MISSIONS

November was full of language learning for our team. Here's a short story from Sarah that gave us a glimpse into Murkim culture.

While using candies and photos to practice simple instructions, Sarah's language helper carefully told her to move candies from one woman to another. After several thoughtful pauses, she smiled proudly and said, "Mesain swain." Unsure of its meaning, Sarah later learned it meant, "It's good. Perfect." Her helper had evened out the candies so that everyone had the same amount—a beautiful picture of Murkim's deeply rooted value of sharing.

In Murkim culture, if someone has something, everyone does. It's a reminder of the unique beauty God has woven into every people group.

Please pray for Matthew as he studies the Bible and shares the gospel with several Murkim men. Pray that God would open their hearts to receive the truth.

SERMON NOTES

This image shows a full page of white paper with ten horizontal dashed gray lines, typical of primary school handwriting practice paper. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the entire width of the page. There is no text or other markings on the paper.
