Served by the Rosminians

25th OCTOBER 2026

30th Sunday in Ordinary Time (YEAR A)

What man can say that he is without sin? Thus Holy Scripture tells us that perfection consists in supporting each other despite faults and defects. So a big-hearted and generous tolerance for the faults of our neighbour is both a duty and also the title we have for the right to be sympathetically regarded by others. Finally it is the indispensable means of preserving tranquility and peace within our hearts.

“Teacher, which is the great commandment in the Law?”
 And he said to him, ‘You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.
 This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbour as yourself...” (Matthew 22:36-39)

Almighty ever-living God, increase our faith, hope and charity, and make us love what you command, so that we may merit what you promise. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Cardinal Vincent Nichols shared a reflection on Adoration

“The word Adoremus means ‘we adore,’ or maybe ‘let us adore.’ That’s what Adoremus is about – adoration of the presence of Jesus, the Incarnate Word of God, in the Blessed Sacrament before us...when we’re before the Blessed Sacrament, we’re there with that presence of the Lord in his greatest act of love for us and for his Father. And from that love of father and son comes the gift of the holy spirit. So it’s not surprising that many people have found praying before the blessed sacrament a very powerful and important experience...There’s a French priest called the Curé of Ars or St. John Vianney, and he said the presence of Jesus in the blessed sacrament is God’s greatest gift to us because if God had anything greater to give us then he would have given it and this is what he has given... You don’t have to bring anything. Just yourself...place yourself before Jesus...but stay focused on the person of Jesus...You have all the time you want to be silent and just you, face to face, heart to heart with Jesus who loves you, who wants to draw you to himself so that he can tell you what’s in your heart and then together be before Our Heavenly Father.”

God's Love for You

Holy Family's Humility & Meekness (3b)

How touching it was to see, during the evening meal that night in the Upper Room, when Jesus as a Rabbi, took off his outer clothing, wrapped a towel around his waist and began to wash his disciples' feet, in order to show us what humility and servanthood is. But Jesus' humility and meekness reached its summit during His Passion. He foresaw His Sufferings in the Garden of Gethsemani, yet with His immense anguish of soul He humbly submit to His Father's Will. When Judas kissed Jesus as a signal for the soldiers to seize his Master, He knew why he done so, but he did not punch him in the face, He did not say 'How dare you!', He simply said: "Judas, do you betray the Son of Man with a kiss?" (Lk 22:48) And to the high priest's servant whom Peter cut off his ear, He healed him.
To the men in the high priest's house who mocked and beat Him, to the soldiers who derided His Kingship by putting thorns on His Head, reed on His Hands and purple cloak on His Shoulder, He remained silent, He bear with all these patiently and meekly. "He was led as a sheep to the slaughter. As a lamb before his shearer is silent..." (Acts 8:32) He humbly accepted the false accusations by His own people, He accepted the unfair sentence that was given by Pilate, He did not defend Himself with any words, but embraced this shameful cross wholeheartedly. On the way of the Cross, He did not bitterly ask His Mother to take revenge for Him, instead He gently consoled the women of Jerusalem who wept for Him. At the end, our Saviour was not raise by his people to the throne of a king with praises and glory, but to a big wooden cross on Mount Calvary between two thieves with mocking and shame.
Although He is the King of kings, but for our sake, he humbled himself, becoming obedient to the point of death (Phil 2:8), and died as a criminal. Jesus, my Lord, what more could You have done and have not done for us?
