L.Ac., LMT

Empowering people to identify their health issues and apply natural solutions has always been Leslie's passion. She then went on to work in sports medicine as an athletic trainer for over 15 years, in both the collegiate and professional sports worlds. Her background is extremely unique in the industry because she is well educated and experienced in anatomy, physiology and kinetics of the body.

In 2007, Leslie received a degree from the American Institute of Alternative Medicine. Today, she has a determination to change her client's lives through massage therapy and various proven acupuncture treatments to heal the body naturally.
