January 29, 2023

How fortunate am I that once I again I have to say thank you!!! I don't know what I did to be so blessed by God. I just need to drop to me knees and say Thank you to God and to the Our Lady of Mount Carmel community. Last Sunday's Installation Mass was a wonderful occasion. A true testimony to the goodness and faithfulness of this parish. I have so many people to thank and I ask forgiveness if I omit a person. Thank you to our parish staff. They all chipped in and worked so hard in many behind the scenes roles to make the day amazing. Not only that, they work hard everyday in their jobs in order to bring all in this community closer to Christ. I owe a special thanks to Bob Haa, Sue's husband, who volunteered much time to hang the pastors' portraits and name plates. The parish council members are amazing to work with and their passion for this place is inspiring. A very special thanks goes to Karen Flavin and her team of volunteers, who organized the reception. It was wonderful. Thank you to all who served in liturgical ministries, thank you. Thank you to our Deacons Ed and Lupe, who helped make the day special. Thank you to my brother Carmelites who came out to show their support. Thank you to the Knights of Columbus honor guard, who always make liturgies more special. A super huge and extra special THANK YOU to our choirs. All our various choirs combined to make one glorious melody to praise the Lord. Lastly, thank you to our Bishop, Ronald Hicks, for an inspiring homily and liturgy. It was a true blessing to have our bishop with us at OLMC.

Bishop Hicks reminded all of about the importance of prayer. I continue to ask you to pray for me during my tenure as pastor. I am going to need it. I also promise to pray daily for all the parishioners of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. We are all in this together and need to support each other through prayer and actions. The picture is of Bishop Hicks and I as I placed my hand on the Book of the Gospel during my oath of fidelity. I will always pray for the grace to be a faithful pastor and shepherd to this community.

Once again, from the bottom of my heart, thank you and God bless,

Fr. Jeff

Cathy's Corner—Unclean spirits versus the Kingdom of God

It was without doubt an extremely powerful unclean spirit. Indeed, it was many demons working together, as evidenced by its name, Legion. Perhaps that is why it ran up to Jesus as soon as it caught sight of him from a distance rather than trying to hide among the tombs where the man it was tormenting had been living. The evil spirits had made the man strong – he pulled apart the chains and smashed the shackles with which the people were attempting to subdue him. Constantly he cried out, his voice never tiring, the demons maliciously throwing him against the stones again and again, causing bruise after bruise.

The unclean spirit knew exactly who Jesus was, as had all the demons he had encountered from the very beginning of his ministry. It knew he was the Son of the Most High. It knew that the kingdom of God was now at hand and all that was demonic had met its match. But evil spirits are crafty. So, hidden in the man, it prostrated itself before Jesus, begging not to be tormented. Jesus, however, saw the demons for what they were. Jesus named them. And all the chaos and destruction that had inhabited the man poured out and entered a large herd of swine. It was too much for the creatures. They rushed to their death. The demons had been destroyed. The bruised and bedeviled man was at peace. Yet the people were seized with fear, not gratitude. The man had gained his life, yes. But the district had lost a great deal of livestock and had no idea what had actually just happened. All they wanted was return to the status quo and Jesus to be gone. All the man wanted was to never be without Jesus again.

This is not just a strange story from a long ago time. Unclean spirits exist no less today, lurking in tombs where evil is most comfortable, where they can remain nameless and so immune from being mastered. It is beyond time to do what Jesus did, name them and call them out. White supremacy. Systemic sexism. Derogation of the LGBTQ community. Dismissal of the differently abled. Dehumanization of immigrants and refugees. The list goes on. We can exorcise these unclean spirits from our world if we identify them for what they are, instead of allowing them to hide in what they pretend to be, the acceptable status quo, affecting only people on the margins that we try not to see. Or maybe they do affect us or someone we love, but crafty demons that they are, they make us believe there is nothing we can do about it because unclean spirits can be very strong.

Jesus shows us otherwise. God has foreseen something better for us. Let us not be like the craven people in the territory of the Gerasenes who are intimidated by the prospect of the destruction of widespread evil, rather than overjoyed by it. May we be like the man who was freed from his own demons and wanted nothing more than to never be without Jesus, preaching by his life that the kingdom of God is at hand. In this all that is demonic will meet its match. It starts with calling out evil by its many names. Heb 11:32-40; Ps 31: 20, 21, 22, 23, 24; Mk 5:1-20

RE News...

We are looking for a few catechists and seasonal helpers. If you would like to share your gifts with our youngest parishioners, please call the RE Office.

Questions of the Week

Question for Children: Choose one of the Beatitudes and share how you will make it part of your life.

Question for Youth: Jesus gives us a plan for our happiness in the beatitudes. Do the things that make you happiest also lead you towards God? Do they follow God's plan?

Question for Adults: How do you describe what it means to be "blest" in your own life?

Activities of the Week:

Brainstorm as a family: Happiness is... Talk about ways that your family is happy or blessed. Create a happy corner on your refrigerator. Get out pictures of your good times as a family and post them on the refrigerator door.

As a family, read the Beatitudes together. Have each family member reflect on one of the Beatitudes that he or she finds most meaningful. Invite each person to share his or her Beatitude out loud. After one of the Beatitudes is shared, everyone prays, "Blessed are you!"

Prayer for the Week:

Lord our God, just as the rain comes down to water the earth and make it fruitful, so you send forth your word to do you will in the world. May this wisdom from heaven take root in our hearts and bear fruit in holy words and loving deeds. We pray this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Bishop Hicks' Monthly Column

Recently, while visiting a parish, I noticed a "peace pole" on the property, surrounded by beautiful landscaping and benches. The pole had four sides, with each side displaying an inscription about peace. The expressions of peace moved from the general to the specific:

Peace on Earth,      Peace for our Nation,      Peace within our Church,      Peace in our Hearts

As I contemplated that simple yet beautiful peace pole, I realized that peace is something we all long for, and yet can seem so unattainable. St. Augustine captured the unreachable nature of peace when he said, "Our hearts are restless until they rest in you, O Lord." Even though peace may be elusive, we know the source of true peace. It is therefore with great faith and hope that we as a Church never stop seeking it through Mary, the Queen of Peace, and her son, Jesus, the Prince of Peace.

As we begin 2023, we remember that St. Paul VI in 1967 established the World Day of Peace to be celebrated on January 1, which is also the Solemnity of the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Mother of God. In 1972, Pope Paul VI coined his famous phrase, "If you want peace, work for justice."

Popes since then have carried on this tradition of issuing messages of peace on this day, with their communications usually associated with the social doctrine of the Church. Hence, popes have made declarations on January 1 regarding the United Nations, human rights, the right to life, economic development, international diplomacy, wars, peace in the Holy Land, globalization, terrorism, etc.

For 2023, Pope Francis writes about our current global condition, as we cope with the long-term effects of the coronavirus pandemic and the impact of the war in Ukraine. He stresses the need for an all-inclusive approach to peace: "We can no longer think exclusively of carving out space for our personal or national interests; instead, we must think in terms of the common good, recognizing that we belong to a greater community, and opening our minds and hearts to universal human fraternity. We cannot continue to focus simply on preserving ourselves; rather, the time has come for all of us to endeavour to heal our society and our planet, to lay the foundations for a more just and peaceful world, and to commit ourselves seriously to pursuing a good that is truly common."

Peace is not just something that we should all work for; it is also something we should constantly be praying for. The next time you are at Mass, I invite you to listen to just how many times the word "peace" is used. Specifically in the Communion rite, immediately after the "Our Father," the priest prays that the peace of Christ will fill our hearts, our families, our Church, our communities, and our world as we extend a sign of peace to those around us. These prayers explicitly follow Jesus' message throughout the Gospels, "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled, and do not let them be afraid." (John 14: 27)

As we begin this new year, I urge you to pray for peace every Sunday when you attend Mass, and to also try to do so daily. If we get into the habit of praying for peace each day, it becomes even more important to disconnect from the noise and busyness of our world and intentionally to find a "peaceful" place to reflect and contemplate.

During this initial year of the National Eucharistic Revival, I encourage you to take some time before the eucharistic Lord in adoration. It is a beautiful and powerful way to connect our minds, hearts and souls to the peace of Christ. Another possibility is to find a consistent, quiet spot in your home or a sacred space to sit, be still and pray. It is in these serene moments that the Holy Spirit may gently whisper into our ears the ways that God may want us to be an instrument of peace.

As a people of peace, let's begin this new year by praying for and working for peace on Earth, peace for our nation, peace within our Church, peace in our hearts and wherever it is needed most. For ultimately, at the very end of every Catholic Mass throughout the world, we are mandated to "go in peace." And to that, we boldly affirm by responding, "Thanks be to God!"

The Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Malachi 3:1-4. Psalm 24:7, 8, 9, 10. Hebrews 2:14-8. Luke 2:22-40.

Christ Is Present. Hebrews announces what we know: Jesus Christ had to become like us in every way (be human) in order to be high priest (like us in all things but sin). We light and bless candles today to remember that Christ our Light illumines everything and everyone. We listen to Simeon and Anna sing his praise.

⇒ How will I carry the Light who is Christ with me from Mass today?

⇒ To whom will I let it shine?

⇒ How will I sing his praise?
