NATIONAL VOCATION AWARENESS WEEK

ENCOUNTERING JESUS SERRA CLUBS LAUNCH 'ADORE' TO LINK ADORATION & VOCATIONS

"We hear a lot about holy hours, but many people feel they don't have an hour, or even a half-hour," said Margo Geddie, the president-elect of Serra International, the Church's official apostolate to promote vocations. "We feel it's important to encourage people to spend any amount of time—even just ten minutes—visiting Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament. I know for me, it's been life-changing."

Why did Serra undertake this project? "It's really pretty simple," said Margo, "For years we've seen the link between vocations and devotion to the Blessed Sacrament. Go to any youth conference, and you can see the enthusiasm, the incredible graces being poured out during Adoration. And these are the same students who are answering the call, entering seminaries and convents."

So we thought if we can promote Adoration on the local level, we're also promoting vocations to the priesthood and consecrated life."

Of course, "making a visit" has long been a traditional devotion for Catholics, young and old alike. "We also want to encourage older people to say a quick prayer for vocations whenever they're in the chapel," said Margo. "Jesus told us we should beg for what we need—and every Catholic knows we need more sisters and priests."

ADVICE TO SEMINARIANS

"Do not think of yourselves as alone, nor by yourselves," said Pope Leo to seminarians in Rome this summer. He quoted a Church document on priestly formation, saying, "Each one of you is the protagonist of his own formation... but protagonist does not mean soloist! Therefore, I invite you always to cultivate communion, first of all with your seminary companions... Finally, the most important thing: keep your eyes fixed on Jesus, cultivating the relationship of friendship with Him."

DISCERNMENT

MEN DISCERN ON 'THE WAY'

If you've seen Martin Sheen's movie "The Way," you know that many pilgrims who walk Spain's famous Camino begin with a certain goal in mind, but end up receiving far more than they ever imagined.

That was the idea behind the "Discernment Camino" led by Fr. George Sears, the Vocation Director for the Archdiocese of New York. He and a brother priest led four seminarians and nine young men on a 14-day trek across the Spanish countryside, ending at Santiago de Compostela.

"It was an absolutely amazing experience," said Fr. Sears. "Every one of the men built camaraderie and grew closer to the Lord. And at least two of them are excited about applying to seminary next year."

The archdiocese recently made headlines with their "Called by Name" campaign, which identified more than 800 faithful young men. While Fr. Sears can't accompany all of them on the Camino, his Vocation Team has a solid plan to help them begin their own journey to discern God's call.

A LIGHT IN THE DARKNESS

For centuries, amidst the dark tragedy of war, Catholic priests have brought the consoling light of Christ to both soldiers and civilians. The Army's new Sacred Call digital comic celebrates the 250th anniversary of the Chaplain Corp, featuring the stories of brave priests such as Fr. Charles Watters, Fr. Francis Duffy, and Fr. Emil Kapaun, now a Servant of God on the way to sainthood.

MESSAGE TO YOUTH

JESUS CALLS YOU TO GREATNESS

"It is Jesus in fact that you seek when you dream of happiness; he is waiting for you when nothing else you find satisfies you; he is the beauty to which you are so attracted; it is he who provokes you with that thirst for fullness that will not let you settle for compromise; it is he who urges you to shed the masks of a false life; it is he who reads in your hearts your most genuine choices, the choices that others try to stifle.

It is Jesus who stirs in you the desire to do something great with your lives, the will to follow an ideal, the refusal to allow yourselves to be grounded down by mediocrity, the courage to commit yourselves humbly and patiently to improving yourselves and society."

CATHOLIC CAMPAIGN FOR HUMAN DEVELOPMENT WORKING ON THE MARGINS

Next week our special collection will support the Catholic Campaign for Human Development. Nearly 38 million people in the United States live in poverty. This collection supports programs that empower people to identify and address the obstacles they face in bringing permanent and positive change to their communities. Learn more about the Catholic Campaign for Human Development at www.usccb.org/cchd.

CATHOLIC CAMPAIGN FOR HUMAN DEVELOPMENT WORKING ON THE MARGINS

The Catholic Church has always taught us, through the words of Sacred Scripture and the witness of saints like Francis of Assisi, that the natural world is created by God, that it is good, and that humans have a special duty to care for creation so that it benefits not only themselves but also future generations. Today we live in a time where pollution, climate change, and poor agricultural practices harm creation and place us all in danger.

In 2015, Pope Francis responded to this environmental crisis by issuing the encyclical Laudato Si' (On Care for Our Common Home), in which he emphasizes the connection between humanity and nature and calls for "the whole human family together to seek a sustainable and integral development" (no. 13).

This spirit of cooperation, sustainability, and human dignity animates the work of organizations like La Cosecha Community Supported Agriculture, a cooperative farm network in Albuquerque, New Mexico, which makes locally grown, sustainable, and nutritious foods available to low-income people. With support from the Catholic Campaign for Human Development (CCHD), La Cosecha has expanded its outreach beyond Albuquerque to 11 rural New Mexico counties, increased year-round accessibility to healthy produce and other food products, and obtained a US Department of Agriculture Good Agricultural Practices food-safety certification for its cooperative farm partners.

CCHD-funded organizations show how we can care for the environment, address the needs of the poor, and support responsible and sustainable local businesses at the same time. When you participate in the CCHD collection, you help not only other communities but also your own, because 25% of your contribution remains in your diocese to create local solutions to poverty.

To learn more about the collection for the CCHD and the way CCHD upholds the moral and social teachings of the Catholic Church, visit www.usccb.org/cchd.

Can you believe it's already November? The air is crisp, the leaves are falling, and before we know it, the holidays will be here! This time of year always seems to move quickly — but before the hustle and bustle begins, let's take a deep breath and enjoy the little things: cozy family dinners, walks in the cool air, and quiet moments of gratitude.

As we look ahead to Thanksgiving and Advent, let's make an effort to slow down and be present. Family time doesn't have to be fancy — reading together, saying a short prayer before bed, or sharing what you're thankful for at the dinner table are all beautiful ways to grow closer to one another and to God.

And as followers of Christ, we're reminded that this season is also about serving others with love. Small acts can make a big difference! Here are a few family-friendly ideas:

Simple Ways to Serve Together:

Start a gratitude jar — each day, write down something you're thankful for and read them together at Thanksgiving.

Send a card or drawing to someone who might need a little cheer — a neighbor, grandparent, or parish member.

Donate gently used coats, toys, or nonperishable food items to a local charity. Bake or cook something special to share with a friend, teacher, or priest.

Pray as a family for someone new each day — especially those who are struggling or alone.

Let's enter this holiday season with hearts full of gratitude and hands ready to serve. May we find joy in the simple moments and remember that Christ is always at the center of it all.

Feast of the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica in Rome - Gospel Reflection

Readings: Ezekiel 47:1-2, 8-9, 12. Psalm 46:2-3, 5-6, 8-9. 1 Corinthians 3:9c-11, 16-17. John 2:13-22.

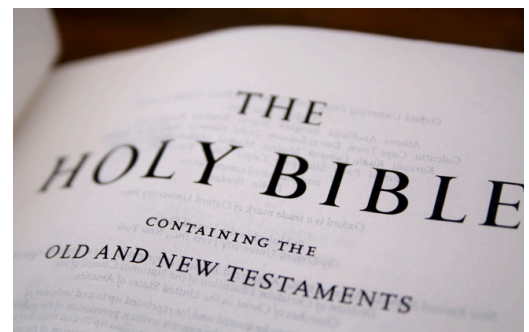

As I write this reflection for the celebration of the feast of the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica, Pope Leo XIV has just taken possession of this historic papal cathedral in Rome, the Archbasilica of St. John Lateran. The new pope has gracefully moved through an unimaginable variety of commemorations and gatherings since his election and installation. Some of these encounters have been in person with ecclesiastical bodies of representatives of the Church. Others have been more homespun, such as the video message he recorded for the Mass and celebration at Comiskey Park (now Rate Field) with his fellow Chicagoans.

The pope has taken on a role that is both ancient and contemporary, a living sign of the Church's leadership in a troubled world. As Pope Leo made his way out the door of the Lateran in majestic procession, I could not help but think that this wise, compassionate and gentle soul will be a moral compass for the world. Catholics are asking Leo to stand at the center point of a bifurcated, polarized society, and reveal the love of God.

Perhaps all the faithful will hear the voice of Ezekiel's angel this day, bringing us back to the House of God, a temple of unity, peace and justice. The summons by the divine voice is nothing less than a return to our baptism. The Lateran Basilica is a symbol of the Church's ongoing desire to gather the children of God as a mother comforts her own. The water imagery from Ezekiel is extraordinary and echoes that of the reading from Ezekiel that is used during the great Easter Vigil, the mother of all vigils: "Wherever the river flows, every sort of living creature that can multiply shall live. Fruit trees of every kind shall grow. Their fruit shall serve for food and their leaves for medicine."

The worship of the baptized "gladdens the City of God," even as we cast out everything that is not of God. We ask for the same kind of holy zeal that Jesus Himself possessed when He purified the Temple, recorded in today's Gospel. Alternatively, Paul tells the Corinthians that they are "God's building" and that each stone builds on the foundation of Christ Jesus that is already there, constructed by God, the master builder.

The natural question for us all to ask today is, "who or what are we inviting into the building of God that is us? Is it a chaotic place of wild and noisy things that serve no purpose but distraction? Or do we risk holy zeal in its sanctuary? The degree to which we are devoted to God will be the measure in which we open the doors of our own sanctuary with care – with generous hospitality to the other, mercy to difficult people, a two-hearted river of ideas that welcomes defamiliarization beyond my own pet peeves. The waters of baptism still cover all of us in God's love.

"Fruit trees of all kinds will grow on both banks of the river. Their fruit will serve for food and their leaves for healing."

Ezekiel 47:12

Prayer with Scripture

How do I reach all those in my parish boundaries with God's love?

Does my preaching reflect the building up of my people?

Do I sense an ongoing mission of interior building for myself and others?
