

Amy O'Brien

I grew up in Hanover County and became a Catholic at age 18. We attended St. Bridget's Catholic church and were married there. We have three children together and find it the greatest joy to raise children up to the Lord. We hope God gives us many more!

I was an elementary teacher at a private school before opening my own sewing school, Sew Fun, where we teach children and adults how to sew.

As part of the Pastoral Council, I hope to bring a deeper connection to the community and work on ways to enhance Catholic's own understanding of our complex and beautiful religion, passed down through the ages.
