You are invited to attend a FREE program about the Grief of Suicide and its impact on people and communities. All materials included.

Utah ranks 11th in the rate of suicide, which is about 21.04 deaths per 100,000 people. Utah is consistently in the top ten states for rates of suicide deaths.

Approximately 125 family members, friends, and others are affected by each suicide death. This may include mental health/substance abuse professionals, law enforcement personnel, first responders, and medical providers are also impacted. It is not uncommon for mental health/substance abuse professionals to leave the field after an initial or repeated exposure to client death by suicide.

This clinical training program is intended for mental health/substance abuse agency clinicians, interventionists and direct care staff, community and hospital based mental health and medical personnel, first responders, clergy, and other interested professionals who may be called upon to address those bereaved by suicide death.

You must register to attend and receive materials.
