A moment in thought:

Good morning and welcome to Emmanuel Baptist Church. We are glad you are here worshipping with us today. Praise God we can come together as a church body, singing praises, praying, and learning more about who He is and how much He loves us. Have you considered what our speech tells us about ourselves? When engaged in a conversation with someone, have you thought, would God be pleased with my words? Do you sometimes think, what if God was involved in this conversation? Well, He is. God hears every discussion we have. With this in mind, would you change the topic of conversation? Would you choose different words to get your point across? I know I have been guilty of being in a conversation and saying things I would like to take back. I have asked for forgiveness many times for my speech. Consider this, anytime you are speaking, is it glorifying God? James 3:10 says, "Out of the same mouth come praise and cursing. My brothers and sisters, this should not be". Is this something on which we can all work and get better? If we are going to be the example of Christ we are called to be, then yes, we can and should be better. Let's start this week truly considering what we are saying and how we are saying it. I believe this will make a difference in your life.

May God Bless You,
John
