Twenty-eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time

The Pharisees went off and plotted how they might entrap Jesus in speech. They sent their disciples to him, with the Herodians, saying, "Teacher, we know that you are a truthful man and that you teach the way of God in accordance with the truth. And you are not concerned with anyone's opinion, for you do not regard a person's status. Tell us, then, what is your opinion: Is it lawful to pay the census tax to Caesar or not?" Knowing their malice, Jesus said, "Why are you testing me, you hypocrites? Show me the coin that pays the census tax." Then they handed him the Roman coin. He said to them, "Whose image is this and whose inscription?" They replied, "Caesar's." At that he said to them, "Then repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God." (Full text: Matthew 22:15-21, usccb.org)

We belong to God and to God's kingdom first.

As the Father and Creator of all, God is above all powers on earth. God has called each of us by name in baptism and has entrusted us with building his kingdom in faith, hope, and love. We owe God what belongs to God – our obedience and work of faith – because we belong to God and to God's kingdom before any earthly power.

KEEPING THE HOLY FATHER IN OUR PRAYERS: AN UPDATE ON POPE LEO XIV

by Almie Lonzaga

As we gather together this week in our ministry and community here at Holy Rosary, we wanted to share a brief update on someone very close to our hearts: our Holy Father, Pope Leo XIV.

As many of you may have followed in the news through Vatican News, the Pope underwent a scheduled thoracic surgery at Rome's Agostino Gemelli University Hospital to remove a localized nodule on his right lung. Led by Professor Stefano Margaritora, the medical team performed a video-assisted procedure lasting approximately 90 minutes, successfully removing the lower lobe of the right lung. While subsequent laboratory examinations confirmed a diagnosis of lung adenocarcinoma, the Holy See Press Office reported that the procedure was entirely successful and completed without any complications.

True to his resilient and determined spirit, the Holy Father's recovery is progressing remarkably well. Reports from the Vatican note that he had a calm first night and quickly began respiratory physiotherapy, walking around his room, and returning to normal eating habits. Demonstrating his unwavering dedication to his ministry, Pope Leo has already concelebrated Mass from a specially prepared space near his hospital room and has begun reviewing documents and handling light administrative tasks with his aides.

While public papal audiences have been temporarily canceled through October 20 to allow him proper rest, his doctors are pleased with his swift recovery. This prompt intervention reflects both modern medical advancement and the Holy Father's proactive approach to his health, keeping his eyes set on future pastoral commitments, including an upcoming pilgrimage to South America.

Let us keep Pope Leo in our daily intentions as he continues to heal, leaning into the strength of our faith and our global community during this time of recovery.

A Prayer for the Pope

Almighty and eternal God, physician of our souls and bodies, look with mercy upon your servant, Pope Leo. Grant him healing, strength, and peace, and sustain him through the care of his medical team. May your grace guide his recovery so that he may soon return to shepherd your flock with renewed health and joyful spirit. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.
