THE ASCENSION OF THE LORD IS CELEBRATED THIS SUNDAY!

Dear friends in Christ,

This weekend, we observe the Solemnity of the Ascension of the Lord. This event happened the 40th Day after the Resurrection and in many places is still observed on that day: Ascension Thursday but in most places in the United States, it is now observed on the following Sunday. In 2018, Pope Francis offered these reflections on this great feast to ponder:

This Solemnity embraces two elements. On the one hand it directs our gaze toward heaven, where the glorified Jesus is seated at the right hand of God (cf. Mk 16:19). On the other, it reminds us of the mission of the Church: why? Because Jesus, Risen and Ascended into heaven, sends his disciples to spread the Gospel throughout the world. Therefore, the Ascension exhorts us to lift our gaze toward heaven, in order to return it immediately to the earth, to implement the tasks that the Risen Lord entrusts to us. It is what we are invited to do in the day's Gospel passage, in which the event of the Ascension occurs immediately after the mission that Jesus entrusts to the disciples. It is a boundless mission — that is, literally without boundaries — which surpasses human strength. Jesus says, in fact: "Go into all the world and preach the Gospel to the whole creation" (Mk 16:15). The task which Jesus entrusts to a small group of common men lacking great intellectual capacity seems truly too bold! Yet this small company, insignificant compared to the great powers of the world, is sent to bring the message of Jesus' love and mercy to every corner of the earth.

But this plan of God can be accomplished only with the strength that God himself grants to the Apostles. In this sense, Jesus assures them that their mission will be supported by the Holy Spirit. And he says this: "you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and to the end of the earth" (Acts 1:8). This is how this mission was able to be accomplished, and the Apostles began this work which was then continued by their successors. The mission that Jesus entrusted to the Apostles has continued through the centuries, and continues still today: it requires the cooperation of all of us. Each one, in fact, by the power of the Baptism that he or she received, is qualified in turn to proclaim the Gospel. Baptism is precisely what qualifies us and also spurs us to be missionaries, to proclaim the Gospel.

The Lord's Ascension into heaven, while inaugurating a new form of Jesus' presence among us, calls us to keep eyes and hearts open to encounter him, to serve him and bear witness to him to others. It is a matter of being men and women of the Ascension, that is, those who seek Christ along the paths of our time, bringing his word of salvation to the ends of the earth. On this journey we encounter Christ himself in our brothers and sisters, especially in the poorest, in those who suffer in their very flesh the harsh and humiliating experience of old and new forms of poverty. As at the beginning the Risen Christ sent his Apostles with the power of the Holy Spirit, so too does he send all of us today, with the same power, so as to establish concrete and visible signs of hope. Because Jesus gives us hope. He went to heaven and opened the gates of heaven and the hope that we will reach it. POPE FRANCIS

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR FIRST COMMUNICANTS AT ST JUDE

This weekend at St Jude, we rejoice as children receive the Body and Blood of the Lord for the first time. Congratulations to our first communicants, their families, and all those who helped prepare them for this day! First Holy Communion is a very special time not only for the first communicants and their families but also for the whole Church and especially our parish. The specialness of this day reminds us of how important this holy food, the bread of life, is for us as Christians. May the wonder, awe, and joy of these First Communicants renew us in our love for this sacrament and give us new fervor in giving thanks and praise to God. We look forward to Corpus Christi, later this spring, when children from Holy Innocents and St. Anthony will celebrate their First Communion and receive this wondrous gift of the Lord's real presence.

THANK YOU TO ALL WHO HAVE MADE THEIR ANNUAL CATHOLIC APPEAL PLEDGES!

Many thanks to all who have returned their ACA pledge card or made a pledge on-line. Your generosity is amazing! If you haven't made a pledge already, we still need everybody's help to meet our goal. You can make your pledge at:

www.archseattle.org/giveaca

Your gift will go a long way toward passing on the Gospel in Western Washington.

Thank you!

Blessings on your week!

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION

THE ASCENSION OF THE LORD ACTS 1:1-11; PS 47:2-3, 6-9; EPH 1:17-23; MT 28:16-20

Today we celebrate the great feast of the Ascension of our Lord — that moment when Jesus, 40 days after His Resurrection, was lifted up into heaven as the apostles watched in stunned amazement. It is recounted in both our first reading from Acts and our Gospel from Matthew. It must have been an extraordinary thing to witness. Yet the first reading makes clear that the apostles were not meant to remain there, simply gazing upward. “Men of Galilee, why are you standing there looking at the sky?” In other words — do not just stand there. Do something. This is a message for us as Christian stewards. We have been given countless graces — through the Mass and the sacraments, through the Word of God, and through the many gifts and blessings entrusted to us in daily life.

We have been given our time, our talents, our material resources, and the opportunities God places before us each day. Like the apostles, we are not meant to simply receive these gifts and remain unchanged. We are called to put them into action in love and gratitude to the One Who gave them to us. The Ascension, then, is not an ending, but a commissioning. Before returning to the Father, Jesus entrusts His mission to His disciples. “Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations.” This call is not reserved for a select few — it is given to every Christian. In our homes, our parish communities, our workplaces, and our daily encounters, we are called to be witnesses to Christ. We do this not only through words, but through the witness of a life lived with faith, generosity, and love — offering our time, talent, and treasure in service to God and to others.

Our second reading reminds us of the greatness of the God we serve. St. Paul speaks of “the surpassing greatness of His power” — the same power that raised Christ from the dead and placed Him above all things. This is the God Who calls us to this mission. And He does not ask us to rely on our own strength alone. Stewardship is not simply about what we can accomplish — it is about cooperating with God’s grace at work within us. Still, like the apostles, we may hesitate. We may feel uncertain, inadequate, or hesitant to respond fully. The Gospel tells us that when they saw Him, “they worshiped, but they doubted.” Even in their weakness, the Lord did not withdraw His call. Instead, He reassured them: “All power in heaven and on earth has been given to me.” Their mission — and ours — rests not on human strength, but on His authority.

Then He gave them their mission — and ours. And He gave them a promise: “I am with you always, until the end of the age.” The One Who sends us also remains with us — strengthening us through His presence, His Word, and His grace. On this feast of the Ascension, let us take time to “look up” and reflect on the greatness of our God and the many blessings He has entrusted to us. Then let us respond as good stewards — not by standing still, but by putting those gifts to work in grateful service to Him, confident that He is with us always.
