Is Signature Right for You?

Signature is a great fit if you love the natural beauty of real wood, want flexibility in species and stain selection, and appreciate cabinetry that's built specifically for your home.

Best For:

Real wood cabinetry • Stained finishes • Mixed finishes • Painted hardwood • Custom kitchens • Bathrooms • Laundry Rooms • Mudrooms • Built-Ins

Choosing Your Wood Species

Every wood species has its own unique grain, color, and character. Some have a smooth, subtle appearance, while others feature bold grain patterns and natural variation. Choosing the right species helps define the overall style and feel of your cabinetry.

Whether you prefer a clean, contemporary look or something warm and rustic, there's a wood species to complement your home and personal style.

Choosing Your Stain

The same stain can look different on every wood species. Lighter stains highlight the wood's natural beauty, while darker stains create added depth and richness. We always recommend viewing wood and stain samples in your home, where lighting and surrounding finishes can influence the final appearance.

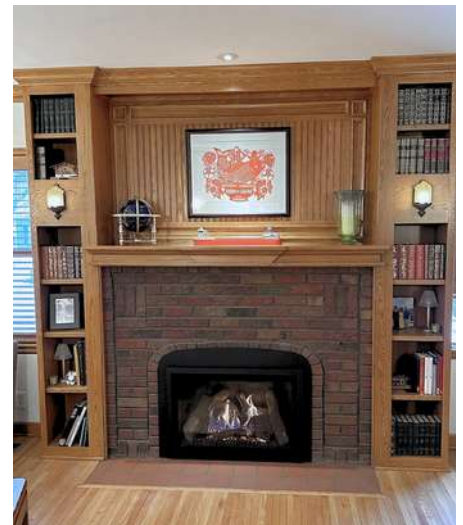

Prefer painted cabinetry? Signature also offers painted hardwood, custom paint-grade door styles beyond the Casa Collection, and the flexibility to combine painted cabinetry with premium wood accents for a truly custom look.

Cabinet Box Construction

Signature cabinets include durable melamine cabinet boxes as standard, with plywood construction available as an upgrade. Drawer boxes are built from ¾-inch plywood, including the bottoms, and soft-close hinges and drawer slides are standard.

Built for Everyday Living

The Signature Collection is crafted from real hardwood and built to last. As wood naturally ages, you may notice subtle changes in color or grain over time, a characteristic that makes each project unique.

WOOD SPECIES & STAIN INSPIRATION

These images are for inspiration only; the colors shown are not specific stain options. Available stains should be selected from physical samples. Final color and grain will vary by wood species, stain selection, and the natural characteristics of each piece.

BIRCH

Smooth, subtle grain with a light, natural appearance. Birch offers a clean, versatile look that works beautifully with a wide range of stains and design styles.

MAPLE

Smooth, consistent grain with a clean appearance. Maple is ideal for homeowners who prefer a refined look with minimal natural variation.

RED OAK

Bold, open grain that highlights the beauty of real wood. A classic choice for adding warmth, texture, and timeless character.

Rustic Wood Options: If you are looking for added natural character, rustic or knotty selections are available in Alder, Cherry, and Hickory. These woods feature more knots, color variation, mineral streaks, and other natural markings.

ALDER

Warm, subtle grain with a soft, inviting look. Alder takes stain beautifully, making it one of the most versatile choices for nearly any design style.

CHERRY

Elegant, fine grain that naturally deepens over time. Cherry offers a rich, sophisticated look that's beautiful with age.

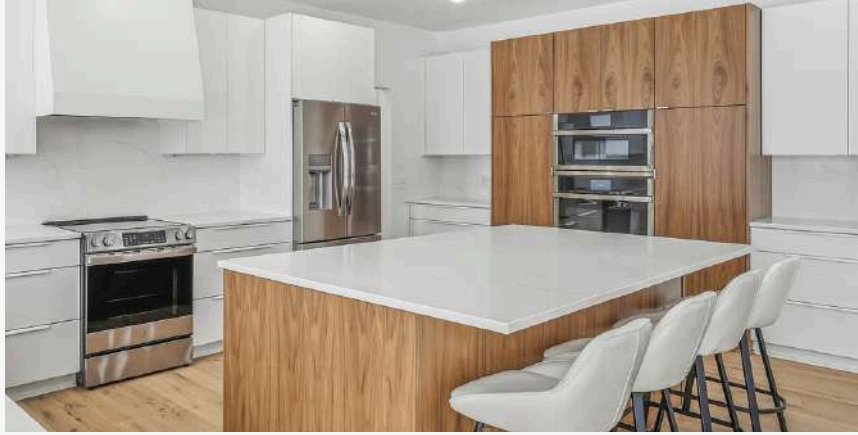

HICKORY

Striking contrast and dramatic grain make Hickory perfect for homeowners who love natural character and a more rustic appearance.
