♥ Counting is more fun with friends! ♥

Maya, Liam, Ava, and Noah loved playing together after school in the vibrant, sunlit neighborhood park.

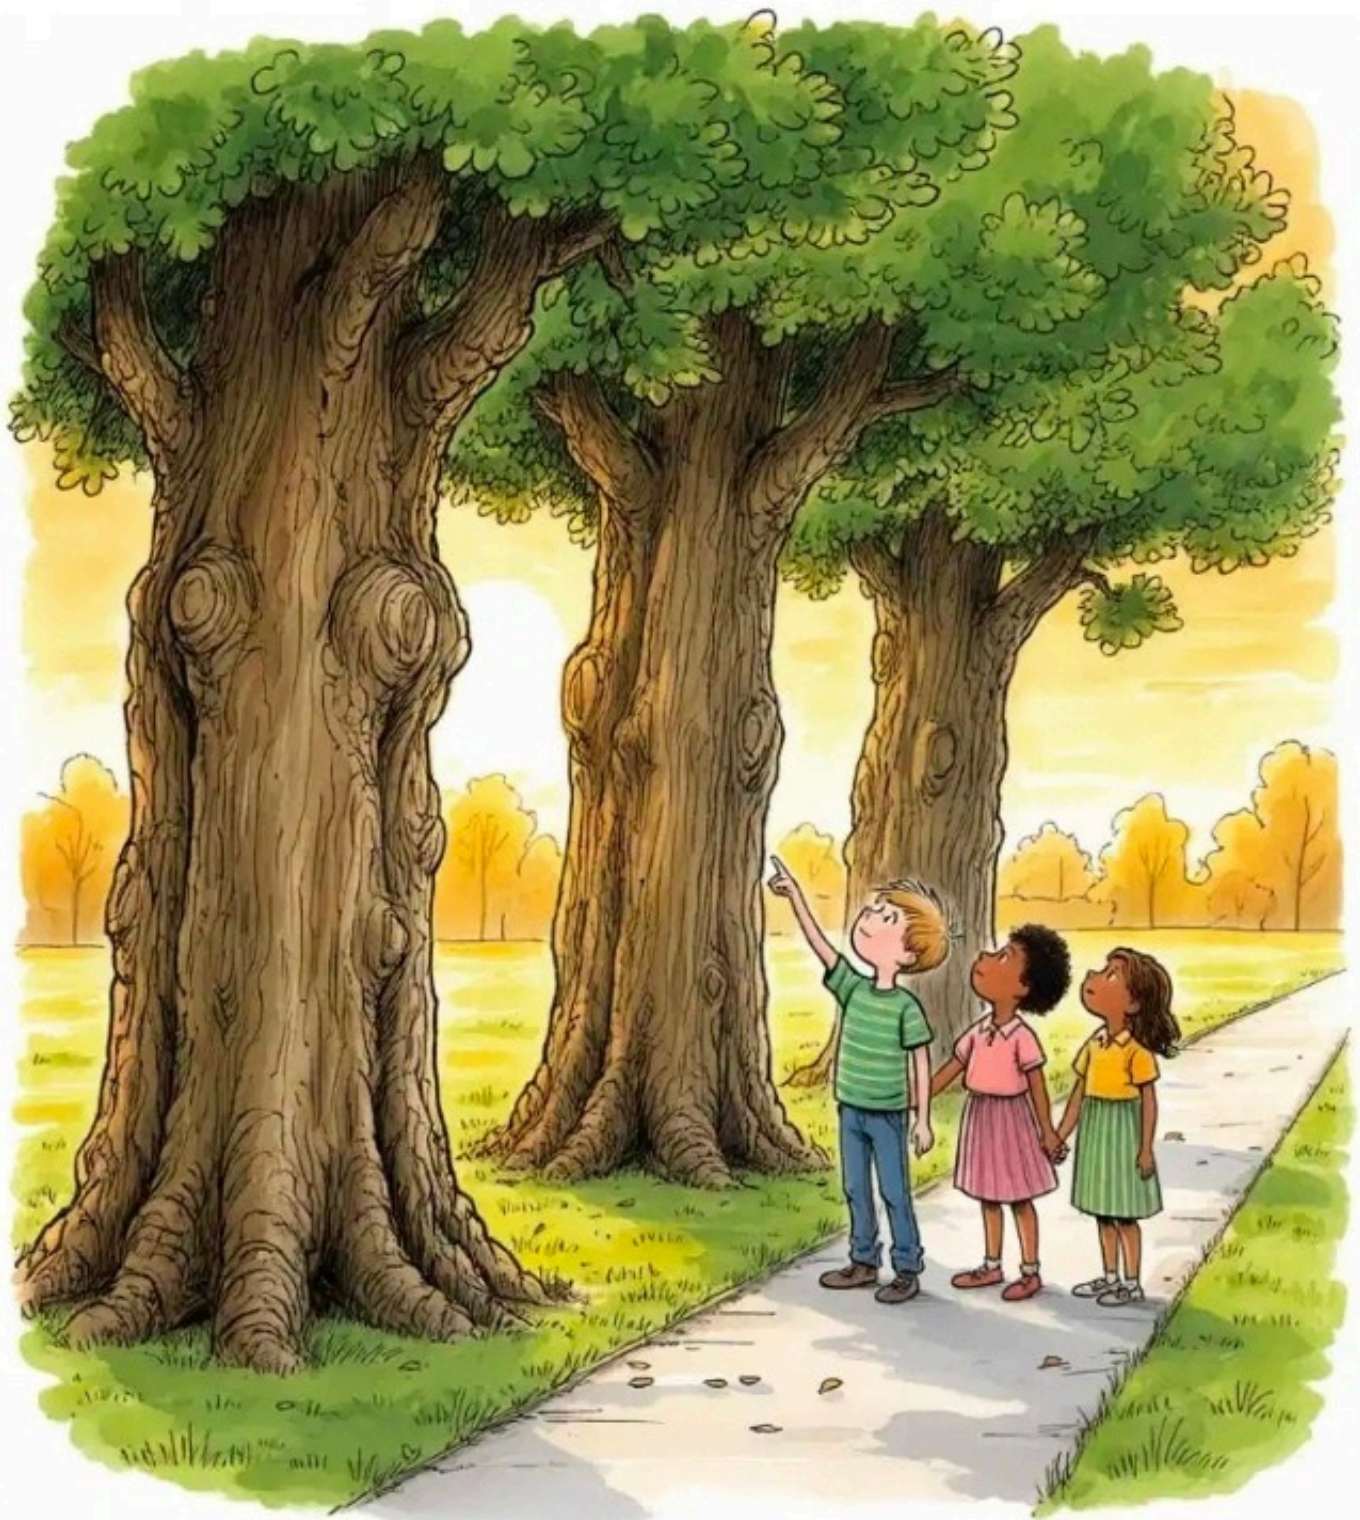

One sunny afternoon, Mrs. Green smiled and said,
'Today we're going on a counting adventure!'

Everyone cheered! 'Let's find one big, friendly puppy!' shouted Noah, pointing toward the sandbox.

'Look! Two beautiful butterflies on the blue flowers!' whispered Ava, holding her breath.

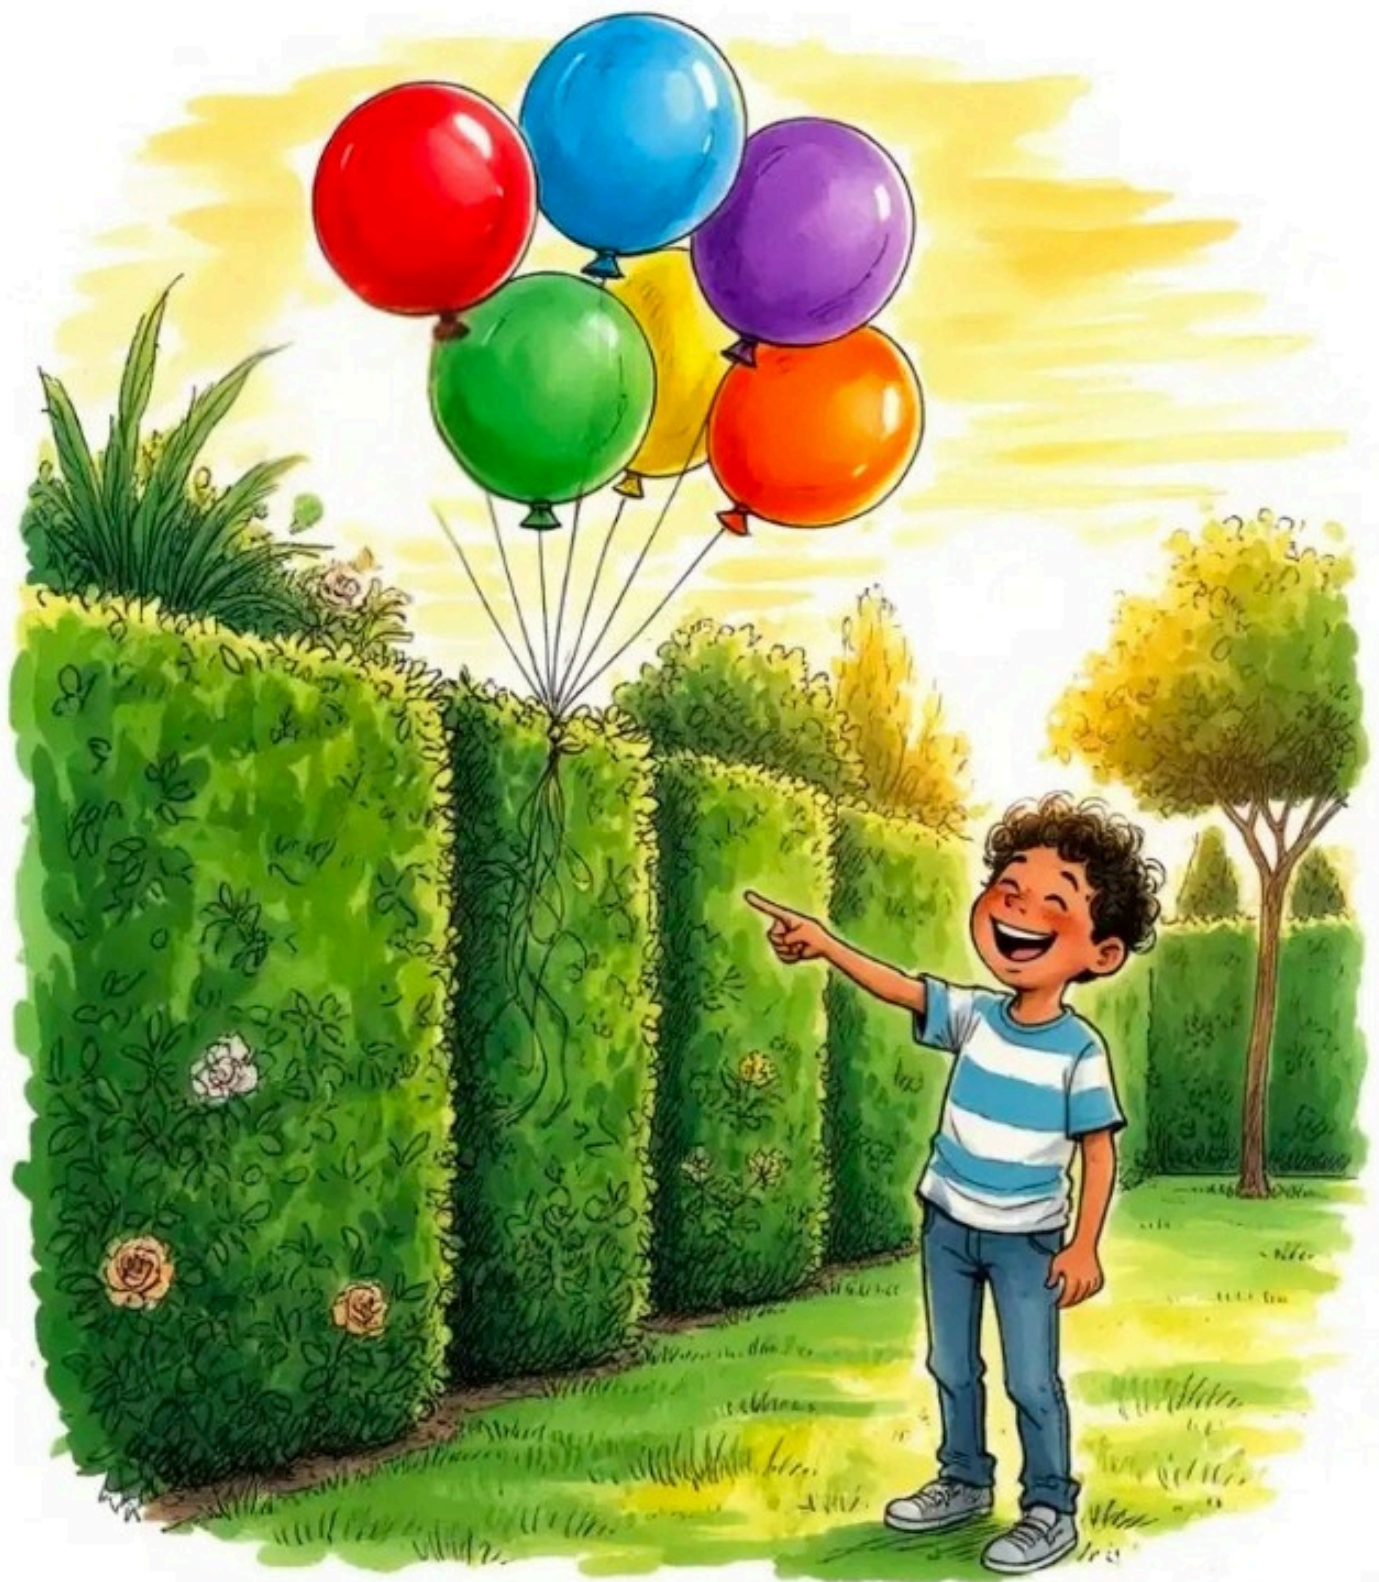

Liam counted, 'One, two, three tall oak trees standing in a row!' they all looked up.

'Four red apples fell from the tree!' cheered Maya, picking one up carefully.

In the pond, they saw five little yellow ducks swimming happily in a neat line.

'Six colorful balloons are caught in the hedge!' laughed Noah, pointing at the bright colors.

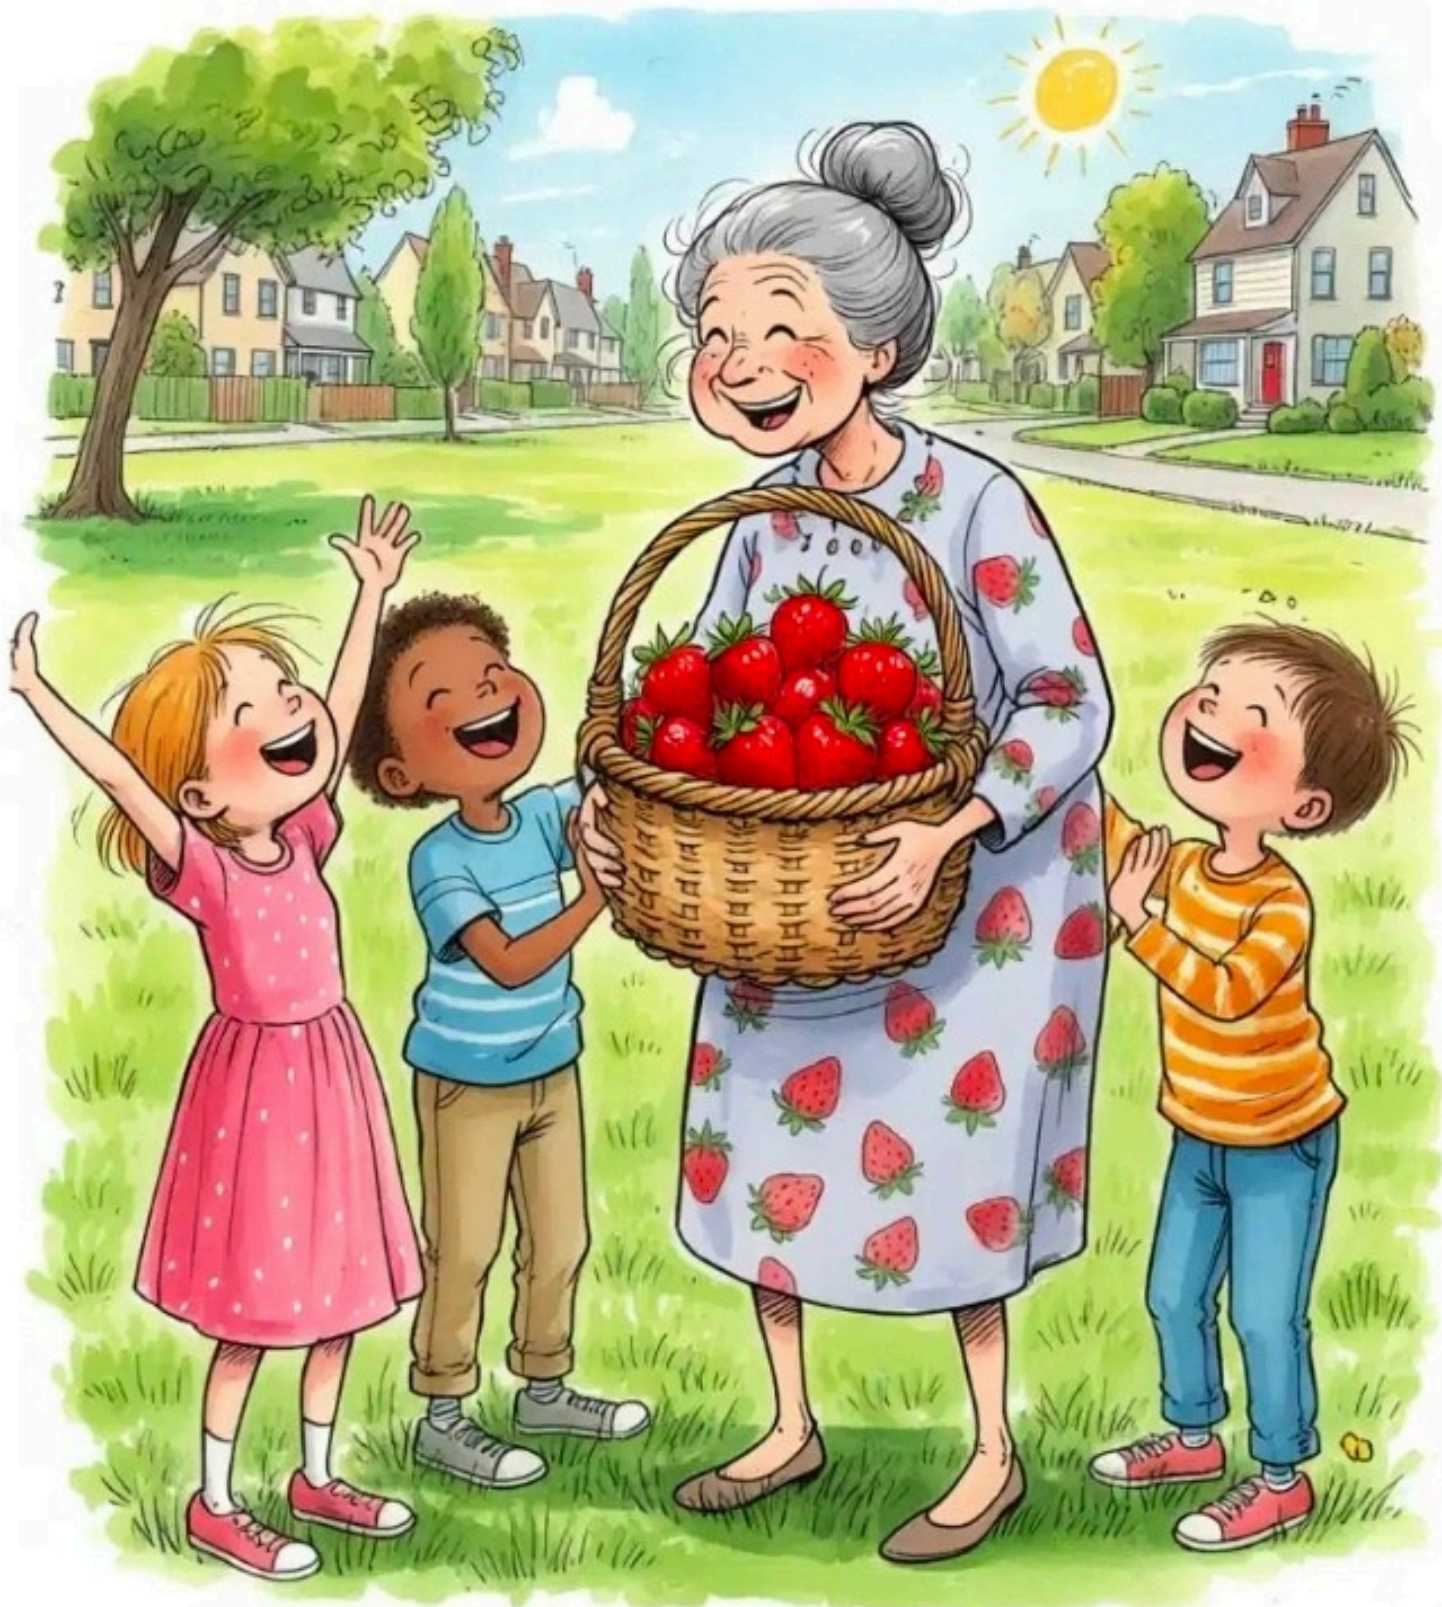

Ava found seven shiny round pebbles lined up on the wooden garden bench.

'Eight busy honeybees are buzzing around the yellow sunflowers!' Liam whispered in wonder.

Under a shady bush, they counted nine tiny, red ladybugs crawling on a big green leaf.

'Ten sweet strawberries!' cried Mrs. Green. 'A perfect treat for four amazing counters!'
