
Our internal audit
manifesto

Who are we?

ThinkingAudit specialises in working with internal auditors and audit committees.

We're passionate about assisting you to build stronger, more resilient organisations by:

- maximising the impact of internal audit
- and helping audit committees get the most out of your risk and assurance activities

Our mission

We believe that internal audit should be practical, efficient, and thought-provoking.

Our mission is to help teams like yours create an approach that makes a difference and adds value to your organisation.

We can help

Are you tired of your internal audit team over-engineering audits?

Are audits taking too long to deliver or lacking impact?

We help refresh your methodology, reflecting best practices and internal auditing standards.

Our supportive approach provides an experienced sounding board. We work with your team to ensure engagement, resulting in more effective audits.

Our services

We help internal audit teams refresh their methodology, ensuring it aligns with auditing standards and incorporates best practices to bring insight and impact to your organisation.

Our supportive approach provides a sounding board for your team to engage with, ensuring they're fully invested in the process. Our service is tailored to each client, but could include:

- refresh of internal audit methodology
- gap analysis against internal auditing standards
- advice or a sounding board when you are considering change
- focused training for the team

What to expect

We understand that each organisation is unique, and so is each internal audit function. That's why our services are tailored to meet your specific needs.

When you work with us, you can expect us to:

- spend time understanding your team and the business
- collaborate closely with your team
- provide honest and constructive feedback
- share best practices and ideas
- help you interpret internal auditing standards
