Matthew 10:37-42

Which is easier to do, to give or to receive? The majority of our ministers of the Church, ordained and lay-people alike, have committed their lives and their time, lifting up their voices to proclaim and celebrate the good news of Jesus, the Lord. These dedicated ministers do not always receive due thanks from their communities for the help they rendered to others at some point during their ministry. Today's Scriptures show us that the way to receive God's love is by loving others, and in giving of ourselves through our ministry. In the first reading, the woman of Shunem, who had always shown hospitality to the prophet Elisha, is blessed with great news from the prophet: she, who was once sterile, will now bear a son. In the Gospel, Jesus preaches that those who receive his apostles are, in reality, receiving him. When we celebrate the Eucharist, Christ draws us closer to him, feeding and strengthening us. Saint Paul reminds us in the second reading that, through baptism, we have been born into Christ's death and resurrection. Throughout our lives, we continue to receive God in the Eucharist and in the Church (the people of God), both sources of life and love for us. We should be grateful for such gifts! In our conversations with our communities this week, we should share the ways in which we receive and express our gratitude.

Pope's Intention for June: For the values of sports

Let us pray that sports be an instrument of peace, encounter, and dialogue among cultures and nations, and that they promote values such as respect, solidarity, and personal growth.

Readings ~ 06/28/2026 XIII Sunday in Ordinary Time

First Reading 2 Kings 4:8-11, 14-16a A woman of influence provided a room for Elisha. In gratitude, he promised the woman, who had no child, that within a year she would bear a baby boy.

Responsorial Psalm 89:2-3, 16-17, 18-19

Second Reading Romans 6:3-4, 8-11

As Jesus conquered sin through death and resurrection, so his faithful have died to sin and come alive in God through baptism.

Gospel Matthew 10:37-42 Jesus told his apostles that people who seek only themselves come to ruin. Those who deny themselves for his sake discover themselves. Those who welcome prophets receive great rewards; those who welcome holy persons welcome the Lord.

Readings ~ 07/05/2026 XIV Sunday in Ordinary Time

First Reading Zechariah 9:9-10
The prophet foretold the coming of the savior and king who would proclaim peace to all the nations of the earth.

Responsorial Psalm 145:1-2, 8-9, 10-11, 13-14

Second Reading Romans 8:9, 11-13

Paul wrote that the Spirit of God lives in all who are Christ's. They should live not according to the flesh but in God's Spirit.

Gospel Matthew 11:25-30

Jesus invited the people, saying "Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest."
