boy.

Responsorial Psalm 89:2-3, 16-17, 18-19

Second Reading Romans 6:3-4, 8-11

As Jesus conquered sin through death and resurrection, so his faithful have died to sin and come alive in God through baptism.

Gospel Matthew 10:37-42 Jesus told his apostles that people who seek only themselves come to ruin. Those who deny themselves for his sake discover themselves. Those who welcome prophets receive great rewards; those who welcome holy persons welcome the Lord.
