

Praises

We had a great Father's Day and Men's Meeting at the church.

We're starting to outgrow our space as God continues to bring people bit by bit.

Prayer Requests

This month we'll be starting another English class for the community. We have people that attend our church now that are a product of the last one we did. Please pray God will bring others who need Him and that they will be added to our number as well.

While May was more of a ladies' month, with Mother's Day and the ladies' conference, June was geared toward the men. We're thankful for the men in our church and how God continues to provide more and more of them.

Father's Day was a great day at church with a breakfast for all who attended, part of which included biscuits and gravy. Many of the people in our church really enjoyed it. One man told me, "I've heard of American things like hamburgers and stuff, but I've never had something that was truly regional to America like that. I loved it." We also gave a small gift to the fathers that were present.

That same Saturday, we had a men's meeting at the church. We grilled out and a missionary friend of ours, Joe Taylor, came and taught a lesson to the men from Ephesians 4. It was a great time of fellowship, and I was excited to see our number increased from the last time we had a men's meeting. And that was including the fact that some couldn't make it! Week by week, we're growing and seeing that we will soon be outgrowing the space we have at the moment.

I also started a series on finances and giving this past month. We always take up offerings and speak about principles of giving, but I wanted to do a series that strictly focused on that aspect of life. Mother's Day is a great day for moms. Father's Day is a great day for dads. But money touches all of our lives. The people were very interested in the series and I'm excited that we're able to talk about all the various things related to something so important.

To close, we would like to say thank you to all of you who wished Leslie a happy birthday either via card or message. It was very considerate of you and she had a good day (Actually, week, because we celebrated various days!)

Thank you all again for your prayers and support for us. God bless you!
