

Dear Co-laborers,

These have been exceptionally difficult months for us. From the transition back into the States for furlough, to figuring out Ezra's treatment plans, to managing my mother's dementia, every step has been met with resistance. This month has brought the most difficult of all, yet the hand of God has been seen through it all, and we give praise.

First, the Peru return trip is planned for the middle of October. It is set to be a time of checking on ministries, meeting with pastors, and a time for Teresa's trauma healing classes in the jungle. Our ministries continue, regardless of where God has us. It will be for two weeks, so we ask for prayer for safety and success. There is still much to do.

Bible studies and training are still in full swing, as well as Stateside ministries. Our soul-winning efforts are slowly growing as we get out into the local communities. Everyday God brings new opportunities to share His name with others. As the holidays approach, our minds and plans turn to find further ways to get the gospel to those who are hurting and have no families. Pray that God continues to bless our ministry here.

At the beginning of September, my mother fell and broke her back. She has been suffering from dementia for years now, and as many of you know, a fall accelerates everything. She spent a week in the hospital, having surgery on her spine that was successful. Unfortunately, she never truly walked again. She was slated for therapy, but she was deemed unfit for the rehab center.

Two weeks passed with her at home, but on September 30th, surrounded by family, my mother passed into eternity, where she is now home and whole with her parents and my sister. We are still planning the gravesite and funeral arrangements, but as I mourn the loss of my mother, I praise the God who planned for me to be home with my mother in her final days. Only He could have planned such a thing, and I will be eternally grateful for it. We appreciate all your prayers during this difficult time.

From the bottom of our hearts, we are thankful for your endless prayer support. Your prayers are so precious to us, and we are so blessed to have prayer partners like you. We cannot do what God has asked us to do without you. Thank you!
