KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

knightsofcolumbus@stjude-redmond.org

Dear friends in Christ,

We have seen violence perpetrated against people of faith in recent weeks and years: the shooting of children at Mass just a few weeks ago, the shooting of Charlie Kirk on a university campus a week ago, and the martyrdom of many Christians killed in hatred of faith in Syria in the past few months, as well as many other senseless acts of violence. In light of all of this violence, I think it is important that we reflect on how Christ calls us to respond to such evil. It seems to me there are at least three ways the Lord calls us to respond:

1. To love our enemies and pray for those who persecute us.
2. To forgive as Christ has forgiven us.
3. To continue to be courageous in speaking the truth, even when it is rejected, even when hated for it.

Last Sunday, the Church celebrated the Feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross. On this occasion, Pope Leo called together an ecumenical gathering of Christian church leaders to reflect and remember martyrs for the faith in this century. Here are some excerpts from the Homily Pope Leo gave on that occasion. They are well worth pondering:

“May I never boast of anything except the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ” (Gal 6:14). These words of Saint Paul the Apostle, at whose tomb we are gathered, serve as an introduction to the commemoration of the martyrs and witnesses of the faith in the 21st century, on the feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross... we stand at the foot of the cross of Christ, the means of our salvation, also described as the “hope of Christians” and the “glory of martyrs” (cf. Vespers of the Byzantine Liturgy for the Feast of the Exaltation of the Cross).

We are convinced that martyria unto death is “the truest communion possible with Christ who shed his Blood, and by that sacrifice brings near those who once were far off (cf. Eph 2:13)”. Today too, we can affirm with John Paul II that, where hatred seemed to have permeated every aspect of life, these courageous servants of the Gospel and martyrs of the faith clearly demonstrated that “love is stronger than death”

We remember our brothers and sisters as we fix our gaze on the Crucified One. Through his cross, Jesus revealed to us the true face of God, his infinite compassion for humanity; he took upon himself the hatred and violence of the world, to share the lot of all those who are humiliated and oppressed: “He has borne our infirmities and carried our diseases” (Is 53:4). Many brothers and sisters, even today, carry the same cross as our Lord on account of their witness to the faith in difficult situations and hostile contexts: like him, they are persecuted, condemned and killed. It is of them that Jesus says: “Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness’ sake, for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven. Blessed are you when people revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account” (Mt 5:10-11). They are women and men, religious, lay people and priests, who pay with their lives for their fidelity to the Gospel, their commitment to justice, their battle for religious freedom where it is still being violated, and their solidarity with the most disadvantaged. According to the world’s standards, they have been “defeated.” In truth, as the Book of Wisdom tells us: “though in the sight of others they were punished, their hope is full of immortality” (Wis 3:4).

Brothers and sisters, during this Jubilee Year, we celebrate the hope of these courageous witnesses of the faith. It is a hope filled with immortality because their martyrdom continues to spread the Gospel in a world marked by hatred, violence and war; it is a hope filled with immortality because, even though they have been killed in body, no one can silence their voice or erase the love they have shown; it is a hope filled with immortality because their witness lives on as a prophecy of the victory of good over evil. Yes, theirs is an unarmed hope. They bore witness to their faith without ever using the weapons of force and violence, but rather by embracing the hidden and meek power of the Gospel, in keeping with the words of the Apostle Paul: “I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may dwell in me. [...] For whenever I am weak, then I am strong” (2 Cor 12:9-10).

My thoughts turn to the evangelical fortitude of Sister Dorothy Stang, committed to the landless in the Amazon: when those who were about to kill her asked her for a weapon, she showed them her Bible and replied, “This is my only weapon.” I remember Father Ragheed Ganni, a Chaldean priest from Mosul in Iraq, who refused to fight in order to bear witness to how a true Christian behaves. I think also of Brother Francis Tofi, an Anglican and member of the Melanesian Brotherhood, who gave his life for peace in the Solomon Islands. There are many such examples because, unfortunately, despite the end of the great dictatorships of the twentieth century, to this day the persecution of Christians has not ended; on the contrary, in some parts of the world it has increased.

Dear brothers and sisters, we cannot and do not want to forget. We want to remember. We do so, certain that, just as in the first centuries, so too in the third millennium, the blood of the martyrs is the seed of new Christians (cf. Tertullian,) We want to keep this memory alive alongside our brothers and sisters of other Churches and Christian Communities... the ecumenism of blood unites “Christians of different backgrounds who together give their lives for faith in Jesus Christ. The witness of their martyrdom is more eloquent than any word: unity comes from the Cross of the Lord” (XVI Synodal Assembly, Final Document, n. 23). May the blood of so many witnesses hasten the arrival of the blessed day when we will drink from the same cup of salvation!...
POPE LEO XIV

May the holy martyrs intercede for us and our Church!

Fr Johnson

SEPT 28 IS PRIESTHOOD SUNDAY

PRIESTHOOD SUNDAY

Next Sunday is Priesthood Sunday!

The last Sunday in September (September 28 this year) is a special day set aside to honor priesthood in the United States. It is a day to reflect upon and affirm the role of the priest as central to the life of the Church. The lay faithful are encouraged to honor and pray for their parish priests and for all in the vocation of priesthood.

"I invite you to pray for priests, so that through your prayer the Lord might strengthen their vocation, comfort them in their ministry, and help them always be joyful ministers of the Gospel for all people." - Pope Francis

Ministry of Catholic Cemeteries

Peace of Mind When You Need It Most!

Representatives from Associated Catholic Cemeteries will visit our parish soon to share information about the many choices and benefits of pre-planning at your Catholic Cemetery. Planning long before there is an urgent need ensures arrangements in harmony with your faith and avoids the pressure of having to make these decisions while grieving. The Church teaches us that the custom of burying the bodies of the dead should be observed, even for those who choose cremation. Please call or email with any questions you may have about pre-planning in a Catholic Cemetery (206)366-8834 parish@MyCatholicCemetery.org

JOIN THE ST JUDE CHOIRS

The Sanctuary and Gospel choirs have started up, but you can still answer the call to come join our choirs.

Joining the choir can be a very rewarding experience. It creates a social group within the church, it aids in our worship, it is praying twice, and it is a great way to participate in our liturgy. Singing in a choir releases endorphins and dopamine that alleviate pain and increase pleasure in our lives. In short it melts stress. You may have been told by someone that you cannot sing or that you are tone deaf. This is absolutely false. I was once told that myself, now I direct the choir and teach choir at the middle school. You do not need to know how to read music, we have a wonderful set of choir members that will help you along the way, and we will have a lot of fun. Please consider joining the choir. We could use your voice in our praise of God! -Ryan B.

MINISTRY NEWS

Some St. Vincent de Paul Stories—by a St. Jude St. Vincent Volunteer

I joined St Vincent de Paul 10 years ago because of the way that SVdP handles helping people. It was so different from what I had seen in any other organization before. We visit the people we help in person. What a difference that makes! Not just for the people we see but for ourselves. We meet face to face with the neighbor we're serving. We see their stress, worries and tears, and can comfort them and tell them they are not alone. That God has heard their prayers, which is such a blessing and a relief. We are forever changed every time we have the privilege to visit a neighbor.

Our local conference, even though it is small, makes a huge difference in the lives of so many people who just need some support or money to be able to pay their rent and stay in their apartment or pay for their utilities to have electricity and hot water for their kids. The donations you make are the difference between a single mom, with kids, getting to have a roof over their head or being evicted and having to live in a shelter or in their car. These are some of the cases we worked on made possible by your contributions.

A single mom with a 7-year-old son who couldn't cover the rent because she works in a company's food service where employees don't come to the office over the holidays. This means she doesn't get paid but still has a rent bill to pay. She tried to save as much as she could to cover those months when she didn't make as much, but she was short on the rent and needed to buy time until she got paid again. She was late and received an eviction notice. She was so worried about not knowing if she would make it and if she and her son would be evicted. But we were able to help her cover the past due rent and the family stayed in their apartment.

A young 26-year-old woman who was laid off and then couldn't cover her rent. She became very depressed and stuck. During our visit we gave her a lot of resources she could investigate to get a job, go to a food bank, and get all types of help. By the end of our time together, she was so happy because we listened and provided some hope. She had felt so alone before we met her, but afterwards she felt so much better. She had no idea these resources existed and was grateful for having someone to talk to as she had not spoken to anybody for weeks.

A mom with two kids worked two jobs but lost one of them. Her second job was as a caregiver. The person she was serving was elderly and passed away, so she lost that job. She needed temporary help until she received her paycheck from a new job selling insurance. Our rent help meant the difference between staying in her apartment and being evicted. Both she and her son talked to us, and they felt seen and heard.

What a blessing this ministry is, and I want you to know that your monetary help and prayers are making a difference in this world. The people we help say they will pass along the kindness and help others. Thank you for being on this journey with us.

QUALIFIED CHARITABLE DISTRIBUTION

A qualified charitable distribution (QCD) is a direct transfer of funds from your IRA custodian, payable to a qualified charity. A QCD excludes the amount donated from taxable income, which is unlike regular withdrawals from an IRA. QCDs don't require that you itemize, which due to recent tax law changes, means you may decide to take advantage of the higher standard deduction but still use a QCD for charitable giving.

ONLINE GIVING: To donate, scan the QR Code or visit our website at www.stjude-redmond.org

IRA DISTRIBUTIONS (RMD)

By utilizing an IRA for charitable giving, you can satisfy your required minimum distribution (RMD) obligations starting at age 73, while also supporting a cause you care about. The donated amount is excluded from your taxable income, which can provide a tax advantage, especially if you do not itemize deductions.

DONOR ADVISED FUNDS

A charitable investment account for the sole purpose of supporting charitable organizations.
