POPE LEO ON THE CHURCH

Dear friends in Christ,

This week, I offer to you some excerpts from Pope Leo's homily on the Feast of the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica. In it he offers some important reflections on the Church of which we are all a part:

This Basilica (St John Lateran), in fact, the "Mother of all Churches," is much more than a monument or a historical memorial. It is "a sign of the living Church, built with chosen and precious stones in Christ Jesus, the cornerstone (cf. 1 Pet 2:4-5)"...It is the ecclesial community, "the Church, the society of believers, [which] gives Saint John Lateran its most solid and striking external structure" (ibid.). Therefore, as we gaze upon this building, let us reflect on what it means to be Church in light of today's readings.

Firstly, let us consider its foundations. Their importance is obvious and, even somewhat unsettling. If the builders had not dug deep enough to find a solid base on which to construct the rest, the entire building would have collapsed long ago or would be at risk of doing so at any moment, which would put us in grave danger. Fortunately, however, those who came before us laid solid foundations for our Cathedral, digging deep with great effort before raising the walls that welcome us, and this makes us feel much more at ease.

This is a cause for reflection. As laborers in the living Church, we too must first dig deep within ourselves and around ourselves before we can build impressive structures. We must remove any unstable material that would prevent us from reaching the solid rock of Christ (cf. Mt 7:24-27). This is precisely what Saint Paul speaks about in the second reading when he says that "no one can lay any foundation other than the one that has been laid; that foundation is Jesus Christ" (1Cor 3:11). This means constantly returning to Jesus and his Gospel and being docile to the action of the Holy Spirit. Otherwise, we risk overloading a building with heavy structures whose foundations are too weak to support.

Dear brothers and sisters, as we diligently labor in the service of God's Kingdom, let us be neither hasty nor superficial. Let us dig deep, unhindered by worldly criteria, which too often demand immediate results and disregard the wisdom of waiting. The millennial history of the Church teaches us that with God's help, a true community of faith can only be built with humility and patience. Such a community is capable of spreading charity, promoting mission, proclaiming, celebrating and serving the Apostolic Magisterium of which this temple is the first seat (cf. Angelus, 9 November 1969).

The scene presented to us in today's Gospel (Lk 19:1-10) is particularly enlightening in this regard: Zacchaeus, a wealthy and powerful man, feels moved to meet Jesus. However, he realizes that he is too short to see him and so decides to climb a tree. This is an unusual and inappropriate gesture for someone of his rank who is accustomed to getting whatever he wants at the tax office as though it were his due. This time, however, the road is longer and climbing the branches means that Zacchaeus recognizes his own limitations and overcomes the inhibitions of his pride. In doing so, he is able to meet Jesus, who tells him, "I must stay at your house today" (v. 5). That encounter marks the beginning of a new life for Zacchaeus (cf. v. 8).

When Jesus calls us to take part in God's great project, he transforms us by skillfully shaping us according to his plans for salvation. In recent years, the image of a "construction site" has often been used to describe our ecclesial journey. It is a beautiful image that speaks of activity, creativity and dedication, as well as hard work and sometimes complex problems to be solved. It captures the concrete, tangible efforts of our communities as they grow every day, sharing their charisms under the guidance of their pastors...

The construction of the majestic building in which we find ourselves has had its share of critical moments, delays and changes to the original plans. Yet thanks to the tenacity of those who came before us, we can now gather in this wonderful place. In Rome, a great good is growing thanks to the efforts of many. After all, it is through charity in action that the face of our Church is shaped, making it ever clearer to all that she is a "mother," the "mother of all Churches," or even a "mom," as Saint John Paul II said when speaking to children on this very feast day (cf. Address for the Dedication of the Basilica of Saint John Lateran, 9 November 1986).
POPE LEO XIV

PLEASE MAKE YOUR STEWARDSHIP PLEDGE TODAY!

PARISH STEWARDSHIP OF TREASURE.

WE ARE CALLED TO SHARE OUR TREASURE WITH OTHERS.

Stewardship asks that we help each other recognize the gifts God has blessed us with and the ways in which we have been blessed through the gifts of others. And then return those gifts with increase to further the mission of our Church.

Everything we have is a gift from God and we're called to share these gifts with others. Stewardship is our response to God's generosity.

Stewardship starts in our parish. It challenges us to share our gifts beyond what we may have done in the past so we can grow, individually and collectively, as God desires. As you renew your gift of treasure, please consider taking a step in this journey of faith.

Please prayerfully reflect on your many blessings and return your pledge card today. Embracing stewardship allows us to experience profound joy in serving others that comes from developing, using and sharing our gifts.

MINISTRY NEWS: GIVING TREE

Our Giving trees are back once again as part of our St. Jude traditional Christmas gift to those in need. Tags will be on our trees in the Narthex beginning November 15 until December 7. Each tag will have information from one of the organizations participating and will let you know the gift they are requesting and when it needs to be returned to church. Please drop off all gift certificates at the office during office hours or place them in the mail slot on the office front door during off hours. Below you will find each of our participating organizations with a short explanation of each that we help.

Catholic Seafarer's Center (previously know as Catholic Seamen's Club): their mission is to be of service spiritually and socially to the men who sail the seas worldwide. They provide help and encouragement to those on board any ship that comes into the Port of Seattle. These men are far away from home and family for months, sometimes a year at a time.

Sacred Heart of Seattle/St. James Cathedral: Tag requests of gift certificates for Target that are given to needy families in the Seattle area. A gift certificate of $25 is given to singles, $50 to couples and $100 to families.

Echo Glen Children's Center: A juvenile treatment center for boys and girls from the ages 10-20. The organization is run by the State of Washington and these children have been placed at Echo Glen by the state. These children have come from abusive home lives.

Hopelink Food Bank: provides assistance to needy families in the Redmond area.

ST. Jude/St.Vincent DePaul: Each year parishioners from our church find it necessary to call the church office for financial assistance. Gift cards to various stores in our area help them with everyday needs of food and clothing and transportation.

King County Juvenile Detention Center: provides a variety of services for pre-adjudicated youth (children who are still going through the court process and awaiting sentencing) with the goal of helping them develop into contributing members of society. They provide much needed services to help our youth turn their lives around and make positive choices for themselves.

Mary's Place: a place for homeless women, children and families. They provide two meals a day, hygiene facilities, showers, laundry, medical care, support groups and ample resources for housing, employment, and benefits.

CCS – pregnancy and parenting support.

A St. Jude ministry that helps pregnant women who have little or no assistance with many of their needs during and after their pregnancy. They work with Catholic Community Services to help these women.

New Bethlehem Project: The New Bethlehem Project recognizes Christ's call to serve the poor by being a driving force to meet the urgent, unmet need for a year-round day center for families who are experiencing homelessness on the Eastside.

St. Jude Safe Parking: $25 Gift cards are requested to be used at Fred Meyer, QFC, Target and Gas for those using the St. Jude Parking as a safe place to stay.

St. Jude Adopted families: These gift cards will help 2 families we have adopted. One family recently arrived from Ukraine. A single mom has taken in her sister's two young children after her sister passed away this year, giving them 5 children ages 2, 3, 4, 5 and 15.

Holy Innocents Food Bank: They provide assistance for families in need in their area.

The parishioners of St. Jude have always opened their hearts to those in need. When making your Christmas gift giving lists this year, please try to include room for our "Giving Tree" recipients. A heartfelt Thank you and God Bless!

DITTY BAGS NEEDED!

Once again, we have been asked by the Catholic Seafarers Center (formerly known as the Catholic Seamen's Club) to include ditty bags with our gifts that we donate to them with our Christmas Giving Tree Project. The ditty bags can be constructed of almost any material (pattern or plain) that when hemmed are approximately 12"x14" in size with a drawstring close. They need to be completed by December 7. Any number of bags that you would be able to sew are appreciated. Please leave them at the Church office or under the Christmas Giving Trees that will be in the Narthex beginning November 15.

If you have any questions, please contact

Help display Nativity Sets

We will be putting up our annual Nativity Display on Sunday, December 7 after the 11AM Mass. If you can help out this year, we would really appreciate it. This is a wonderful annual tradition here at St. Jude that was started by former pastor, Father Dave Rogerson who had collected over 1,400 nativities from around the world. Upon his assignment to a new parish, he gifted our parish with around 700 sets and we display a different 1/3 of the set each year. This tradition continues through the support from Fr Johnson and parish staff. It is so enjoyable to open each box or unwrap each piece and be surprised with the uniqueness of each set. Please Note:

QUALIFIED CHARITABLE DISTRIBUTION (QCD)

A QCD is a direct transfer of funds from your IRA custodian, payable to a qualified charity. A QCD excludes the amount donated from taxable income, which is unlike regular withdrawals from an IRA. QCDs don't require that you itemize, which due to recent tax law changes, means you may decide to take advantage of the higher standard deduction but still use a QCD for charitable giving.

IRA

By utilizing an IRA for charitable giving, you can satisfy your required minimum distribution (RMD) obligations starting at age 73, while also supporting a cause you care about. The donated amount is excluded from your taxable income, which can provide a tax advantage, especially if you do not itemize deductions.

DONOR-ADVISED FUNDS (DAF)

A DAF is like a charitable investment account for the sole purpose of supporting charitable organizations. When you contribute cash, securities or other assets to a donor advised fund, you are generally eligible to take an immediate tax deduction. Funds are disbursed at your discretion.

Remember us in your will or trust.
