

Your Story Starts Here
at The Barn at Hickory Hills

Welcome

The Barn at Hickory Hills offers charming elegance in beautiful and peaceful surroundings. The property, consisting of 25 acres, is located on the outskirts of Cleveland, Tennessee. It offers brides and grooms serene and tranquil surroundings on one of the most defining days of their lives, their wedding day. The venue, renovated solely for the purpose of hosting and celebrating beautiful weddings, perfectly blends vintage charm with a unique and warm design. It is the desire of the owners, Todd and Joan, to create a stress-free wedding experience by offering many services and amenities. With four distinct ceremony locations along with lush rolling hills, wide open fields, and panoramic views, a wedding held on the property will provide a treasured experience for brides and grooms to remember for years to come.

The Enchanted Forest

This ceremony site begins down a softly lit pathway through overhanging shade trees and leads to a set of freestanding barn doors. Once you open and pass through the doors, there are wooden benches for your guests to sit while they witness wedding vows being exchanged. The Enchanted Forest has strands of soft accent lighting and gently landscaped pathways. Many guests have compared this area to the wedding scene from the Twilight movie series.

The Open-Air Chapel

The open-air chapel site is to the north of the venue and allows for the entire wedding party to be clearly seen by their friends and loved ones. Decorative arch windows are hung on the covered stage to give this area a traditional chapel feel creating a timeless charm with many trees serving as a beautiful natural backdrop. As guests are seated in white garden party folding chairs with padded seats under strands of romantic lights, the chapel/stage and concrete patio area may be quickly transformed to a dance floor within minutes of the ceremony.

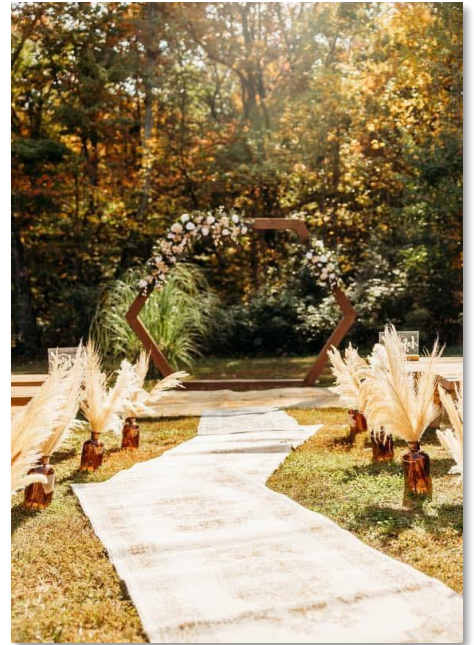

The Fireplace Pavilion

The outdoor stacked stone fireplace provides the perfect background for this site with the tree line and water feature being a part of the surrounding area. The pavilion will hold 150 guests while still providing the bride and her wedding party a generous aisle way. Should the weather become an unexpected challenge on the wedding day, the pavilion (along with white drum doors) provides the extra assurance the wedding party and guests will stay dry during the ceremony...rain or shine! This area may also be used as a dance floor. To the right of the fireplace is a water feature that makes a great backdrop for photos.

The Bohemian Garden

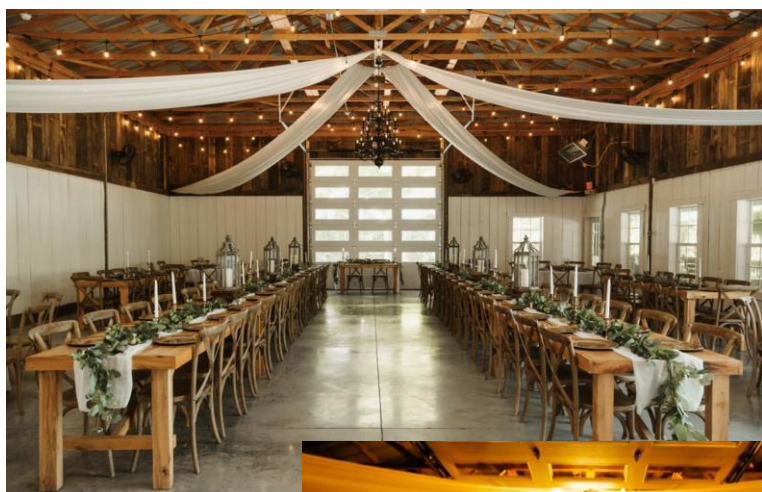

This site is located on the south lawn of the venue and is designed for those brides who want to combine a more relaxed and carefree outdoor atmosphere with their creative and free-spirited style. Guests and wedding party will walk through a set of free-standing doors with macramé hangings to get to this site with permanent bench seating. Various rugs are available allowing the wedding party to walk barefoot down the aisle to stand before a permanent arbor flanked on both sides by natural pampas grass.

The Main Hall

With seating for 150 guests, the reception area features a mixture of white and gray weathered wood walls, glass panel doors, and drapery with chandeliers and bistro lights illuminating the interior. The simpleness of the design allows the space to be decorated in any theme a couple desires whether it be traditional, boho, woodland, industrial, or modern posh. The glass panel doors (a total of 3) may be opened to bring the outdoors into the main hall and allow easy access to the many outdoor features of the venue. The porch and patio areas offer a delightful outdoor experience for every wedding! Perfect for lounge areas, dance floors, and cocktail hours, your guests will continue to enjoy the wedding experience beneath twinkling bistro lights and a star-dusted sky. We believe these areas make a great entrance for the wedding party and the first dance.

Dressing Quarters

The dressing quarters for the ladies and men are separate from the Venue and are located in house on the property. These areas, known as The Farmhouse (for the ladies) and The Lodge (for the guys), include a kitchen/kitchenette, coffee maker, seating areas, cable television, and DVD/gaming system. The bride and her attendants have access to salon chairs and mirrors in order to get ready for the special day. The Farmhouse features a white room for bridal portraits. There are outdoor seating areas; however, with a privacy deck railing, the bride will not be seen by her groom. With the Additional Day Rental, the entire wedding party may stay the night in The Farmhouse and The Lodge (each sleeping 6). This will help all to unwind, relax, and prepare for the wedding celebration thereby easing any unnecessary anxiety over traveling on the wedding day. The Additional Day Rental allows the occurrence of the rehearsal, rehearsal dinner, and preliminary decorating to occur on the day before the wedding. With this rental option, our accommodations allow you to simply focus on the magical moments of the wedding celebration.

The Finishing Touches Room

This room features labeled shelves filled with wedding décor items from lanterns and wooden signs to glass vases and certain colored runners which may all be used for no additional fee. Along with the decorations are the facility's cornhole boards and an antique loveseat that may be taken and used anywhere on the property for picture purposes. We simply ask that items removed and used for the wedding are returned at the end of the evening in their designated location.
