

Dear Co-laborers,

Arturo wrote us a message, asking about Jesus and if He's God. He had heard several messages about Christ being the Son of God, but not God himself. He was a new Christian and wasn't sure what he was hearing. After several messages and some counseling, Arturo was certain that he placed his faith in Christ Jesus, who is God. He then chose to follow his salvation with believer's baptism to show the world that he knew God, Jesus, as his Savior.

It's amazing how God places people in our paths. Arturo was a part of Teresa's trauma group. He chose to participate to help his fiancé, who was also a new Christian. Through Teresa helping women and children, we were able to also help a new Christian solidify their faith and show their family and the world their faith through baptism. We are grateful for the ministry God has called us to and are always in awe of His guiding hand.

We have officially landed in the US. It has been exciting and a bit rough getting used to things here. We have a small place and are getting settled in. While our ministries continue, we have put a small pause on them so that we can figure things out. Our first goal is furniture, then Teresa's classes, and then Ezra's treatments.

We do need prayer for Ezra. While his Tourettes has gotten better while being out of the business of Lima, the behavioral therapy we planned for him isn't going to work. There is a shocking dearth of professionals who actually treat the condition as opposed to simply treating the outlining issues such as anxiety or stress management.

The bigger issue is that those who are certified by the Tourettes Association of America do not take insurance. They will help with reimbursement, but because so little is known about Tourettes and how to treat it, Insurance companies make the therapists jump through hoops to get paid. We are certain God will guide us to the right treatment; we just have to figure it out.

While we figure it out, we aren't just waiting around. We are helping a local church who, in turn, is helping us with a place to live and insurance costs. We are planning their VBS right now and are excited to see God work here in our home country. We are also trying to raise more funds, which is taking up a large amount of our time.

Thank you for holding the ropes. Lives are being changed and God is working because you are making that possible!
