13th JULY 2025

15th SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME (Year C)

The Lord said, 'Do not be anxious about tomorrow'.

Try to distance your thoughts from what the future may hold, and from the fears which such thoughts can cause. This is already a great act of virtue and of abandonment into the loving hands of our Lord. This is what constitutes the way of simplicity before God which the Scriptures so much praise.

"...Which of these three, do you think, proved himself a neighbour to the man who fell into the brigands' hands?"
'The one who took pity on him' he replied. Jesus said to him, 'Go, and do the same yourself.'" (Luke 10:36-37)

O God, who show the light of your truth to those who go astray, so that they may return to the right path, give all who for the faith they profess are accounted Christians the grace to reject whatever is contrary to the name of Christ and to strive after all that does it honour.
Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Stella Maris Cares for Seafarers Far from Home

This weekend we celebrate Sea Sunday, and Stella Maris (the largest ship-visiting network in the world) has an aim to improve the lives of seafarers and fishers through our network of local chaplains and seafarer centres, expert information, advocacy, and spiritual support. Today the Gospel reminds us about the love and care that the Good Samaritan showed to the stranger that he found upon the road. For seafarers and fishers, Stella Maris is that Good Samaritan.

Robert King, Stella Maris Regional Port Chaplain, recalled when a fisher fled his boat after allegedly being abused by the captain, and ended up stranded at Buchanan Street bus station in Glasgow. Robert was informed of his plight and went to find him. "I quickly identified the fisher, who was from Ghana, sitting on a bench looking scared and lost. He had no money and was so grateful to see a friendly face. By now it was after 6 pm and a storm was raging. Stella Maris paid for a hotel room for the fisher to spend the night. He was glad to be away from the bus station and in the comfort of the hotel. I made sure he had a phone charger so he could keep in touch with his family and myself, and I gave him some money for essentials. Because of the storm, he had to spend a second night in the hotel. Acting on advice from the International Transport Workers Federation, I persuaded the fisher to return to Campbeltown, where his boat was anchored, to report the alleged abuse by the captain to the local police station, which he did." A resolution was reached, and the fisher has now started working on a different vessel in Scotland. "He was very grateful for the assistance that I gave him," said Robert. These simple acts of kindness by Stella Maris port chaplains and ship visitors mean so much to seafarers who are far from home and feeling isolated. Let us also on this Sea Sunday pray for seafarers, fishers, and the work of Stella Maris.

God's Love for You

The Most Precious Blood of Jesus (1)

When it comes to the word 'blood', what does it make you think of? Pain? Wound?
Life? Death? Whatever it be, it is certainly not meant to be dealt with lightly (especially if there is a lot of them). And do you know, our God has shed His Own Blood too? Not accidentally, but purposely.
Not just a few drops, but all of it to the very last drops...for Whom He Love.
Who has this privilege? Look no further, it is you, me and every single human being who was, is and will be on this earth. Wow, is it because we have done something 'great'? Indeed we have, but instead of being good to Him, we have sinned against Him... But God never wants to abandon us, thus He sent His only Son, the Word Incarnate, as the Lamb of God - this innocent Victim, poured out His Blood as an Eternal offering for the atonement of all our sins and through it we obtain our forgiveness and Heaven was re-opened for us. How can it be so?
As Bishop Fulton Sheen explained that it is written in the Book of Leviticus the life of man is in the blood, therefore the higher the life, the more precious the blood; and so when we come to the Life of Christ who sheds His Blood
we get the total remission of sin.
