KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

knightsofcolumbus@stjude-redmond.org

Dear friends in Christ,

We can never overestimate the importance of Baptism to the Christian life. It is the way Christ first claims us as his beloved sons and daughters and pours forth his saving grace into us. This is why it is so important that we have our children baptized without delay, ideally in the first month or two after birth. We want the gift of Christ's divine life to dwell within them. We want them to grow up in the richness of the faith. On the Feast of the Baptism of the Lord, Pope Leo spoke powerfully on the importance of Baptism and its significance, as he celebrated Mass and baptized the children of employees of the Vatican. His short homily is well worth reading to deepen our appreciation of this sacrament at the heart of the Christian life:

Dear brothers and sisters,
When the Lord enters history, he comes with an open and humble heart to meet each person. He seeks our gaze with his own, full of love, and enters into dialogue with us, revealing the Word of salvation. By becoming man, the Son of God opens a surprising possibility for everyone, inaugurating a new and unexpected time – one that even the prophets had not fully foreseen.

John the Baptist immediately perceives this and asks Jesus: "I need to be baptized by you, and do you come to me?" (Mt 3:14). Like light in the darkness, the Lord is found where we do not expect him. He is the Holy One among sinners, choosing to dwell in our midst without keeping his distance. Indeed, he fully takes upon himself all that is human. "Let it be so now," Jesus replies to John, "for it is proper for us in this way to fulfil all righteousness" (v. 15). What righteousness is this? It is God's righteousness, which in the Baptism of Jesus brings about our justification. In his infinite mercy, the Father makes us righteous through his Christ, the one Savior of all. How does this happen? Jesus turns his baptism in the Jordan by John into a new sign of death and resurrection, of forgiveness and communion. This is the sacrament we celebrate today for these children: because God loves them, they become Christians – our brothers and sisters.

The children you now hold in your arms are transformed into new creatures. Just as they have received life from you, their parents, so now they receive the grace by which to live it: faith. When we know that something is essential, we immediately seek it for those we love. Indeed, who among us would leave newborn infants without clothing or nourishment, waiting until they are grown to choose how to dress and what to eat? Dear brothers and sisters, if food and clothing are necessary for life, faith is even more vital, because in God, life finds salvation.

God's providential love is made present on earth through you, the mothers and fathers who ask for faith for your children. Certainly, the day will come when they will be too heavy to carry in your arms; and the day will also come when they will be the ones to support you. May Baptism, which unites us in the one family of the Church, sanctify your families at every moment, granting strength and steadfastness to the love that binds you together.

The gestures we are about to perform are beautiful signs of this: the water of the font is the washing in the Spirit that cleanses from all sin; the white garment is the new robe that God the Father gives us for the eternal feast of his Kingdom; the candle lit from the Paschal candle is the light of the risen Christ, which illuminates our path. I wish for you to continue along this path with joy throughout the year that has just begun and for all of your lives, confident that the Lord will always accompany your steps.
POPE LEO

When we bless ourselves with Holy Water as we come into Church, let us recall our baptism, who we are in Christ, and who we are called to be.

Blessings on your week!
Fr Johnson

Feast of the Presentation of the Lord &

Blessing of the Candles
At 9AM Mass

When Jesus was presented in the temple, Simeon takes the child in his arms and proclaims that He is to be a "light to all the nations." This theme of "Christ the Light" makes February 2nd the day when the Church blesses candles and why this feast is also known as "candlemas." You are invited to bring any candles from home and we will have candles available for you as well: we will bless all these candles at the beginning of Mass.

MASS INTENTIONS

Mass Intentions Week of January 26 — January 30

Monday, January 26	Jose Acorda †
Wednesday, January 28	Daniela Dunajska
Thursday, January 29	Emilio †
Friday, January 30	Norman Sison †

As [Jesus] was walking by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon who is called Peter, and his brother Andrew, casting a net into the sea; they were fishermen. He said to them, “Come after me, and I will make you fishers of men.” — Mt 4:18-19

LIVE THE LITURGY INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Peter and Andrew, James and John — they were not expecting God that day. But there he was, right in front of them, beckoning. God stands before us today, and like the Apostles, we often don't see him coming. But still, he beckons. Will we follow?
