Bună ziua prietenii mei! Or, hello my friends!

I am very excited to send out this update. The Lord has been so good to us over the last two months, and the opportunities to serve Him have been plentiful.

Our first summer in Romania has officially come to an end, and with the beginning of September, fall is starting to arrive here. We definitely had a great summer, but as a family accustomed to air conditioning, it was a bit of an adjustment not having it during the summer months! The little things we sometimes take for granted, like having A/C, are just little reminders of the life with left behind. Yet those minor inconveniences are well worth it when we have the privilege of serving the King of Kings.

I know in my last letter I mentioned that we would be helping at camp for two weeks, but we ended up helping with three different camps. One in July and two in August. Getting to work in camp was such a blessing. Not only did we see many children and teenagers make decisions to serve the Lord with their lives, but over the three camps, I would estimate that 10-15 young people accepted Christ as their Savior! What a rich reward it was to see so many come to Christ. Please pray that these young people will return home, find a good church where they can be discipled, and continue to grow in their walk with the Lord.

We especially appreciated that our boys were able to spend so much time with other children at camp. They have done a great job adjusting to life here, but one of the things they all mention is that they miss their friends. They really enjoyed making new friends at camp. Even though there was a language barrier, it amazes me how little that seems to matter to children. They simply play together and have a good time!

Please keep our boys in your prayers. They are just as much a part of this ministry as Emily and I are. One thing I have really appreciated is the heart for souls that all of our children seem to have. They will often talk to others about Jesus Christ, ask people if they are saved, pray for people we meet around town, and genuinely show concern for the eternal destiny of others. We are thankful to see the Lord already working in their hearts.

Another blessing for Emily and me at camp was all the extra practice we received in the Romanian language. Even though many of the campers spoke some English, we tried our best to communicate in Romanian. When you are learning a new language, you have to be willing to humble yourself and just laugh! When you are speaking to a group of young people and they all suddenly start laughing at something you said, a whole bunch of emotions can flood over you! We are thankful, though, that everyone was so kind, helpful, and patient with us as we tried to communicate. Please continue to pray for our growth in the Romanian language. We know that being able to communicate clearly is so important as we seek to minister to the people here.

I also want to ask that you would please pray for me. As many of you know, I had brain surgery several years ago to correct a medical issue I was born with. One of the lasting effects of the surgery has been tightness and pain in my neck. Over the last few months, that pain has become very intense and, at times, downright unbearable.

Please pray that the Lord would give me relief from the pain and wisdom as I determine how best to deal with it. More than anything, pray that I would continue to trust the Lord and serve Him faithfully even when things are difficult physically.

As I close this letter, I want to thank you for your continued prayers, love, and support. Those of you who have reached out to check on us have been such an encouragement. We truly could not do this work without you.

Thank you for standing with our family and praying for us as we continue to serve the Lord here in Romania!
