

Walter Pinnix Wiley: A Life of Service and Dedication

Early Life and Education

Walter Pinnix Wiley was born on October 25 as the third child in a family of nine. His parents, Dorsey and Mattie Wiley, raised him in Yanceyville, North Carolina, where he spent his formative years. Walter pursued higher education at A&T University in Greensboro, North Carolina, completing two years of study before making a significant decision to serve his country. He enlisted in the United States Coast Guard and specialized as a radio operator, mastering Morse code during his service. Upon his honorable discharge, Walter continued his educational journey at Rockingham Community College. He later embarked on a long and successful career with Norfolk Southern Railroad, culminating in his retirement from the company.

Passion for Nature and Horticulture

Walter has always appreciated the beauty of the outdoors. He finds joy in gardening, particularly in growing vegetables, plants, and flowers. His deep interest in horticulture led him to study the subject further, taking courses at Virginia Western Community College to enhance his knowledge and skills.

Commitment to Faith and Community Service

In the late 1970s, Walter became a member of Deliverance Church of Christ, now known as Kingdom Life Ministries, after being welcomed by members of the congregation. Since dedicating his life to Christ, Walter has served faithfully and taken on numerous responsibilities within the church. His dedication is evident in his roles as Adult Sunday School Teacher, Sunday School Superintendent, prayer leader, head of the men's ministry, outside maintenance leader, and caretaker of the church's community garden and rental properties. Walter also played a key role in constructing the church's neighborhood playground and was eventually appointed as an elder, later being ordained as a pastor.

Leadership and Outreach

Walter has represented Kingdom Life Ministries on various committees and boards. His commitment to outreach has taken him to Africa several times, where he supported Kingdom Life Ministries and Kimoyo Missions.

Family and Personal Devotion

Walter is married to Brenda Divers Wiley, who also serves as an elder at Kingdom Life Ministries. Together, they have one son, Walter II, and a daughter-in-law, Sydney. Walter's devotion to God remains steadfast, and he continues to be passionate about his faith and service to the church and community.
