

TO BE CONSIDERED FOR IN-KIND DONATIONS/CONTRIBUTIONS defined as non-cash contributions which hold equal value to cash donations and support the needs of the organization.

Goods and Services

Tangible goods:

le. office equipment, furniture, toys, office supplies, specific items from the wish list.

High Value Professional Services – items which save the board money.

le. Legal services

Goods from local businesses

Pro bono services (marketing firm providing free consultation)

Office supplies, technology equipment

Sponsoring a table for an event

Soliciting donations

Gift cards

Prizes to include in gift bags, etc.

CONSIDERATIONS:

If you cannot use it or sell it, it does not count.

Clear communication is key to ensure donors understand the needs and policies (gift acceptance policy-acceptable gifts and donations).

Valuation of in-kind donations.

Acknowledgement of in-kind donors.

Tax implications for us and the donor.